DECISIONS AS TO PENDING MOTIONS FOR PERMISSION TO FILE “FUTURE TORT CLAIMS” AND FOR RELIEF FROM THE 2009 BAR DATE

These bankruptcy cases were filed in January 2009. The Court set a deadline (known in bankruptcy as a bar date) of August 12, 2009 for the filing of proofs of claim. A plan of reorganization (the “Plan”) was later confirmed on November 30, 2010. The Plan established a Tort Claims Trust for the payment of tort claims, including claims based on exposures to creosote. More than 80% of the Trust assets were set aside for distribution to the holders of tort claims that were timely filed before the August 12, 2009 bar date, which were described in the Plan as “Category D” claims. A much smaller portion of the Trust assets (about 6.125%) were to be set aside collectively for holders of “future” tort claims and asbestos claims, all of which are referred to collectively in this Decision either as “Future Tort Claims” or “Category A Claims.” After hearing evidence in 2016, I ruled that a claim qualifies as a Category A Claim if:

- (1) The claim is based on an alleged exposure to a harmful substance that occurred on or after August 12, 2009; or
- (2) The claim is based on an exposure that occurred before August 12, 2009, but as to which no injury or disease was manifested until on or after August 12, 2009; or failure to file a timely proof of claim should be excused on grounds of excusable neglect, or (b) that the purported discharge of the claimant's claim was a violation of due process and therefore ineffective.
- (3) The exposure, as well as the manifestation of an injury or disease, predated August 12, 2009, but the claimant is able to establish (a) that the claimant’s

See Memorandum Opinion as to Tort Claims Trustee's Motion for Instructions Regarding Future Tort Claims on December 14, 2016 (ECF No. 3268). The witnesses at the 2016 hearing testified that they believed (at the time the Plan was confirmed) that injuries from creosote exposures would already have manifested themselves, and that they did not expect that there would be significant numbers of "future" tort claims based on creosote exposures. See Oct. 25, 2016 Hr'g Tr. (ECF No. 3267) at 15:23-16:8, 20:9-20:23.

It was not clear, when the Plan was confirmed, whether tort claimants would receive significant recoveries, because the main funding for the Tort Claims Trust was to come from the proceeds of a fraudulent transfer litigation that was still pending in 2010. However, a very successful resolution of that litigation in 2015 resulted in the infusion of more than $600 million to the Tort Claims Trust. See Annual Report and Account of the Tronox Incorporated Tort Claims Trust for the Year ending December 31, 2015, filed on April 29, 2016 (the "2015 Trust Report"), at Dkt No, 3064-1, ¶ 6. That large infusion enabled the Trust to make distributions to Category D tort claimants that greatly exceeded the average recoveries that tort claimants had received in pre-bankruptcy litigations.

The large distributions in 2015 sparked an explosion in the filing of "future" tort claims. As of early 2015 the Tort Claims Trust had received only about 600 such claims. See Jan. 24, 2018 Hr'g Tr. (ECF No. 8041) at 5:1-5. After word circulated about the Category D distributions, however, more than 10,000 new Category A claims were filed in a four-month period. Id. 5:5-8. At the latest count the Trust has received more than 38,000 such claims. The Trust has issued “Determination Notices” to more than 19,000 claimants, stating whether the Trustee agrees or disagrees with the asserted future tort claims and, in cases where the Trustee agrees, what the proposed allowed amounts of the claims would be. See Annual Report and Account of the Tronox Incorporated Tort Claims Trust for the Year ending December 31, 2019, filed on April 30, 2020 (the “2019 Trust Report”), Ex. B [ECF No. 9461]. In many instances the Trust took the position that the proposed claims arose prior to the bar date and were barred because no timely proofs of claim had been filed. In response, 4,676 claimants have filed motions with this Court seeking permission to file claims notwithstanding the expiration of the August 12, 2009 bar date.

Many of the movants have described serious illnesses, and reviewing the motions is a difficult task. Unfortunately, however, it is obvious that there are many serious misconceptions as to the recoveries that the holders of “future” tort claims are likely to receive and as to the standards that govern the motions.

Likely Recoveries. It is plain that many movants believe that if their Future Tort Claims are allowed they will receive compensation that is similar to what has been paid to persons who filed Category D tort claims before the original bar date in 2009. Unfortunately, however, that is not the case. Any recoveries by holders of Category A Claims will be relatively small, and I am powerless to do anything to change that outcome.

The confirmation of the 2010 plan of reorganization discharged all tort claims against the Tronox companies. That discharge was final in 2010. I have no continuing jurisdiction over Tronox or its predecessors or successors. Those companies have no obligation to contribute additional funds to the Tort Claims Trust. Claimants’ only recourse is to whatever funds are still held in the Tort Claims Trust. No other funds are available in these bankruptcy cases.

As noted above, most of the assets of the Tort Claims Trust were set aside for claimants who filed timely proofs of claim in 2009. Those funds have already been distributed, except for a minor amount that is awaiting distribution while administrative issues are resolved. See 2019 Trust Report. The only funds to which the movants would have access (if their motions were granted) are the funds that were set aside for “Category A” claims. At the end of 2019 the amount that remained for all of these claims was only $20,705,258.

Once the claims process is finished, each Category A claimant whose claim is allowed will be entitled to a share of whatever is left. That share will be based on the size of the claimant’s allowed claim compared to the total of all allowed Category A claims. Given the amount of available funds, and the huge numbers of Future Tort Claims that have been filed, the Tort Claims Trustee anticipates that Future Tort Claimants will receive payments that are less than 1% of the “allowed amounts” of their claims. See 2019 Trust Report ¶ 6A. That means (for example) that a future tort claimant who has an “allowed” claim of $10,000 will likely receive less than $100 as an actual distribution. The actual amounts of the payments could be less, and ultimately will depend on how much (if anything) is left after paying the ongoing costs of reviewing and resolving the many thousands of remaining claims.

The Court understands that the holders of timely-filed tort claims received much larger distributions of approximately 35% of the “allowed” amounts of their claims. The payments to Future Tort Claimants therefore will necessarily be only a small fraction of the payments that were made to persons who filed timely claims. The claimants who have filed future tort claims understandably may feel that it is unfair that timely-filed claims received better recoveries. However, I cannot do anything to change that fact. The allocations of funds among the different categories of tort claims happened long ago – with participation by attorneys who represented tort claimants – and those allocations became final when the plan was confirmed in 2010. See Tronox Inc. v. Anadarko Petro. Corp. (In re Tronox Inc.), No. 14-cv-5495(KF), 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 158767 *21-22 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 10, 2014) (rejecting a request in 2014 for a change to the allocation of settlement proceeds because the allocations had been set by the 2010 confirmation order and requests for changes were barred by res judicata). I do not have the power to alter the plan or the allocations of funds that were previously approved. In any event it would be fruitless to try, because as noted above all of the monies that were set aside for “timely” tort claims have already been distributed or designated for distribution.

Claims that were Barred Before the Bankruptcy Filing. In a bankruptcy case, the court sets a bar date for the filing of claims. Claimants may ask to be excused from the bar date based on excusable neglect, but such a showing only excuses a failure to comply with the bar date itself. The claim still must be a claim that is valid and enforceable under non-bankruptcy law. See 11 U.S.C. § 502(a). A very high proportion of the motions that have been filed, however, identify claims that plainly were barred prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

For example, many of the claims that are the subject of the pending motions have been filed by claimants in Mississippi. Mississippi imposes a three-year statute of limitations for the assertion of a tort claim of the kind that is at issue here. Miss. Code § 15-1-49. The Mississippi Supreme Court has held that a claim for latent injury or disease based on creosote exposure accrues when the claimant was diagnosed with the injury or a disease, regardless of whether the claimant knew of the cause of the injury or disease. See Angle v. Koppers, Inc., 42 So.3d 1, 7 (Miss. 2010) (holding that “[n]o provision of Section 15-1-49 provides that a plaintiff must have knowledge of the cause of the injury before the cause of action accrues, initiating the running of the statute of limitations.”)

The Tronox bankruptcy case was filed on January 12, 2009. Claims under Mississippi law that are based on injuries or diseases that were diagnosed on or before January 12, 2006 therefore were time-barred when the Tronox bankruptcy cases were filed. Nevertheless, a very large number of claimants in Mississippi have filed claims based on conditions that admittedly were diagnosed before January 2006. An “excusable neglect” motion merely explains why a claimant did not file a claim in the bankruptcy case itself; it does not revive a claim that expired before the bankruptcy case was filed. It appears that many time-barred Mississippi claimants have somehow been misled into thinking otherwise, giving rise to false hopes that long-extinguished claims might have been revived, which is not the case.

Similarly, many movants were participants in other lawsuits that were resolved before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. They received compensation that was far less than the amounts that “Category D” claimants eventually received following the bankruptcy case, and many of them now want to renew their previously resolved claims in the hopes of getting increased recoveries. However, a prior resolution of a claim in another proceeding is final, and a claim that was resolved in a prior proceeding cannot be re-asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy case.

Grounds for Bar Date Relief. The grounds upon which late-filed claims may be permitted due to “excusable neglect,” or due to violations of due process, are limited. Many movants contend that they did not receive a direct notice of the claims process and that they were unaware of the bankruptcy case. But as a due process matter it is well-established that a failure to receive direct, individualized notice of the bar date is not a ground for relief unless there is a showing that the Debtors knew the identity of the claimant. The Debtors mailed notices to persons whose litigation claims were pending, and no movant who has complained about the lack of direct notice has shown that the Debtors knew of the movant’s identity and claim in 2009.

It is also well-settled that a lack of knowledge alone does not suffice to establish a right to relief from the bar date based on “excusable neglect.” Whether a claimant can show “excusable neglect” requires consideration of four factors:

- the danger of prejudice to others;
- the length of the delay and its potential impact on proceedings;
- the reason for the delay, including whether it was in the reasonable control of the movant; and
- whether the movant acted in good faith.

Pioneer Inv. Servs. v. Brunswick Assocs, Ltd. P’ship, 507 U.S. 380, 396 (1993).

Here, every late-filed claim that is allowed would reduce the already-low percentage recoveries of asbestos claimants and persons whose diseases had not even manifested at the time of the bar date, and therefore would be prejudicial to those other claimants. The costs of resolving disputes as to the merits of many thousands of additional claims also would deplete the Trust’s available resources and delay the wind-up of the Trust, thereby imposing huge administrative costs and forcing other claimants to wait longer to receive distributions. Overcoming these factors requires good reasons for movants’ delays in pursuing their claims and a showing that those delays were not in the movants’ reasonable control. But very few of the motions have explained the many years that passed after the bar date – in most cases more than six years – before the claimants took any action to pursue their claims.

I do not enjoy the job of enforcing the foregoing standards, particularly in the cases of claimants whose underlying injuries and illnesses seem very real. However, I am bound to apply strict due process and excusable neglect standards even if the movants may feel that the results are harsh.

Conditions First Diagnosed After the Bar Date. On a more positive note (from the perspective of the movants): many of the pending motions have identified claims that are based on conditions that allegedly did not manifest themselves until after the bar date. As explained in more detail below, I confirm that a claim based on a condition or disease that was first diagnosed after the bar date is automatically a “future” tort claim for purposes of the Trust, and a claimant does not need to establish “excusable neglect” or a violation of due process in order to pursue a claim of that kind. The Tort Claims Trust may dispute the merits of these claims, and as part of that process the Trust may dispute the dates on which the relevant diseases or conditions actually manifested themselves, but those disputes are to be resolved under the Trust’s normal dispute resolution procedures, which do not contemplate further involvement by the Court.

I have carefully reviewed each of the 4,676 pending motions and the many supplemental submissions that we have received with respect to those motions. Many claimants have expressed their frustration at how long this has taken, but the sheer number of motions and related filings, and the sheer number of issues raised, has made it impossible for me to finish the task earlier. It also made sense to rule on all the motions at one time, rather than ruling on them in a piecemeal fashion, to ensure consistency in our rulings and to preserve order in the handling of any appeals that might be filed. In addition, the Trust cannot calculate distributions to individual claimants until it knows what the total universe of allowed claims will be, so interim decisions would not have changed the ultimate distribution dates in any event.

Issues common to many or all of the motions are discussed in this Decision, and the individual motions and the Court’s rulings on them are summarized in the tables that are being filed as Tables A and B to this Decision. To be clear: statements made in Tables A and B as to diagnosis dates, movants’ knowledge and movants’ reasons for not having filed claims are summaries of the movants' contentions, and should not be treated as factual findings by the Court. The tables are identical but they are sorted differently. Table A lists the motions by docket number, and Table B lists the movants by name (as did the list of motions that was submitted by the Trust when it filed its objections to the pending motions). The column entitled "Comments and explanations for rulings" is color-coded to reflect the outcome of the motion.

More particularly:

- Items shaded in red are motions as to which relief is denied in its entirety.
- Items shaded in green are motions as to which no grounds for relief from the bar date have been established but which (in whole or in part) also involve conditions that allegedly were first diagnosed after the bar date. The portions of those motions that are based on conditions first diagnosed after the bar date should be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
- Items shaded in blue are motions as to which relief from the bar date has been granted.
- Items shaded in yellow are motions as to which movants are permitted to make supplemental submissions to address certain issues that the Court has identified.

It is conceivable that there were inadvertent errors in the color-coding of the rulings and in such cases it is the text (and not the color coding) that specifies the actual rulings of the Court.

There were a number of motions that were filed with the Court that did not appear on the summaries that the Trust filed. In addition, there were instances in which the Trust's summaries contained minor errors (transposed claim numbers, for example). We have used bold-faced red type in Tables A and B to identify discrepancies and to assist the Trust in reconciling our rulings with the Trust's prior submission. An original copy of the Excel spreadsheet that was used to generate the tables also will be sent to the Trust to assist the Trust in updating its database. As indicated at the end of this Decision, the Court will defer the entry of a formal Order until after a conference on March 19, 2021, at which the Trust is directed to discuss the most efficient means of providing notice of the Court's rulings to the movants.

Background

Before 2000, Kerr-McGee Corporation and its affiliates engaged in a wide variety of businesses that included oil and gas exploration, uranium mining and milling, specialty chemical production, and wood treatment. Kerr-McGee's wood treatment business began in 1967 when it acquired T.J. Moss Tie Co., which operated 15 wood-treating plants using creosote and which had previously operated 18 other such plants throughout the country.

Over time, Kerr-McGee terminated most of its business lines except for oil and gas exploration and titanium dioxide production. The many past business lines had left Kerr-McGee and its affiliates with huge environmental and tort liabilities. Environmental liabilities posed the biggest challenge: the Kerr-McGee companies owned 2,700 environmental sites including at least seven federal Superfund sites, and incurred more than $1 billion in environmental response costs just in the period from 2000 through November 2005. Tort claims (mainly based on creosote exposures) also posed big issues. Litigation over creosote exposures had begun in 1998, and from 2000 through early 2006 more than 24,500 creosote tort claims had been filed against Kerr-McGee, of which 15,000 had been settled at a total cost of $72 million (excluding defense costs). See Tronox Inc. v. Kerr McGee Corp. (In re Tronox Inc.), 503 B.R. 239, 249, 314 (2013) (the "Anadarko Decision").

During the period 2000-2006 Kerr-McGee and its advisors planned and executed a series of transactions through which certain profitable businesses were transferred to other entities.

The original Kerr-McGee entities were renamed and Kerr-McGee Corporation became Tronox Incorporated. The legacy environmental and tort liabilities of the discontinued business lines were left with Tronox and its affiliates. Id. at 251-260. The Tronox companies then were part a spin-off transaction in 2006, in which Tronox stock was distributed to Kerr-McGee shareholders.

Tronox did not fare well. Its ongoing businesses did not produce sufficient revenues to cover its expenses, and Tronox and its affiliates filed bankruptcy petitions on January 12, 2009. A Committee of Unsecured Creditors was named to protect the interests of unsecured claimants, and a tort claimant (Michael E. Carroll) was named as one of the seven members of that Committee. [ECF No. 76.]

One of the earliest events to occur in the bankruptcy cases was the filing of a large fraudulent transfer litigation that challenged the various transactions that had transferred businesses to other companies while leaving the Tronox companies with legacy environmental and tort liabilities. See Tronox, Inc., et al. v. Anadarko Petroleum Corp., et al., Adv. Pro No. 09-01198. That lawsuit (the “Anadarko Litigation”) was filed on May 12, 2009 but it was not resolved until many years later.

The Bankruptcy Process in General

Many movants appear to be under the mistaken impression that the Tort Claims Trust is somehow related to various class action lawsuits that preceded the Tronox bankruptcy case. For the benefits of the movants (many of whom have proceeded without counsel) we have set forth below a description of the bankruptcy process and how it differs from class action procedures.

Tronox and its affiliated companies filed bankruptcy petitions under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. A bankruptcy filing creates an “estate” that consists of all of a company’s property. See 11 U.S.C. § 1141. All competing claims against the company and its property are then resolved in the chapter 11 bankruptcy case.

The key event in a chapter 11 case is the confirmation of a plan of reorganization. A plan describes how the company's business will be conducted in the future. It also classifies the company's various creditors based on the natures of their claims, and describes the treatment that each class of creditors will receive.

Each member of a creditor class is entitled to share equally in the distributions that are available for that particular class. The first step in the process of identifying eligible creditors is the filing by the bankrupt company of a schedule that discloses the names of all persons and entities who are known to have claims. See 11 U.S.C. § 521. The schedule must state whether the debtor agrees that a debt is owed or whether the debtor believes that the claim is disputed, unliquidated or contingent. A claim is disputed if the debtor disagrees that a debt is owed. A claim is "unliquidated" if it has not been reduced to a specific dollar amount. A claim is "contingent" if the existence of the debt depends on future events that have not yet occurred.

If a debtor lists a creditor's claim and does not identify it as being contingent, unliquidated or disputed, then that creditor is entitled to be treated as a claimant in the bankruptcy case and does not need to file a proof of claim. However, any creditor whose claim is not listed in the debtor's schedule of liabilities must file a proof of claim in order to be treated as a creditor for purposes of voting and distributions. See Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3003(c)(2). Similarly, any creditor whose claim is listed as disputed, contingent or unliquidated must file a proof of claim in order to vote on a bankruptcy plan and to receive distributions. Id.

As a practical matter, a bankruptcy case cannot be administered unless a deadline is set for the filing of creditor claims. Creditors vote on a proposed plan of reorganization, and so a process is needed to identify the people who are entitled to vote. In addition, creditors' shares of distributions cannot be calculated without knowing the universe of claims that are entitled to participate in those distributions. Without a deadline, all creditors would have to wait (and no distributions could be calculated or made) until it was no longer possible that any additional creditor claims could be filed. See In re Waterman Steamship Corp., 59 B.R. 724, 726 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1986) ("Absent the setting of a bar date, a Chapter 11 case could not be administered to a conclusion. There would be no time established for the filing of claims"); First Fid. Bank, N.A. v Hooker Invs., Inc. (In re Hooker Invs., Inc.), 937 F.2d 833, 840 (2d Cir. 1991) ("[i]f individual creditors were permitted to postpone indefinitely the effect of a bar order . . . the institutional means of ensuring the sound administration of the bankruptcy estate would be undermined."); In re Drexel Burnham Lambert Group, Inc., 129 B.R. 22, 26 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1991) (without the finality of a bar date, reorganization would be impossible.)

Rule 3003(c)(3) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure therefore provides that the bankruptcy court "shall" set a deadline for the filing of proofs of claim. See Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3003(c)(3). That deadline is typically referred to as the "bar date." As a general rule any creditor who fails to file a claim before the bar date "shall not be treated as a creditor with respect to such claim for the purposes of voting and distribution." See Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3003.

The bankruptcy claims process differs from a class action procedure in at least one very important respect. In a typical class action, one or more plaintiffs seek permission to sue on behalf of all similarly situated persons. If a court allows the action to continue as a class action, then in the usual case all persons who fall within the class definition automatically become part of the class; the only exception is if they affirmatively exercise a right to "opt out" of the class. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23. In a bankruptcy case, by contrast, claimants are only allowed to participate if they (or someone authorized to act for them) affirmatively file claims before the bar date. If a claimant fails to take that affirmative step, then the claim is barred.

When a plan is confirmed, all prior “claims” against the reorganized company are discharged. See 11 U.S.C. § 1141. This is true regardless of whether a claim was listed on the company’s schedules, and regardless of whether a proof of claim was filed. Id. For this purpose, the term “claim” has a very broad definition. It includes any and all rights to payment of any kind, “whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secured, or unsecured.” See 11 U.S.C. § 101(5)(A).

The Tronox Bar Date

Tronox and its affiliates filed lengthy schedules of creditor claims, including a 1,301-page list of creditors who had made litigation-related claims. See Schedules [ECF No. 275], Rider F1. Those claims were listed as contingent, unliquidated and disputed. Tronox then filed a motion asking the Court to set a bar date. See Tronox’s Motion for Entry of an Order (A) Setting Bar Dates for Filing Proofs of Claim, (B) Approving the Form and Manner for Filing Proofs of Claim, and (C) Approving Notice Thereof,” dated May 5, 2009 [ECF No. 399].

Tronox represented that 120 separate tort lawsuits were outstanding and that Tronox did not have the mailing addresses of some of the named plaintiffs; in those instances, Tronox proposed to mail notice of the bar date to counsel of record. Id. ¶ 16. Tronox also represented that “there may be thousands of unknown claimants who may have environmental, personal injury, property or other Claims against Tronox,” and proposed to publish site-specific notices in local newspapers that were chosen to correspond to locations where facilities had been operated and where prior waste disposals had given rise to injury claims. Id. ¶¶ 20-21 and Exs. E and F.

No party objected to the bar date motion, and the Court entered an order setting August 12, 2009 as the deadline (the “Bar Date”) for the filing of claims. The Order required the Debtors to send a notice of the Bar Date to all known creditors, including all parties to pending litigation with the Debtors, with the proviso that such notices were to be sent to counsel if the Debtors did not have the litigants’ addresses. See Order (A) Setting Bar Dates for Filing Proofs of Claim, (B) Approving the Form and Manner for Filing Proofs of Claim, and (C) Approving Notice Thereof, May 28, 2009 [ECF No. 466] (hereafter, the “Bar Date Order”) ¶ 12(k). The Bar Date Order also approved the publication notices that the debtors had proposed. See Bar Date Order [ECF No. 466], ¶¶ 15-17. Judge Gropper found that the approved notices constituted “adequate and sufficient notice of each of the Bar Dates (including with respect to any environmental or tort Claims arising from or relating to the Legacy Businesses) . . .” Id. ¶ 20.

Notices of the bar date were mailed to all of the creditors listed on the Debtors’ Schedules, including all persons on the lengthy list of “litigation-related” creditors. See Affidavit of Service [ECF No. 497]. The mailed notices were accompanied by pre-printed proof of claim forms that included a description of how each creditor’s claim had been listed in the Schedules and whether the claim had been listed as contingent, unliquidated and/or disputed. Notices of the Bar Date were also published in 40 separate newspapers, which included one newspaper of national circulation (the Wall Street Journal) and 39 local newspapers. Copies of the published notices, and certificates attesting to their publication, were filed with the Court. See Affidavit of Publication of Notice of Bar Date [ECF No. 1465] and the Exhibits thereto.

The published notices described the bankruptcy filings and the claims process in general, and also included many site-specific terms relevant to the localities in which they were published. For example, a site-specific notice for Columbus, Mississippi was published in The Commercial Dispatch (a local Columbus newspaper) on June 23, 2009. The first part of the notice described the bar date and the claims process generally. It also described the spin-off of Tronox from Kerr-McGee, and stated that “it is possible that you may have a Claim against the Debtors that is related to Kerr-McGee Corporation’s operations prior to March 2006.” The notice also listed all of the names under which the Tronox debtors had done business during the prior six years. Finally, the notice set forth the following statement about the Columbus site in a separate text box:

Tronox Incorporated and certain of its affiliates (collectively, the “Debtors”) are required to provide notice to parties who may have a claim against the Debtors related to exposure to hazardous materials at particular sites. One of these sites is a wood-treating facility in Columbus, Mississippi and surrounding areas, at which creosote contamination from operations at the wood-treating facility is alleged to exist or to have previously existed.

If you, your property, your spouse or an immediate family member was exposed to contaminants at or near the Columbus site, and if that exposure directly or indirectly caused injury that becomes apparent now or in the future, you may have a claim under various legal theories for damages. Personal injury damages could relate to physical, emotional or other personal injuries such as bodily injury, wrongful death, medical monitoring, survivorship or proximate, consequential, general and special damages or punitive damages. Property-related damages could relate to cost of removal, diminution of property value or economic loss, or proximate, consequential, general and special damages or punitive damages. More information about the definition of “claims” that must be filed before the August 12, 2009 deadline is included in the legal notice that appears above.

If you believe that you may have a claim related to you or your property’s exposure to any products, raw materials or contaminants that were produced, manufactured, supplied, used or disposed of at the Columbus site, you MUST file a proof of claim form with the Bankruptcy Court according to the legal instructions above by August 12, 2009, or you will forever lose your rights to recover on your claim in the future. Filing a proof of claim does not automatically entitle you to compensation.

For more information about the filing process and/or to receive a proof of claim form, please call (866) 381-9100 or visit www.kccllc.net/tronox.

Id., Ex. N (emphasis in original). Similar site-specific notices were published in the areas where other wood-treatment plans had been located. The site-specific notices for Hattiesburg, Mississippi and Avoca, Pennsylvania – from which (together with Columbus, Mississippi) almost all of the creosote-related claims have originated – can be found at Exhibits T, U and HH to the Affidavit of Publication. Id., Exs. T, U and HH.

The Confirmed Plan of Reorganization

On November 30, 2010, the Court confirmed a plan of reorganization (the “Plan”), which later became effective on February 14, 2011. The term “Tort Claims” was broadly defined in the Plan so as to include claims that had already arisen or that might arise in the future:

“Tort Claim” means non-governmental Claims against Tronox, whether such Claims are known or unknown, whether by contract, tort or statute, whether existing or hereinafter arising, for death, bodily injury, sickness, disease, medical monitoring or other personal physical injuries or damage to property to the extent caused or allegedly caused directly or indirectly by the presence of or exposure to any product or toxin manufactured or disposed of, or other property owned, operated or used for disposal by, Tronox or any Entity for whose products or operations Tronox allegedly has liability . . .

Plan, Article I(A)(156) [ECF No. 2567, Ex. A]. All Tort Claims were to be channeled to the Trust for processing, allowance and payment, and the Plan made clear that holders of “Tort Claims” could only seek recovery from the Trust:

The sole recourse of Holders of Tort Claims shall be the Tort Claims Trust, and such Holders shall have no right at any time to assert Tort Claims against Reorganized Tronox. Final determinations on the allowance or disallowance of Tort Claims for distribution purposes shall be made in accordance with the Tort Claims Trust Distribution Procedures.

Id. Article III(B)(4)(b). The Confirmation Order approved these terms, discharged the reorganized Tronox companies from all claims (including Tort Claims), and directed that holders of Tort Claims could only seek recourse from the Tort Claims Trust and not from Reorganized Tronox or its assets. See Confirmation Order [ECF No. 2567] at ¶¶ 129, 134(ii), 184.

The Trust was funded with a cash deposit of $12.5 million, the proceeds of available insurance policies, and the right to receive 12% of the proceeds of the fraudulent transfer litigation that had been filed against Anadarko and against the Kerr-McGee companies. Plan, Article IV(C)(4). The Plan established many separate subcategories of Tort Claims, and provided that the total amounts allocated to the Trust would be divided among those categories of claims as follows:

- “up to” 6.25% would be available for “Indirect Environmental Claims;”
- 6.25% would be available for “Holders of Asbestos Claims and Future Tort Claimants;”
- 6.25% would be available to “Holders of Property Damage Claims;” and
- the largest share (at least 81.25%) would be set aside for timely-filed Category D “Non-Asbestos Toxic Exposure Claims.”

Id., Article III(B)(4)(b).

The Confirmation Order also approved a Tort Claims Trust Agreement (the “Trust Agreement”) and a set of Tort Claims Trust Distribution Procedures (the “TDPs”). The Trust Agreement established the categories into which allowed tort claims were to be divided, and the TDPs set forth rules that would govern the collection, review, allowance and payment of tort claims. The Confirmation Order approved the categories of claims and the procedures for the resolution of claims, and it provided that certain amendments that appeared in the Trust documents were deemed to have been incorporated into the Plan. Confirmation Order [ECF No. 2567] at ¶¶ 85, 184, 185. The confirmed terms of the Plan, the Trust Agreement and the TDPs included a condition that Category D “Non-Asbestos Toxic Exposure Claims” would be limited to persons who had filed timely proofs of claim. Id.

The TDPs set forth the procedures that the Tort Claims Trustee would follow in reviewing claims. One of the key procedures was paragraph 2.2(b) of the TDPs, which specified that a timely filed proof of claim in the Tronox bankruptcy case “shall be accepted as irrefutable and final proof of exposure and injury asserted in the proof of claim with respect to such exposure . . .” [ECF No. 3030-2, ¶ 2.2(b).] However, the TDPs also contemplated that the Trust would solicit follow-up claim forms from those claimants who had filed prior proofs of claim, and that in those forms the claimants could specify injuries that differed from those set forth in their original proofs of claim:

Where illness/injury was not specified on a timely Proof of Claim Form or where the illness/injury sought to be compensated has changed, a sworn statement by the Holder of a Tort Claim or such Holder’s authorized representative shall be sufficient proof of injury.

Id. Effectively these provisions meant that claimants could modify their claimed injuries in sworn claim forms and those forms would simply be accepted as true statements of both the fact of a claimant’s injury and its cause, without any room for objection.

The TDPs also included a schedule that set forth the “allowed amounts” that would be assigned to tort claims depending on the nature of the injuries or claims alleged. These scheduled values were as follows for creosote victims:

Disease	Scheduled Value
Precancerous Skin Lesion	$26,000
Skin Cancer	$120,000
Lung Cancer	$700,000
Breast Cancer	$475,000
Other Cancer	$600,000
Asthma Adult	$150,000
Asthma Child	$175,000
Cardiovascular	$250,000
Respiratory	$80,000
Medical Monitoring/Unimpaired	$5,000

See TDPs, Schedule B. As noted above, Tronox had previously settled 15,000 creosote-based claims at a total cost of $72 million, or approximately $4,800 per claim. The allowed claim amounts provided pursuant to the TDPs therefore were dramatically higher than the average pre-bankruptcy claim settlements had been. However, the scheduled values of claims did not necessarily reflect what the payouts would be. Each claimant was entitled to receive a pro rata share of whatever the distribution funds turned out to be, based on how each claimant's scheduled claim compared to the total scheduled values of all allowed claims.

Claims Filed with the Tort Claims Trust and the 2015 Request for Instructions

A total of 11,501 tort claims were filed before the bar date. See Disclosure Statement Regarding the First Amended Joint Plan of Reorganization of Tronox Incorporated, et al. Pursuant to Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code [ECF No. 2196] at 30. Some of those filed claims likely may have been duplicative claims, as some claimants may have filed identical claims against more than one debtor.

During 2011 the Tort Claims Trust asked each claimant to submit a sworn statement describing the type of claim being asserted and the category into which the claim fell. A total of 6,783 claims were submitted as "Category D" claims. By the end of 2013 all but a handful of those claims had been processed and the vast majority had been assigned "allowed" amounts. Only ten claimants rejected the proposed "allowed" values of the claims, and three claims were withdrawn. See Annual Report and Account of the Tronox Incorporated Tort Claims Trust for the Year ending December 31, 2013, filed on April 30, 2014 [ECF No. 2986] at 5.

About 2,120 of the allowed Category D claims were submitted by claimants in Columbus, Mississippi; those claims were "allowed" in the total amount of $357,215,000. See Transcript of Proceedings, Adv. Pro. 09-01198 [ECF No. 681] at 41:4-6; see also Declaration of Bennett S. Silverberg, dated May 26, 2015 [ECF No. 3041, Ex. A]. Another 4,358 of the allowed Category D tort claims were filed by claimants in or near Avoca, Pennsylvania; those claims were allowed in the total amount of $966,382,000. Id. Only 289 other Category D claims were filed and allowed, in the total scheduled amount of $42,197,500. Id.

The cash funding of the Tort Claims Trust was relatively small, and so the recoveries by tort claimants depended primarily on the outcome of the Anadarko Litigation. That litigation led to a very large judgment and a subsequent settlement, with the result that the Trust received a payment of more than $611 million in early 2015. See 2015 Trust Report, Ex. A at 14-15. Most of those funds were allocated to Category D Non-Asbestos Toxic Exposure Claims in accordance with the terms of the Plan and the Trust Agreement.

Disputes arose among some of the holders of Category D claims, and the trustee of the Tort Claims Trust sought instructions from the Court as to how to resolve those disputes. A group of Avoca-based claimants contended that claims filed by claimants from the Columbus, Mississippi area should be disallowed because an allegedly impermissible “group” proof of claim had been filed on behalf of the Columbus claimants. The Avoca claimants also argued that any Columbus, Mississippi claimants who had filed proofs of claim alleging “nuisance” damages should be barred from filing claims with the Tort Claims Trust based on personal injuries, wrongful death, sickness or disease, and suggested that some of the Mississippi claims should be investigated for fraud. This Court rejected those arguments, upheld the legitimacy of the “group” proof of claim that had been filed, and ruled that Columbus-area tort claimants who had filed timely proofs of claim were entitled to make claims against the Tort Claims Trust based on their then-current injuries or conditions. See Memorandum Opinion as to Tort Claims Trustee’s Motion for Instructions, dated June 17, 2015 [ECF No. 3046]. The Court also noted that no specific evidence of fraud had been identified, and that the Trustee had reported finding no evidence of fraud in the course of the Trust's reviews of the filed claims.

The Trust then made distributions to the holders of "allowed" Category D claims. Most of those distributions were made in 2015 and 2016. The holders of allowed Category D claims received distributions equal to approximately 35% of the allowed amounts of their claims. See Oct. 25, 2016 Hr'g Tr. (ECF No. 3267) at 32:2-7

The 2016 Request for Instructions

As of early 2015, when the Trust received its share of the litigation proceeds, a total of 880 asbestos claims had been filed, along with approximately 600 Future Tort Claims. See Jan. 24, 2018 Hr'g Tr. at 5:1-5. News of the large distributions to Category D claimants spread quickly, however, and led to the filing of many additional claims. In a four-month period more than 10,000 additional claims were filed. Id. 5:5-8. By October 2016, more than 19,000 purported future tort claims had been filed – a far greater number than anyone had anticipated, and more than twice the number of "allowed" Category D claims that the Trust had processed. See Oct. 25, 2016 Hr'g Tr. at 15:23-16:7, 28:19-29:4. About 15,000 of those 19,000 claims had been filed by claimants in Mississippi. Id. at 29:5-9.

In 2016, the Trustee asked the Court for instructions as to how to handle certain of the future tort claims that were being filed. The Trustee contended that the governing trust documents could be interpreted in different ways and did not provide sufficiently clear guidance as to which claims qualified as future tort claims. The Trustee suggested a resolution under which a "Future Tort Claim" would be allowed only if (1) the claimant was exposed to a Tronox product before the Effective Date of the Plan, and (2) the claimant was not diagnosed with the claimed disease or condition until after the Bar Date. All other claims, under the Trustee's proposal, would have been barred by the prior discharge orders. See Motion of Tort Claims Trustee, Garretson Resolution Group, Inc., for Instructions Regarding Future Tort Claims, ECF No. 3069, ¶¶ 18-21.

The Court scheduled an evidentiary hearing and directed the Trustee to present evidence as to the intent of the parties in drafting the provisions that were at issue. The Court also directed the Trustee to serve notice of the Motion, and of the evidentiary hearing, on all persons who had filed Future Tort Claims. Hundreds of pro se responses to the Motion were sent to the Court and to the Trustee. See ECF Nos. 3072-3193, 3195-3258, 3260-61. The responses made the following arguments, among others:

- That some claimants were not aware of their injuries prior to the Bar Date;
- That some claimants were not aware of the Bar Date itself;
- That some claimants may have known of their diseases prior to the Bar Date but may not have had any reason to understand that the diseases had been caused by their exposure to creosote or to other products released into the environment by Tronox and its predecessors;
- That notice of the Bar Date was not reasonably calculated to reach claimants; and
- That claimants' failure to file claims by the Bar Date was the result of excusable neglect and should be excused pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9006.

Some claimants referred to payments made to the tort claimants who filed timely claims, and argued that in fairness later-filed claims should be given the same treatment. Many other responses simply stated that the claimants disagreed with any proposed disallowance of their claims, without further explanation.

At an evidentiary hearing on October 25, 2016 the Court heard testimony from three witnesses, two of whom had participated in the drafting of the Trust documents. The Court then issued its Memorandum Opinion as to Tort Claims Trustee's Motion for Instructions Regarding Future Tort Claims on December 14, 2016 (ECF No. 3268). The Court held that a claim qualifies as a "Future Tort Claim" if it does not fall into any of the other categories of Tort Claims under the Trust documents and if one or more of the following conditions are met:

- (1) The claim is based on an alleged exposure to a harmful substance that occurred on or after August 12, 2009;
- (2) The claim is based on an exposure that occurred before August 12, 2009, but as to which no injury or disease was manifested until on or after August 12, 2009; or
- (3) The exposure, as well as the manifestation of an injury or disease, predated August 12, 2009, but the claimant is able to establish (a) that the claimant's failure to file a timely proof of claim should be excused on grounds of excusable neglect, or (b) that the purported discharge of the claimant's claim was a violation of due process and therefore ineffective.

The Court ruled that determinations as to claims that fall into categories (1) and (2) would be made by the Trustee pursuant to the TDPs and subject to the dispute resolution procedures that are set forth in the TDPs. Claimants in category (3) who wished to obtain relief were required to file motions seeking such relief from this Court. The Court also approved the Trustee's proposed form of notice to be sent to claimants. See Order dated January 19, 2017 (ECF No. 3270).

The Pending Motions

The Trustee sent Determination Notices that proposed the allowance of approximately 6,200 Future Tort Claims and the disallowance of 11,000 others. However, nothing seemed to stem the tide of additional claim filings. See Jan. 24, 2018, Hr’g Tr. at 5:23-6:2 (“every time some notice goes out to existing claimants that we need additional information or their claims have been handled by the trust and either allowed or disallowed word gets out in the communities and additional claims get filed.”) By January 2018, when the Court held a status hearing, more than 17,000 additional future tort claims had been filed. (Hr’g. Tr., 6:3-8). The total number of future tort claims reached more than 38,000 by the spring of 2020, when the Trust filed its report for the year ended December 31, 2019. See 2019 Trust Report, Ex. B.

In January 2018, the Trust held $23 million allocable to Category A claims. Approximately 7,000 claims had been allowed in the total allowed amounts of $930 million, and many more claims remained to be processed. The Trustee projected that once the additional claims had been processed and resolved the likely distributions to allowed claimants would be 1% or lower. See Jan. 24, 2018 Hr’g Tr. at 6:11-20.

As described above, the Trust sent notices to claimants whose claims were disallowed due to a failure to file a timely claim by the Bar Date. As of December 11, 2017, 4,381 motions had been filed with this Court, seeking relief from the Bar Date based upon a claim of excusable neglect and/or due process. Some additional motions were filed thereafter, and about 4,676 such motions are now pending, some of which are just mistaken filings of rejection notices and claim forms rather than motions that actually seek affirmative relief.

The Trust filed an omnibus objection to all of the then-pending motions on April 25, 2018. (ECF No. 8047.) A notice that accompanied the omnibus objection advised all movants that they could submit additional evidence or other materials in response to the objection, id., and hundreds of supplemental filings were submitted.

Discussion

The pending motions all invoke “excusable neglect” or “due process” as grounds for relief, but many other issues arose during the course of reviewing the motions.

I. Whether Motions Were Timely Filed.

The Court issued an Order that directed that motions seeking relief on grounds of excusable neglect or due process be made within ninety days after notice from the Trust. (ECF No. 3270.) The Trust sent notices on or before August 31, 2017, and the Trust has noted that a large number of the pending motions were not docketed until more than ninety days after August 31, 2017. However, the Court notes that the prior notices did not make clear whether a motion would be deemed to have been made at the time it was deposited in the mail (or deposited with other delivery services), or whether it would be timely only if it were actually received by the Court in 90 days. The Court has reviewed all of the allegedly untimely filings and has determined to accept those motions bearing a post-mark or equivalent deposit date of December 1, 2017 or earlier. Only a relative handful of motions were untimely on this basis. Tables A and B reflect the Court’s rulings in this respect.

Some movants sent motions to the Tort Claims Trust and did not file them directly with the Court. The Court will excuse those movants from strict compliance with the filing requirements, and will treat motions as timely, so long as the motions were timely served upon the Tort Claims Trust.

II. Claims Based on Alleged Post-Bar Date Diagnoses.

Two of the grounds on which I previously held that a claim may qualify as a “future” tort claim are (a) if the claim is based on an exposure to a harmful substance that occurred after August 12, 2009, or (b) if the claim is based on an exposure that occurred before August 12, 2009, but as to which no injury or disease was “manifested” until on or after August 12, 2009. Claimants do not need to seek relief from the bar date in order to pursue such claims. However, the pending motions have identified a number of points of potential confusion as to which claims fall into these categories, and so clarifications are appropriate.

A. When Claims “Manifest” Themselves.

The Court previously held that a claim is a “future” tort claim if the injury or disease did not “manifest” itself until after the Bar Date. Many of the pending motions allege that the movants suffer from diseases or conditions that were not “diagnosed” until after the Bar Date. It is certainly possible that a disease or condition could “manifest” itself prior to the date on which the disease or condition has actually been formally diagnosed. I note, however, that the Tort Claims Trust originally proposed that diagnosis dates be used in deciding whether claims qualify as “future” tort claims. See ECF No. 3069, ¶¶ 18-21. We also understand that in processing claims the Trust has treated diagnosis dates as the dates on which diseases or conditions “manifested” themselves, as the diagnosis dates are easier to determine and to verify.

The Trust’s proposal (and its practice) make good sense. When I referred in my prior Order to the dates on which diseases or conditions had “manifested” themselves it was not my intent to require the Trust to follow a different and potentially more cumbersome rule. The administrative costs of investigating and possibly litigating the question of whether a disease or condition had “manifested” itself prior to the date of a formal diagnosis would likely far exceed the benefits given the level of the recoveries that have been projected.

Accordingly, I hereby clarify that claims that are based on diseases or conditions that were not diagnosed until after the bar date are “future” tort claims as defined in the Plan and the Trust documents and that claimants need not establish “excusable neglect” or a violation of due process in order to pursue those particular claims. For the avoidance of doubt, however, the Trust has the right to object if it believes that the alleged condition or disease actually was diagnosed before the bar date, in which case the claim would not qualify as a “future” tort claim. Such objections, like all other objections to the merits of post-bar date diagnosis claims, should be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.

B. Claims Based on Multiple Conditions, Some of Which Were First Diagnosed Before the Bar Date and Some of Which Were First Diagnosed After the Bar Date.

Many claimants have submitted long lists of diagnoses of multiple conditions, some of which were diagnosed before the bar date and others of which were diagnosed after the bar date. A claimant, for example, may have been diagnosed with asthma in 1988, then with heart problems in 2007, and then with cancer in 2014.

The Order that I entered in 2016 stated that a claim would be a “future” tort claim if (among other things) the underlying exposure occurred before the Bar Date but “no” injury or disease manifested itself until after the Bar Date. The wording of this paragraph could be interpreted to mean that “future tort claim” treatment might be available only to claimants who manifested no pre-Bar Date injuries at all, and is not available to claimants who were diagnosed with some conditions before the Bar Date but who were then later diagnosed with additional (but new) conditions or illnesses after the Bar Date. Frankly, however, I do not recall why that paragraph was worded in that particular way. I note that the form of “Determination Notice” that I approved as part of the same Order advised claimants that a claim would be considered a “future tort claim” if “your alleged disease or condition had not manifested or been diagnosed” until after the Bar Date. See Order Regarding Tort Claims Trustee’s Motion for Instructions Regarding Future Tort Claims, Ex. A (ECF No. 3270-1) at p. 1 ¶ (b). The Determination Notice therefore focused on whether the particular diseases or conditions for which compensation was sought were new, and not on whether the claimant had also manifested a different disease or condition at an earlier time.

I understand further that the Tort Claims Trust has been treating all claims based on new post-Bar Date diagnoses as “future tort claims,” regardless of whether claimants had been diagnosed with different conditions before the Bar Date. After reviewing the record, I agree and confirm that this is the correct approach.

I have reviewed the transcripts of the hearings in 2016. The witnesses at that hearing testified that the parties intended that conditions first diagnosed after the Bar Date would give rise to “future” tort claims. There was no suggestion or indication that a post-Bar Date diagnosis might be treated differently if the claimant had also had a separate pre-Bar Date diagnosis of a different condition, though in fairness that specific possibility had not occurred to the Court and that specific question was not posed to the witnesses.

I have also considered the terms of the Plan and the Trust documents, but they are of virtually no help in resolving this question. The Tronox plan of reorganization, when proposed, defined the term “Future Tort Claimant” as “an entity that establishes that it holds a Tort Claim that did not arise prior to the Effective Date and was not discharged under the Plan.” [ECF No. 2567, Ex A, Article I(A)(75) (emphasis added). The proposed Trust Agreement, which was prepared later, contained a different definition. The Trust Agreement defined the term “Future Tort Claimant” as “an entity that establishes that it holds a Tort Claim that arose prior to the Effective Date and was not discharged under the Plan.” See Trust Agreement, ECF No. 2343, Ex. C, § 1.2(m). The Confirmation Order then provided that the definition of “Future Tort Claimant” in the Trust Agreement would be deemed to have been incorporated into Article I of the Plan and to have replaced the prior definition. See Confirmation Order [ECF No. 2567] at ¶ 185. As a result of this change the definition of “Future Tort Claimant” was changed from one that would include only claims that arose after the Effective Date to one that was limited to certain claims that arose before the Effective Date. There is no explanation in the record as to the reasons for this change in language, and the witnesses in 2016 could not recall why the change had been made.

As the Trust has previously recognized, the language used to define “future tort claims” cannot be applied literally without producing anomalous results. A claim cannot be a “future tort claim,” under the literal definition in the confirmed Plan, unless it arose “before” the effective date of the Plan and yet was not discharged. However, Section VIII.A of the Plan, and paragraph 129 of the Confirmation Order, stated that all Tort Claims that “arose” prior to the Effective Date were deemed to have been discharged. If “future tort claims” were limited to people whose claims arose before the effective date (for bankruptcy purposes) but were not discharged, then there could never be a “future tort claim.” Yet the parties plainly contemplated that there would be such claims, and made provision for them in the Trust documents.

In fact, the whole idea of defining “future tort claims” in terms of whether claims had been “discharged” never made any sense at all, and was a plainly ill-suited way of describing what the parties sought to accomplish. The whole purpose of the Trust was to handle the tort claims that were discharged under the Tronox Plan, including future tort claims. If parties were able to prove that their claims against Tronox had not been discharged, then there would be no basis upon which to channel those claims to the Tort Claims Trust in the first place. The question of how to treat future tort claims therefore is not really a question of whether a bankruptcy discharge occurred. Instead, it is a question of interpretation as to how the Trust documents treated the various discharged claims.

It was quite clear, from the testimony I received in 2016, that the overriding intent of all the parties was that Tronox would be discharged from all claims; that all of those discharged claims (without exception) would be channeled to the Trust for resolution and payment; and that the category of “future tort claims” would include those claims based on conditions that had not manifested themselves as of the Bar Date. In short, the parties recognized that there would be types of claims that technically might have “arisen” for bankruptcy purposes (based on when exposures occurred) and from which Tronox would be discharged from liability, but as to which equity required some separate provision under the Trusts. Whether the claims had been “discharged” therefore was an inapt way to describe what the parties meant to accomplish with regard to “future” tort claims. The defining standard was not whether Tronox itself had been discharged from liability. Instead, the defining standard was whether the claim – based on the date of manifestation of the disease or injury – should fairly be excused from the rules that otherwise might have barred a recovery on the claim, such as strict Bar Date compliance.

I note that under state law questions often arise as to how to define a tort victim’s “claim” where exposures give rise, over time, to multiple but distinct conditions or illnesses. See, e.g., Schiro v. American Tobacco Co., 611 So.2d 962, 965-66 (Miss. 1992) (a smoker who sued based on a cancer diagnosis suffered the relevant “injury” on the date of the cancer diagnosis in 1981, and not on the dates on which she had earlier been diagnosed with other smoking-related illnesses such as emphysema). It is certainly conceivable that new conditions and illnesses that were first diagnosed after the Bar Date may be treated under the applicable state laws as new and separate injuries giving rise to new and separate claims, regardless of the fact that a claimant may have suffered from other conditions or illnesses at an earlier time based on the same underlying exposures.

We therefore concur with the Trust, and confirm that if a claimant has identified a new post-Bar Date diagnosis there is no equitable reason to distinguish between claimants who had prior diagnoses of other conditions and those who did not. We also confirm that claims based on conditions that were first diagnosed after the Bar Date are “future tort claims” to which the Bar Date itself did not apply.

Accordingly, where claimants have listed multiple conditions, we have done two things. First, we have made rulings as to whether the claimants have established grounds for relief from the Bar Date as to those conditions that were diagnosed prior to the Bar Date. If the movants have not done so, then claims based on those pre-Bar Date diagnoses are time-barred. Second, we have noted that the evaluation of any claims based on conditions that were first diagnosed after the Bar Date are for resolution by the Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures. If the Tort Claims Trust believes that an allegedly new post-Bar Date diagnosis actually should not be treated as a distinct condition or injury from one that was previously diagnosed, then the Tort Claims Trust may assert a defense to this effect. Similarly, if the Trust believes that the relevant condition or illness actually was diagnosed before the Bar Date, the Trust may assert that defense to the merits of the claim. Such defenses (like any other defense to the merits of a future tort claim) should then be resolved under the Tort Claims Trust dispute resolution procedures.

C. Claims Based on Conditions that Were Diagnosed Before the Bar Date but Continued Thereafter.

Many claimants have alleged that they suffer from “continuing” conditions or illnesses (asthma or heart conditions, for example) that were first diagnosed before the bar date but that have continued to exist after the bar date. Those are claims that plainly accrued before the bar date. Their continuing character does not mean that the claim is based on a post-bar date diagnosis. They are not to be treated as “future” tort claims in the absence of relief from the bar date based on excusable neglect or due process.

III. Claims that are Barred by Statutes of Limitation.

Many movants appear to be under the misimpression that “excusable neglect,” if established, would enable the filing of any claim that a movant (or a related person) ever had, even if that claim was barred by the applicable statute of limitations prior to the commencement of the Tronox bankruptcy case. That is not correct. Even if relief from the bar date were granted, section 502 of the Bankruptcy Code would still require disallowance of any claim that is not valid under applicable non-bankruptcy law. See 11 U.S.C. § 502. Claims that were barred by the statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing could not be allowed as claims even if relief from the bar date were to be granted.

The Trust has objected to many of the pending motions on the ground that the movants seek to pursue claims that are barred by the relevant statutes of limitation and therefore that relief from the bar date would be pointless. We found that this objection was valid and could be decided as a matter of law as to many claims and motions filed by parties in some states. However, we could not rule on such issues as a matter of law as to many other movants, and so and statute of limitations defenses as to those movants must be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.

A. Mississippi.

Mississippi requires that actions based on creosote exposures must be filed within three years from the point when “the plaintiff has discovered . . . the injury.” See Miss. Code Ann.

§ 15-1-49. The Mississippi Supreme Court and Mississippi federal courts have consistently held that the statute of limitations begins to run upon the discovery of the injury itself, regardless of whether the claimant knows of the cause of the injury or the identity of the person responsible for the injury. See Angle v. Koppers, Inc., 42 So.3d 1, 6 (Miss. 2010) (holding that a cause of action for recovery on account of latent disease or injury “accrues upon discovery of the injury, not discovery of the injury and its cause”); Lincoln Electric Co. v. McLemore, 54 So.3d 833, 838 (Miss. 2010) (holding that “Section 15-1-49 does not require a plaintiff to know the cause of the injury before accrual of the cause of action,” and thus “knowledge of the cause of an injury is irrelevant to the analysis [under § 15-1-49(2)]”); Owens-Illinois, Inc. v. Edwards, 573 So.2d 704, 709 (Miss. 1990) (“[t]he cause of action accrues and the limitations period begins to run when the plaintiff can reasonably be held to have knowledge of the injury or disease . . . Though the cause of the injury and the causative relationship between the injury and the injurious act or product may also be ascertainable on this date, these facts are not applicable under § 15-1-49(2)”; Barnes v. Koppers, Inc., 534 F.3d 357, 361 (5th Cir. 2008) (“[u]nder § 15-1-49, a cause of action accrues when the plaintiff has knowledge of the injury, not knowledge of the injury and its cause”); Bryant v. Wyeth, 816 F. Supp. 2d 329, 332 (S.D. Miss. 2011), aff’d, 487 Fed. App’x 207 (5th Cir. 2012) (holding that under § 15-1-49(20), a cause of action accrues “when the plaintiff “has knowledge of the injury, not knowledge of the injury and its cause”); Hewitt v. Wyeth, 812 F. Supp. 2d 768, 770 (S.D. Miss. 2011) (same).

The Tronox bankruptcy filing occurred in January 2009. Claims held by Mississippi residents that were based on injuries that were known before January 2006 were time-barred under Mississippi law before the Tronox bankruptcy filing occurred. Nevertheless, many motions filed by claimants in Mississippi allege that the relevant claims are based on conditions or illnesses that were diagnosed before January 2006. The Trust has correctly noted that, if claims are barred as a matter of law by the Mississippi statute of limitations, then those claimants' requests for relief from the Bar Date make no difference, because there are no valid claims for which any bankruptcy relief or recovery would be available.

The Mississippi statute of limitations rules are subject to a few exceptions. For example, persons who were infants at the time they were injured may sue within three years after reaching adulthood, and persons who were unsound of mind at the time of injury may sue within three years after the date when the disability is removed. See Miss. Code Ann. § 15-1-59. The Mississippi exemption for "unsoundness of mind" applies only if a person cannot manage the ordinary affairs of life; mental illness is not sufficient. Shippers Express v. Chapman, 364 So. 2d 1097, 1100 (Miss. 1978); Brumfield v. Lowe, 744 So. 2d 383, 387-88 (Miss. Ct. App. 1999) (schizophrenia diagnosis insufficient). We have not sustained objections on statute of limitations grounds except in those instances where we could do so as a matter of law based on the statements made in the relevant motions. If claimants referred to facts that arguably invoked one or more of the foregoing exceptions, then we have not made legal rulings on the statute of limitations issues, and if bar date relief is granted the merits of any statute of limitations defense is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.

B. Pennsylvania.

In Pennsylvania (where the Avoca site is located), the statute of limitations for a tortious injury to person or property is two years. See 42 Pa. C.S.A. § 5524. However, Pennsylvania follows a "discovery rule" as an exception to the strict statute of limitations. Under the discovery rule, the running of the limitations period is tolled where the existence of the injury is not known to the complaining party and such knowledge cannot reasonably be ascertained within the prescribed statutory period. Fine v. Checcio, 870 A.2d 850, 860 (Pa. 2005); Hayward v. Medical Ctr. of Beaver Cty., 608 A.2d 1040, 1043 (1992).

In contrast to Mississippi, the discovery rule in Pennsylvania apparently tolls the running of the statute of limitations until a claimant can reasonably ascertain both the fact of injury and the cause of the injury. Id.; see also Waleski v. Montgomery, McCracken, Walker & Rhoads, LLP (In re Tronox Inc.), 616 BR 280, 293 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2020); Gleason v. Borough of Moosic, 609 Pa. 353, 15 A.3d 479, 484 (2011). Nevertheless, in order to invoke the discovery rule a plaintiff must show that in the exercise of reasonable diligence the plaintiff could not have ascertained that the plaintiff had a cause of action. See Pocono Int'l Raceway, Inc. v. Pocono Produce, Inc., 468 A.2d 468, 471 (1983); see also Today's Express, Inc. v. Barkan, 626 A.2d 187, 190 (Pa. Super. Ct. 1993) (“[t]he standard by which one’s efforts to learn of a cause of action, so as to forestall the running of a statute of limitations, is measured by the inability, despite the exercise of diligence, to determine the injury or its cause, not upon a retrospective view of whether the facts were actually ascertained within the period”) (emphasis in original) (citations omitted). Furthermore, “[t]he standard of reasonable diligence is an objective or external one that is the same for all individuals.” Ingenito v. AC&S, Inc., 633 A.2d 1172, 1174 (Pa. Super. Ct. 1993) (citations omitted). “To demonstrate reasonable diligence, a plaintiff must ‘establish[] that he pursued the cause of his injury with those qualities of attention, knowledge, intelligence and judgment which society requires of its members for the protection of their own interests and the interests of others.’” Mest v. Cabot Corp., 449 F.3d 502, 511 (3d Cir. 2006) (quoting from Cochran v. GAF Corp., 666 A.2d 245, 250 (Pa. 1995)). The burden of proof is on the claimant, Cochran v. GAF Corp., 666 A.2d 245, 250 (1995), and the determination of whether a claimant could have known of a cause of action with reasonable diligence is normally a factual issue. Hayward, 608 A.2d at 1043.

The Trustee has objected to the claims of many of the movants who are from Pennsylvania on the ground that the claims are barred by the statute of limitations. As described below, many facts were available to residents in Pennsylvania about the risks of creosote exposures, and there was widespread publication of news about creosote-based lawsuits. I have considered that information in evaluating movants' contentions that they missed the bar date due to "excusable neglect." However, while movants were notified that they needed to show "excusable neglect" in order to obtain relief from the bar date, they were not asked to make any submissions regarding the application of the Pennsylvania statute of limitations and/or their diligence before 2009 in pursuing claims. We have therefore not made statute of limitations rulings with regard to the Pennsylvania claimants. We have ruled on the pending motions for relief from the bar date, but if such relief is granted, and if the Trust believes that the relevant claims are subject to statute of limitations defenses, then those defenses (like all other defenses on the merits) must be resolved under the Tort Claims Trust dispute resolution procedures.

C. Louisiana.

In Louisiana (where the Bossier City site is located), the "liberative prescription" for "delictual actions" is one year. See La. C.C. Art. 3492. The one-year period "commences to run from the day injury or damage is sustained," but it does not run against minors. Id. The prescriptive period may be suspended until a plaintiff discovers or should have discovered the facts upon which a cause of action is based. In re Succession of Scurlock, 140 So.3d 318, 322 (La. App. 2014). But actual knowledge is not required, and a plaintiff will be charged with knowing what he or she could have learned with reasonable diligence. Id. The fact that a plaintiff has been diagnosed with an injury or condition is constructive notice that a plaintiff should investigate the cause of the condition, and the prescriptive period will not be suspended if the reason why the plaintiff did not know of a claim was that the plaintiff failed to make such an inquiry. See Tenorio v. Exxon Mobil Corp., 170 So.3d 269, 275 (La. App. 2015) (no suspension for claimant who was diagnosed with throat cancer in 2009 but who did not file suit until 2013).

As noted above, movants were asked to explain why they did not file claims before the bar date, but they were not even asked to explain facts that were relevant to the application of the statute of limitations, and this Court does not even have copies of the complete claim files that were submitted to the Tort Claims Trust. We therefore cannot rule as a matter of law as to whether any of the Louisiana claims are barred by the statute of limitations. We have made rulings as to whether movants whose claims are subject to Louisiana law are entitled to relief from the bar date, but if such relief is granted, and if the Trust believes that the relevant claims are subject to statute of limitations defenses, those defenses (like all other defenses on the merits) should be resolved under the Tort Claims Trust dispute resolution procedures.

D. Alabama.

The limitations period for personal injury claims in Alabama is two years. Ala Code § 6-2-38(1). In Griffin v. Unocal Corp., 990 So. 2d 291, 293 (Ala. 2008), the Supreme Court of Alabama held that a personal injury claim accrues when a physical injury is manifested by observable signs or symptoms or is medically identifiable, even if the injured person is ignorant of it and even if the injured person is not aware of the cause or origin of the injury. However, the rule set forth in Griffin was to apply only prospectively – that is, to persons whose last exposure to a toxic substance, and first manifested injury resulting from that exposure, occurred on or after the date that was two years prior to the issuance of the Griffin decision in January 2008. Id.

The prior rule in Alabama (still applicable to some pre-Griffin exposures) was that a claim had to be brought within two years after the last exposure occurred, regardless of when an injury had manifested itself. See Garrett v. Raytheon Co., 368 So.2d 516, 521 (Ala. 1979). However, if a claim is governed by Garrett the plaintiff can only recover damages that were attributable to injuries that were incurred within the two-year limitations period, i.e., within two years prior to filing suit. Jerkins v. Lincoln Elec. Co., 103 So.3d 1, 6-7 (Ala. 2011). Taken together, the rule under Garrett and Jerkins is that claims for damages based on an injury caused by long-term exposures to toxic substances must be brought no later than the sooner to occur of (a) the date that is two years after the date of last exposure to the substance, or (c) the date that is two years after the date of the relevant injury.

Trying to apply these rules to claims governed by Alabama law is a bit confusing, but the following seems to be the case:

- If a movant's "last exposure" occurred more than two years before Griffin was decided (i.e., before January 2006), then the claim is governed by the Garrett rule, and the claim was time-barred unless suit was brought within two years of the last exposure, regardless of whether any injury had manifested itself.
- If an exposure continued after January 2006, but the injury had manifested itself before January 2006, then under Garrett and Jerkins the movant had until two years after the injury in which to file a claim. Otherwise, claims for damages based on that injury were barred.
- If the exposure continued after January 2006 and the first manifestation of injury was after January 2006, then under Griffin the claim had to be made within two years after the manifestation of injury.

In some instances, these rules could be applied as a matter of law to movants whose claims are governed by Alabama law. In other instances, we did not have sufficient information to make such rulings. In cases where we did not rule on the application of the statute of limitations those defenses would still be available to the Trust if relief from the bar date were to be granted.

E. Other States.

Some motions were filed by residents of other states. In many cases it was clear from the motions that the underlying exposures had occurred at plants in Mississippi or Pennsylvania. In some cases, however, it was not clear just where the underlying exposures had occurred. In those cases, we found an insufficient basis on the record to sustain the Trust's general statute of limitations defense. We have made rulings as to whether these movants have established grounds for relief from the bar date based on excusable neglect or violations of due process, but if such relief is granted, and if the Trust believes a claim is subject to a statute of limitations defense, that defense should be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.

IV. Claims Resolved in Prior Litigations.

Many movants have disclosed that they participated in prior lawsuits, and many previously received settlement payments. The Trust has argued that bar date issues need not be resolved as to these claims, because the prior litigation settlements are res judicata and bar the reassertion of the settled claims. As a general rule that is plainly correct. In cases where the diagnoses preceded the litigation settlements, therefore, we have sustained the Trust's objections as a matter of law.

However, some claimants have alleged that they suffered from additional diseases or conditions that arose after the prior litigation settlements, raising questions as to whether those claims also are barred. It is certainly possible that a litigation settlement extinguished all claims that a person might ever have – even as to conditions that had not yet manifested themselves. However, the terms of the prior settlements are not available to the Court and so the Court cannot make such a determination as a matter of law.

Accordingly, in cases where new diagnoses were made after the date of a litigation settlement but before the bar date, we have evaluated whether the movant has established grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. If such relief is granted, any defenses based on the effects of prior litigation settlements are then to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures. Similarly, if a litigation claimant alleges a new condition or diseases that first was diagnosed after the bar date, we have referred that claim to the Trust, and the merits of any defense (including defenses based on the prior litigations) are for resolution by the Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.

V. Due Process/Challenges to Publication Notices.

The confirmation of a company’s plan of reorganization extinguishes all debts and claims that arose prior to confirmation. See 11 U.S.C. § 1141(d)(1). The discharge “operates as an injunction against the commencement or continuation of an action, the employment of process, or an act, to collect, recover or offset” any such discharged debt. 11 U.S.C. § 524(a)2). The confirmation order that was entered in these cases in 2010 provided for a discharge of all claims against the Debtors and Reorganized Debtors (while channeling future tort claims to the Trust). However, a discharge may be challenged on due process grounds.<sup>1</sup> Any claimant who makes

---

<sup>1</sup> For the reasons discussed above, it is somewhat anomalous to discuss future tort claims in terms of “discharge” standards. The Trust exists to handle the tort claims that were discharged by the Plan. When claimants seek access to the Trust on the ground of improper notice, then, the real issue for this Court is not so much whether Tronox was discharged of liability, but whether the enforcement of the Bar Date as to those claimants would violate such a challenge bears the burden of proof. See Waterman S.S. Corp., 200 B.R. 770, 774-75 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1996).

The failure to provide a form of notice that complies with due process requirements is a ground for relief from a discharge. City of New York v. New York, N.H. & H.R. Co., 344 U.S. 293, 297 (1953) (“even creditors who have knowledge of a reorganization have a right to assume that the statutory ‘reasonable notice’ will be given to them before their claims are forever barred”). However, the type of notice that due process requires depends on whether creditors’ identities and claims are known or reasonably ascertainable by a debtor. Creditors whose identities and claims are known are entitled to be listed in a debtor’s schedules and are entitled to receive direct notice, by mail, of the bar date for filing claims. Id. However, it is true in most bankruptcy cases (and is often true in other types of in rem proceedings) that unknown persons may have claims.<sup>2</sup> This includes cases, like the Tronox case, that involve potential tort claims due to exposures to toxic substances. Direct notice cannot be given to claimants whose identities are not known, and so some substitute for direct notice must be used.

Notice to unknown claimants is governed by the decision of the United States Supreme Court in Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306 (1950). Mullane involved due process as a result of improper notice. In any event, the due process standards are the same no matter how the issue is phrased.

<sup>2</sup> In an in rem proceeding a court exercises jurisdiction over property, often for the purpose of resolving competing claims against the property. The Supreme Court has held that a bankruptcy case is a form of in rem proceeding. See, e.g., Tennessee Student Assistance Corp. v. Hood, 541 U.S. 440, 447-8 (2004) (holding that the power to grant a discharge of all claims derives from the bankruptcy court’s in rem jurisdiction over all of a debtor’s property); see also Central Va. Comm. College v. Katz, 546 U.S. 356, 362 (2005) (“Bankruptcy jurisdiction, at its core, is in rem”); Local Loan Co. v. Hunt, 292 U.S. 234, 241 (1934) (same); Gardner v. New Jersey, 329 U.S. 565, 574 (1947) (same); Hanover Nat’l Bank v. Moyses, 186 U.S. 181, 192 (1902) (same).

a dispute over the sufficiency of a publication notice given by a trustee who sought to settle claims against a common trust fund, some of whose beneficiaries were unknown. 339 U.S. at 309. The Supreme Court declared that “[a]n elementary and fundamental requirement of due process in any proceeding which is to be accorded finality is notice reasonably calculated, under all the circumstances, to apprise interested parties of the pendency of the action and afford them an opportunity to be heard.” Id. at 314. The Supreme Court recognized, however, that actual notice is not always possible. It therefore held that due process requires actual notice to known parties but that for unknown parties, reasonable publication notice is sufficient. Id. at 314-318.

The Supreme Court recognized, in Mullane, that publication notices often are not read and often do not actually come to the attention of all of the desired recipients:

It would be idle to pretend that publication alone as prescribed here, is a reliable means of acquainting interested parties of the fact that their rights are before the courts. It is not an accident that the greater number of cases reaching this Court on the question of adequacy of notice have been concerned with actions founded on process constructively served through local newspapers. Chance alone brings to the attention of even a local resident an advertisement in small type inserted in the back pages of a newspaper, and if he makes his home outside the area of the newspaper’s normal circulation the odds that the information will never reach him are large indeed. The chance of actual notice is further reduced when as here the notice required does not even name those whose attention it is supposed to attract, and does not inform acquaintances who might call it to attention. In weighing its sufficiency on the basis of equivalence with actual notice we are unable to regard this as more than a feint.

Id. at 315. Nevertheless, the Supreme Court held that such publication notice is the only option, and therefore is sufficient for due process purposes, where direct notice is not possible or practicable:

This Court has not hesitated to approve of resort to publication as a customary substitute in another class of cases where it is not reasonably possible or practicable to give more adequate warning. Thus it has been recognized that, in the case of persons missing or unknown, employment of an indirect and even a probably futile means of notification is all that the situation permits and creates no constitutional bar to a final decree foreclosing their rights.

Id. at 317. The Court noted that publication notice is particularly appropriate in cases involving claimants whose claims are disputed, merely possible, or dependent on future events:

Nor do we consider it unreasonable for the State to dispense with more certain notice to those beneficiaries whose interests are either conjectural or future or, although they could be discovered upon investigation, do not in due course of business come to knowledge of the common trustee. Whatever searches might be required in another situation under ordinary standards of diligence, in view of the character of the proceedings and the nature of the interests here involved we think them unnecessary. We recognize the practical difficulties and costs that would be attendant on frequent investigations into the status of great numbers of beneficiaries, many of whose interests in the common fund are so remote as to be ephemeral; and we have no doubt that such impracticable and extended searches are not required in the name of due process.

Id. at 317-18.

Mullane was not a bankruptcy case, but the Supreme Court held that the principles set forth in Mullane apply to “any proceeding which is to be accorded finality.” Mullane, 339 U.S. at 314. For decades, the Supreme Court and other courts have applied the Mullane decision to determine the sufficiency of notice in bankruptcy cases. See, e.g., United Student Aid Funds, Inc. v. Espinosa, 130 S. Ct. 1367, 1378 (2010) (applying Mullane to a dispute concerning an individual’s discharge under chapter 13 of the Bankruptcy Code); GAC Enterprises, Inc. v. Medaglia (In re Medaglia), 52 F.3d 451, 455 (2d Cir. 1995) (applying Mullane to a dispute concerning an individual’s discharge under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code); In re Drexel Burnham Lambert Group, Inc., 995 F.2d 1138, 1144 (2d Cir. 1993) (applying Mullane in a bankruptcy case to consider the sufficiency of notice to creditors of a proposed settlement); Curatola v. St. Vincent’s Catholic Medical Centers of N.Y., No. 07 Civ. 8257 (WHP), 2008 WL 1721471, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 10, 2008) (applying Mullane and holding that “publication notice is generally sufficient for ‘unknown’ creditors”); DePippo v. Kmart Corp., 335 B.R. 290, 296

(S.D.N.Y. 2005) (same). The Supreme Court has also applied Mullane in assessing the sufficiency of notice in state court probate actions, which (like bankruptcy cases) require the filing of claims and impose bars against any claims that are not filed by a deadline. See Tulsa Professional Collection Services, Inc. v. Pope, 485 U.S. 478, 490 (1988).

In addition, courts have regularly applied Mullane in determining whether publication notice is sufficient as to unknown tort claimants. See, e.g., In re Waterman S.S. Corp., 157 B.R. 220, 222 (S.D.N.Y. 1993); In re Chateaugay Corp., No. 86 B 11334 (BRL), 2009 WL 367490, at *5 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Jan. 14, 2009) (applying Mullane and related cases to determine that notice to unknown tort claimants was sufficient to bar their lawsuits); In re Best Prods. Co. Inc., 140 B.R. 353, 357-58 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1992) (same); see also Placid Oil Co. v. Williams (In re Placid Oil Co.), 463 B.R. 803, 815-17 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2012) (same); Charter Int'l Oil Co. v. Young (In re Charter Int'l Oil Co.), No. 06 AP 00179 (GLP), 2007 WL 879176, at *6 (Bankr. M.D. Fla. Mar. 14, 2007) (same).

In this case, many movants have complained that they should have received direct notice of the bar date by mail. However, a movant who is making such a complaint is required to show that Tronox knew of the movant's identity and claims. A few movants whose claims were resolved in prior class actions have argued that Tronox knew of their claims, but by definition the prior lawsuits resolved those claims, and none of those movants has shown that Tronox knew that the movants had additional claims that post-dated the prior litigations. No other movant who has complained about the lack of direct notice has even contended that Tronox actually knew of the movant's identity or claims. To the contrary: virtually all of those movants have alleged that they themselves were not aware that they had claims against Tronox. Requiring direct notice, by mail, to persons whose identities and claims are not known would be an impossible standard, and one that due process does not require. See Mullane, 339 U.S. at 314, 317 (stating that the Due Process Clause requires the best notice practicable under the circumstances and warning against requirements so inflexible as to render due process an “impractical or impossible or impractical obstacle[.]”); Drexel, 995 F.2d. at 1144 (“No rigid constitutionally mandated standard governs the contents of notice in a case like the one before us.”); see also Grannis v. Ordean, 234 U.S. 385, 395 (1914) (the Due Process Clause “does not impose an unattainable standard of accuracy”); In re A.H. Robins Co., 880 F.2d 709, 745 (4th Cir. 1989) (“Due process . . . ‘is a flexible concept,’ intended to ensure ‘fundamental fairness.’”) (quoting Walters v. Nat’l Ass’n of Radiation Survivors, 473 U.S. 305, 320 (1985)).

Other movants have argued that the Debtors should have canvassed the relevant communities to identify persons with relevant conditions or injuries and should have provided notice of the bar date directly to such persons. It is true as a general matter that direct notice is required if a creditor’s identity is “reasonably ascertainable,” which requires that a debtor use reasonable diligence to identify creditors. See Mennonite Bd. of Missions v. Adams, 462 U.S. 791, 798 n. 4 (1983)). To be reasonably diligent, however, a debtor’s efforts do not need to include “impracticable and extended searches . . . in the name of due process.” Mullane, 339 U.S. at 317-318). Accordingly, a debtor is not required to conduct a “vast, open-ended investigation.” Chemetron v. Jones, 72 F.3d 341, 346 (3d Cir. 1995). Rather, a creditor is generally treated as unknown if it cannot be identified through a search of the debtor’s own books and records. Id. at 347; see also Louisiana Dep’t of Environmental Quality v. Crystal Oil Co. (In re Crystal Oil Co.), 158 F.3d 291, 297 (5th Cir. 1998) (holding that “in order for a claim to be reasonably ascertainable, the debtor must have in his possession, at the very least, some specific information that reasonably suggests both the claim for which the debtor may be liable and the entity to whom he would be liable”); Pacificorp. and Vancott Bagley Cornwall & McCarthy v. W.R. Grace, No. 05-764 (SJB), 2006 WL 2375371, at *4 (D. Del. Aug. 16, 2006). The Debtors were not required, by due process, to canvass the community to unearth possible claimants. See In re Peabody Energy Corp., 579 B.R. 208, 216-17 (“[t]he Debtors were not required to conduct a search of the Tri-State Mining District to see who lives there and may have become ill”); Placid Oil Co., 753 F.3d 151, 156 (5th Cir. 2014) (“to conclude that a creditor is known, a court must determine that, at a minimum, a debtor has ‘specific information’ related to an actual injury suffered by the creditor”); In re Nat’l Steel Corp., 316 B.R. 510, 518 (Bankr. N.D. Ill. 2004) (“It is not the duty of the Debtors to make JFE or any of its creditors aware of every potential claim they may have against the Debtors. To the contrary, it was JFE’s responsibility to explore, investigate and file a proof of claim against the Debtors, not the other way around”); In re Brooks Fashion Stores, Inc., 124 B.R. 436, 445 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1991) (a debtor has no duty to search out each conceivable or possible creditor and urge that person or entity to make a claim against it).

Other movants have argued that they did not actually read the publication notices in this case and therefore should be treated as not having received notice at all. However, the bar date would effectively be nullified (and bankruptcy proceedings would be stymied) if publication notices were only given effect as to claimants who admit they read the notices. See, e.g., In re Best Prods. Co., Inc., 140 B.R. 353, 359 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1992) (if failure to read a published notice were sufficient by itself to warrant relief from the bar date then “notice of a bar date by publication would be rendered a useless means of establishing a date by which all claims must be filed or forever barred”). The Supreme Court has recognized that it is always true that publication notices may not actually be read. See Mullane, 339 U.S. at 617; City of New York v.

New York, N.H. & H.R. Co., 344 U.S. 293, 296 (1953) (observing that notice by publication “is a poor and sometimes a hopeless substitute for actual service of notice,” but that “when the names, interests and addresses of persons are unknown, plain necessity may cause a resort to publication.”) Nevertheless, bankruptcy proceedings, and many other legal proceedings, need a mechanism to provide finality as to the persons who are entitled to participate, and publication notices are given effect and are enforced even if claimants do not actually see them. See In re US Airways, No. 04-13819 (SSM), 2005 WL 3676186 at *8 (Bankr. E.D. Va. Nov. 21, 2005) (noting that allowing a late claim because a claimant had not read the notice would render notice of the bar date by publication “a useless means of establishing a date by which all claims must be filed” (quoting Best Prods, Inc., 140 B.R. at 159).); see also In re New Century TRS Holdings, Inc., No. 07-10416 (KJC), 2012 Bankr. LEXIS 6245 (Bankr. D. Del. May 17, 2012) (allowing a creditor to assert a claim because of not having read the publication notice would render the notice “a useless means of establishing a date by which all claims must be filed or forever barred” (quoting Best Prods. Co., Inc., 140 B.R. at 359).

Some movants have alleged generally that the publication notices in this case were too vague to enable claimants to know of their rights. However, no movant who has made these complaints has discussed the actual language of the published notices. The language was approved by Judge Gropper in 2009, and even with the benefit of hindsight I find the notices to be thorough and informative. An example (from the notice published in Columbus, Mississippi) is quoted above, and I have reviewed the notices published in other jurisdictions as well. The published notices included descriptions of Tronox’s connections to the Kerr-McGee companies, along with site-specific terms that described the types of substances that might have been released from particular plants and the types of injuries for which people needed to make claims.

Some other claimants have alleged that they no longer lived in the areas where the notices were published. Again, however, due process requires what is reasonable, not what is impossible. The possibility that claimants may not reside in the areas covered by the local newspapers is the reason why notice was also published in a newspaper with a national circulation (The Wall Street Journal). As the Supreme Court recognized in Mullane, there is of course no guarantee that claimants will receive such a publication or that they will read it even if they receive the newspaper. But it was the best that could be done and it satisfied due process under all applicable authorities. See Chemetron Corp. v. Jones, 72 F.3d 341, 348-59 (3d Cir.1995) (holding that publication in national newspaper is sufficient where supplemented by publication in local papers where debtor does business); Placid Oil Co., 753 F.3d at 155, 158 (publication in a national newspaper is sufficient); In re Best Prods. Co., 140 B.R. at 358 (“[i]t is impracticable, however, to expect a debtor to publish notice in every newspaper a possible unknown creditor may read”); In re Motors Liquidation Company, 576 B.R. 761, 776 (Bankr. S.D. N.Y. 2017) (publication notice in a number of global, national and local newspapers was constitutionally sufficient for unknown creditor).

A number of movants have argued that the notices that were published were insufficient because they did not name the individuals who had claims and the nature of the claims that those people owned. Again, however, due process did not require the impossible. The whole point of the published notices was that Tronox did not know who had claims, or what those claims might be. Not every person in an affected locality had diseases or conditions for which compensation might be sought. Furthermore, it is a simple fact of life that respiratory, pulmonary and other diseases or conditions affect persons throughout the country, and not every such disease or condition in a given area could reasonably be attributed to exposure to a Tronox product. More specific notice to each claimant of the nature of each claimant's own injuries and claims was not feasible and was not required by due process. See Castleman v. Liquidating Tr., No. 6:06-CV-1077 (LEK), 2007 WL 2492792 at *9 (N.D.N.Y. Aug. 28, 2007).

Finally, some movants have complained that they did not receive additional, direct notices and an opportunity to file Category D claims after the fraudulent transfer litigation was settled in 2015. These movants appear to believe that the underlying settlement of the fraudulent transfer litigation was similar to a settlement of a pending class action and that the movants were members of a class who were entitled, under class action rules, to notice of the settlement. That is not correct. The 2015 settlement occurred in a fraudulent transfer litigation. That litigation was a source of funding for the Trust, but it did not involve a settlement of claims owned by tort claimants. The persons who were entitled to be treated as Class D claimants consisted only of persons who had filed claims on or before the Bar Date in August 2009, and that limitation was approved and became final in 2010. The settlement of the Anadarko action did not reopen that issue and did not entitle any person to additional notice or to a renewed opportunity to file claims.

For the foregoing reasons I did not find merit in any of the alleged requests for relief from the Bar Date based on due process grounds.

VI. Excusable Neglect

Rule 3003(c)(2) states that a creditor who fails to file a proof of claim before the bar date "shall not be treated as a creditor with respect to such claim for the purpose of voting or distribution." Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3003(c)(2). However, Rule 9006 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure states that if an order of the court requires an action to be taken on or before a particular date, and if the action is not taken by the specified deadline, the court nevertheless may extend the deadline after the fact, and may permit the act to be done belatedly, “where the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect.” See Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9006(b)(1).

The leading decision on the criteria to be applied in considering an “excusable neglect” claim is the decision of the United States Supreme Court in Pioneer Inv. Servs. v. Brunswick Assocs, Ltd. P’ship, 507 U.S. 380 (1993). In Pioneer, an attorney filed a claim 20 days after the bar date. The attorney claimed that he had been experiencing “a major and significant disruption” in his life due to his withdrawal from his former law firm and that he was unaware of the bar date until after the date had passed. The Supreme Court held that the wording of the rule shows that relief may be available even if a deadline is missed due to neglect, and that the term “neglect” encompasses “both simple, thoughtless omissions to act and, more commonly, omissions caused by carelessness.” Id. at 388. The Supreme Court also held that the determination of whether neglect is excusable is “at bottom an equitable one, taking account of all relevant circumstances surrounding the party’s omission.” Id. at 395. The relevant factors include: (1) the danger of prejudice; (2) the length of the delay and its potential impact on proceedings; (3) the reason for the delay, including whether it was in the reasonable control of the movant; and (4) whether the movant acted in good faith. Id.

Applying these principles, the Supreme Court held in Pioneer that excusable neglect had been demonstrated. Id. at 397-99. The Supreme Court confirmed that parties are responsible for the conduct of their attorneys, and it held that clients cannot obtain relief from deadlines that their lawyers missed unless the lawyers’ own neglect was excusable. Id. at 397. The Court also gave “little weight” to the fact that counsel was allegedly experiencing upheaval in his law practice. Id. at 398. However, since the bar date notice had been set forth in a notice of a creditor meeting, without any indication in the title of the notice that it also included information about a bar date, the Supreme Court held that counsel's admitted lack of actual knowledge of the bar date, coupled with a lack of prejudice and a demonstration of good faith, constituted excusable neglect. Id. at 398-99.

The Second Circuit Court of Appeals has taken "a hard line" in applying the Pioneer factors. See Silivanch v. Celebrity Cruises, Inc., 333 F.3d 355, 368 (2d Cir. 2003). In Silivanch, the Second Circuit applied the Pioneer factors in determining whether an untimely filing of an appeal was due to excusable neglect. The Court held in Silivanch that if a deadline is clear and understood, but is missed anyway, "we continue to expect that a party claiming excusable neglect will, in the ordinary course, lose under the Pioneer test," even if other factors favor the movant. Id. at 366-67. The Silivanch rule has been affirmed in subsequent decisions. See Williams v. KFC Nat'l Mgmt. Co., 391 F.3d 411, 415-16 (2d Cir. 2004); Midland Cogeneration Venture L. P. (In re Enron Corp.), 419 F.3d 115, 122 (2d Cir. 2005).

The burden of proving "excusable neglect" rests with the party who seeks relief. See Midland Cogeneration Venture L.P. v. Enron Corp. (In re Enron Corp.), 419 F.3d 115, 121 (2d Cir. 2005); Jones v. Chemetron Corp., 212 F.3d 199, 205 (3d Cir. 2000); In re Andover Togs, Inc., 231 B.R. 521, 549 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1999). Applying the foregoing criteria, as interpreted in Silivanch, demonstrates that most of the pending motions do not qualify for relief on grounds of excusable neglect.

A. Danger of Prejudice

When the Plan was confirmed the parties believed that it was unlikely that there would be a large number of future tort claims. As a result, only a relatively small amount of money was set aside for such claims. Other categories were strictly limited to the payment of claims that were timely filed. The Plan (and the Tort Trust documents) did not make any explicit provision for late-filed claims that might be permitted on grounds of excusable neglect. After hearing evidence in 2016, however, the Court held that claimants who can establish “excusable neglect” are to be entitled to treatment as “future” or “unaccounted for” tort claims in Category A. However, a claimant still must show “excusable neglect” under the applicable standards in order to be entitled to this treatment.

In this particular case, the only funds that remain for distribution to persons injured by creosote exposures are the limited funds that were set aside for Category A claimants, which include persons injured from asbestos exposures and persons whose creosote-related injuries did not manifest themselves until after the bar date. Each “excusable neglect” claim that is allowed, on behalf of a claimant whose injuries were manifested in 2009 or in many cases much earlier, would further reduce the already low recoveries that can be expected by those persons whose illnesses had not even appeared until after 2009, and who therefore had no opportunity to file a claim before the Bar Date. I am greatly sympathetic for the plight of ordinary persons who may not be well-versed in legal proceedings and who may not actually have known of the 2009 Bar Date, but I must also be mindful of the fact that an overly-generous allowance of “excusable neglect” claims would virtually destroy any chance for meaningful recoveries by those persons who had no prior opportunity to make claims.

It is well-settled that if the allowance of late-filed claims on the grounds of excusable neglect would “open the floodgates” to a large number of new claims, and if those additional claims would have a large impact on the recoveries of other creditors, then permitting the late-filed claims would be a form of prejudice that weighs against a finding of “excusable neglect.” See Black v. Diamond, 163 Fed. App’x 58, 60-61 (2d Cir. 2006) (holding that reductions in other claimants’ recoveries is a form of prejudice that is relevant under the Pioneer factors); Midland

Cogeneration Venture L.P. v. Enron Corp (In re Enron Corp.), 419 F.3d 115, 130, 132 (2d Cir. 2005) (hereafter cited as “Enron”) (holding that a “dollar-for-dollar depletion of assets” is not automatically enough but that the size of the late-filed claim or claims “cannot be irrelevant to the analysis,” and approving a finding of prejudice where the lower court had found that allowing late-filed claims could lead to a “mountain” of such claims); Meadows v AMR Corp., 539 BR 246, 252 (S.D.N.Y. 2015) (“allowing late-filed amendments years after the confirmation of the debtors' reorganization plan would create a serious risk of opening the floodgates to other potential late claims”).

It is plain here that we face a “mountain” of potential additional claims, and that is true regardless of whether one focuses on the 38,000 “future” tort claims or the 4,700 claims as to which “excusable neglect” motions have so far been filed. Allowing vast numbers of additional Category A claims would have a severe effect on the distribution fund and on other claimants. Accordingly, the “prejudice” factor weighs strongly against the movants who seek permission to file late claims.

B. Length of the Delay/Effect on Proceedings

Virtually all (if not all) of the late-filed claims that are the subjects of the motions that are presently pending before the Court were filed in late 2015 or later.<sup>3</sup> They therefore were filed more than six years after the bar date. In some Circuits a delay of that magnitude might be disqualifying by itself. See, e.g., In re O'Brien Env'tl. Energy, Inc., 188 F.3d 116, 130 (3d Cir. 1999) (holding that in applying the Pioneer factors the length of a delay should be evaluated “in absolute terms”); In re Energy Future Holdings Corp., 619 B.R. 99, 113 (Bankr. D. Del. 2020)

---

<sup>3</sup> In its Omnibus Objection the Trust argued that the earliest claim filed by any of the movants was filed in 2014, but the earliest claim filing identified in the information provided to the Court was on November 13, 2015.

(same). In this Circuit, however, the determination of whether to grant relief on grounds of “excusable neglect” is an equitable decision in which all of the relevant factors need to be considered together. Accordingly, “the lateness of a claim must be considered in the context of the proceeding as a whole” and also based on the excuse that is offered for the delay. Enron, 419 F.3d at 128-130. No bright-line rule exists, therefore, under which a certain amount of delay will automatically disqualify a late-filed claim without consideration of other factors. Id.

Notwithstanding the absence of a bright-line rule, it is still the case in this Circuit that a “presumption of prejudice is particularly appropriate where . . . the plaintiff’s delay was prolonged.” Shannon v. Gen. Elec. Co., 186 F.3d 186, 195 (2d Cir. 1999); Williams v. City of New York, 771 Fed. Appx. 94, 95 (2d Cir. 2019). In this case, timely-filed claims were resolved years ago. The overwhelming majority of the pending late-filed claims were filed only after distributions were made in 2015 with regard to the timely-filed claims. We will not apply a bright-line rule, but we must note that we do not know, offhand, of any case in which significant numbers of late-filed claims have been permitted on grounds of “excusable neglect” after delays of the length that are at issue in this case.

The late-filed claims plainly are having an enormous impact on these proceedings, and if the lateness is excused they will have further adverse impacts. As explained above, the allowance of large numbers of late-filed claims in this case would drive down the recoveries of other Category A claimants and therefore would be prejudicial to those other claimants. The processing of late-filed claims also imposes huge administrative expenses, and additional litigation expenses would have to be incurred to evaluate and resolve the merits of the late-filed claims. In addition, pro rata distributions to Category A claimants cannot be made until the universe of participating claims is known, so that the time involved in resolving the merits of the late-filed claims inevitably would delay distributions to those claimants who have acted with more diligence in the pursuit and protection of their legal rights. These long delays and high costs weigh strongly against the movants' requests for permission to file late claims.

C. Good Faith

For the most part the good faith of claimants has not been challenged. However, we have received many letters from claimants in Columbus, Mississippi who contend that some claimants in Mississippi have filed fraudulent claims.

The sheer number of the filed claims from the Columbus area is striking. The evidence submitted during the trial in the Anadarko Litigation before Judge Gropper confirmed that Columbus, Mississippi had accounted for 6,451 creosote-related litigation claims in 1999 and another 5,100 creosote-related litigation claims in 2002. See Direct Examination of Denise Neumann Martin, Adv. Pro. No. 09-01198 [ECF No. 421] (the "Martin Report"), Exhibit 2. Another 2,100 claims from Columbus were allowed as Category D claims during the Tronox case, raising the total to approximately 13,600. Columbus-area residents also accounted for about 10,000 of the first 19,000 of the future tort claims that were filed. See Oct. 25, 2016 Hr'g Tr. at 29:7-9. This means that more than 27,600 claims have come from the Columbus area, without even counting the Columbus-based claims that likely are included in the last 19,000 future claims that have been filed. The 2010 census showed that Columbus had a total population of only 23,640, and that Lowndes County (in which Columbus is located) had a total population of 59,779. See U.S. Dep't. of Commerce, Bureau of Census, Mississippi: 2010 Population and Housing Unit Counts (August 2012) (Table 9 at pdf p. 60 of 87) & (Table 4 pdf p. 32 of 87). That means that creosote-based litigation claims from the Columbus, Mississippi area have been filed in numbers that exceed the entire population of the city, and that represent almost half of the entire population of the county. Granted, some claimants are former (not current) residents of Columbus, but the numbers still are astonishing.

Some of the letters and other papers filed with the Court have suggested that the collection and filing of claims and motions became a cottage industry in Columbus. Individuals or groups apparently contacted potential claimants and offered to make the necessary claim and motion filings in return for the payment of set fees. The Trust complained at one point that an individual had represented himself as a representative of the Trust and had solicited claims in exchange for the payment of a processing fee. We have noted that a large number of the pending motions use the same language, including pre-printed and cut-and-pasted explanations of why the bar date was missed. Many even repeat the same typographical or grammatical errors, suggesting that motions are being copied or mass-produced. The Court does not know who is engaging in these activities, whether attorneys are involved, or what representations have been made to claimants about what the likely outcomes might be. However, the potential for abuse is obvious.

While these are matters of concern, I have no evidence before me showing (or suggesting) fraud on behalf of any specific claimant or movant. The Tort Claims Trust has not challenged the good faith of any movant, and none of the generalized allegations that have been set forth in the thousands of letters and motions that the Court has received has identified any particular claimant who allegedly has proceeded fraudulently. I will presume, then, for purposes of these rulings that each motion has been filed in good faith, though “good faith” by itself is not sufficient to entitle a movant to relief. Silivanch v Celebrity Cruises, Inc., 333 F.3d at 366 (“rarely in the decided cases is the absence of good faith at issue”); In re Motors Liquidation Co.,

No. 09-50026 (MG), 2020 WL 4589667, at *14 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Aug. 11, 2020) (“the presence of good faith is almost never a determinative factor in the Pioneer analysis”).

D. Reasons for Delay/Reasonable Control of Movants.

As explained above, claims that are based on diseases or conditions that were not diagnosed until after the bar date constitute “future” tort claims under the Plan and the Trust. The claims (and motions) to which “excusable neglect” and “due process” arguments are relevant are claims based on conditions or illnesses that were diagnosed before the bar date.

The motions before the Court all involve claims that were filed in late 2014 or thereafter. They all involve claims, then, that were filed more than five years after the bar date, and some as long as eight years after the bar date. Given the long delays, the prejudice to other claimants, and the effects that the allowance of late claims would have on the process, movants bear a particularly strong burden of showing reasons for their delays. The Court has reviewed each motion individually to determine if, after all factors have been considered, the movant has demonstrated that relief based on excusable neglect should be granted. The Court’s rulings on each individual motion are set forth in summary form in the Tables that are submitted with this Decision, but the following paragraphs provide a more detailed explanation of the Court’s rulings as to many of the excuses that have been offered.

1. Lack of Knowledge/Failures to Investigate. Nearly all of the movants contend that they did not actually know of the bar date or of the Tronox bankruptcy process. Most of them also allege that they did not know that their diseases or conditions had been caused by exposure to Tronox products. However, all of the underlying diagnoses that are relevant to the “excusable neglect” motions predated the Bar Date, often by many years. Furthermore, more than six years passed after the Bar Date before the late claims were filed. But not a single one of the pending motions has identified any efforts that the movant made (either before or after the Bar Date) to investigate the causes of the movant's illnesses or conditions, or to pursue the movant's potential legal rights.

Before the Pioneer decision, many courts had held that "excusable neglect" could not be demonstrated where a party's delay was attributable to its own lack of diligence in investigating and pursuing the party's rights. See, e.g., In re Davis, 936 F.2d 771, 774 (4th Cir. 1991) (holding that "excusable neglect" required proof of circumstances beyond the party's control and that a delay due to lack of diligence was not sufficient). The Supreme Court discarded such absolute rules in Pioneer and required courts to conduct a more general consideration of the equities before ruling whether "excusable neglect" has been established. Nevertheless, the Supreme Court confirmed that the reason for a claimant's delay, and whether that delay was in the reasonable control of the movant, continues to be a relevant factor, and the Court of Appeals for this Circuit has identified this as the factor that is usually the most important consideration in evaluating a request for relief. Enron, 419 F.3d at 123; Pioneer, 507 U.S. at 396.

Courts generally have held that a mere lack of actual knowledge is not sufficient to show that a delay was reasonable or that the delay was not within the movant's control. PacifiCorp v. W. R. Grace & Co., No. 05-764, 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 57470 at *49 (D. Del. Aug. 16, 2006) (confirming that ignorance of a claim does not by itself suffice to show excusable neglect); Jones v. Chemetron Corp., 212 F.3d at 205 (same); In re Motors Liquidation Co., 598 B.R. 744, 757 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2019) (same); In re New Century TRS Holdings, Inc., No. 07-10416, 2014 Bankr. LEXIS 827 at *27-28 (Bankr. D. Del. Mar. 4, 2014) (same); In re Best Prods. Co., Inc., 140 B.R. at 359 ("even ignorance of one's own claims does not constitute excusable neglect"). In particular, whether movants' lack of "actual knowledge" of their injuries or their legal options was within the movants' own control depends on the amount of information that was readily available to persons who chose to investigate such matters.

In Jones v. Chemetron Corp., 212 F.3d 199, for example, the Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit considered “excusable neglect” arguments made by claimants who alleged that they incurred injuries from exposure to radioactive and other toxic substances that Chemetron had deposited at a waste site. The claims were filed four years after the bar date and two years after the confirmation of the plan of reorganization. The claimants argued that they “had no way of knowing that they had a claim against Chemetron prior to the 1988 bar date” and therefore that the delay in the filing of their claims “was beyond their control.” Id. at 205. The Court of Appeals rejected these contentions:

We conclude that the determinations of the bankruptcy court that contamination generally was known in the community in the early 1980's, and that some residents publicly expressed concern about the health effects of these toxins in press accounts and at public meetings, are supported by the record. Moreover . . . the record supports the court's observation that the plaintiffs introduced no evidence to show what measures they took to specifically investigate the cause of their medical problems. . . .

Accordingly, the bankruptcy court committed no abuse of its discretion in holding that the plaintiffs have failed to sustain their burden of proving excusable neglect. The prejudice to the “fresh start” to which Chemetron was entitled as a result of the Chapter 11 reorganization, the delay of four years after the bar date and two years after the confirmation date before the plaintiffs brought their claim, and their failure to specifically investigate the cause of their illnesses, even though the danger from the Bert Avenue dump generally was known in the community, combine to defeat their request that they be permitted to file late claims.

Id.

Similarly, in In re Peabody Energy Corporation, 579 B.R. 208, 218 (Bankr. E.D. Mo. 2017), the court rejected “excusable neglect” claims by persons who claimed they had been injured by substances released by non-debtor companies and who further claimed that they did not know that the Debtors had indemnification obligations that covered their claims. The court noted that the claimants “knew or certainly could have found out through investigation” that certain non-debtor companies were responsible for the relevant contamination and then could have “further pursued their claims by conducting additional investigations to see the relationship between Peabody Energy Corporation and Gold Fields, which is a matter of public record.” Id. at 219-20.

The court in Peabody went pretty far in holding claimants responsible for their own failures to make inquiries, given the fact that the debtor in that case was not the party who had caused the underlying contamination. In the Tronox case, however (as in Chemetron), there was a wealth of publicly available information about creosote contaminations, the injuries that were caused by creosote exposures, and the legal options available to injured persons.

Submitted as Exhibit A to this Decision is a summary of some of the publicly available information about creosote exposures, lawsuits and governmental actions in Columbus, Mississippi, and the Court takes judicial notice of the existence of these reports and litigations. Well more than 10,000 litigation claims were filed by Columbus-area residents and the progress of those claims was regularly reported in the local newspaper. A prominent local church sued Kerr-McGee because of creosote exposures. The federal government also investigated the Columbus site and issued bulletins and notices advising residents of the potential effects of creosote exposure. Public meetings were conducted to explain such matters as well. Many local attorneys were actively involved in creosote-related litigation, and thousands of local residents participated in such litigations and received settlement payments. In short, the risks of creosote exposures, Kerr-McGee’s and Tronox’s roles in such exposures, and the available litigation options plainly were widely known. The affidavits of service on file with the Court also show that the local attorneys who had filed creosote-based lawsuits, and the claimants in pending creosote claims, were notified directly of the bankruptcy process and of the bar date.

Some movants from the Columbus area have alleged that groups within the city somehow conspired to keep information to themselves and not to share it with others. This contention is impossible to reconcile with the widespread public reporting that occurred and the widespread participation of the Columbus populace in prior litigations. I will accept the representations by individual movants that they personally were not actually aware of this activity. However, it is plain that even the smallest inquiry into the potential causes of their injuries or conditions certainly would have alerted them to the potential connection between their conditions and creosote exposures, and that even modest inquiries about legal remedies would have disclosed the many claims that had been made against Kerr-McGee and Tronox as well as the bankruptcy filing and the bankruptcy process.

Attached as Exhibits B and C are similar summaries of publicly available information regarding creosote exposures and controversies in Hattiesburg, Mississippi and Avoca, Pennsylvania, which are other jurisdictions from which large numbers of motions have been received. As in the case of Columbus, Mississippi, the local press for Hattiesburg and Avoca reported widely on the risks of creosote exposures, and very large numbers of local residents participated in lawsuits that themselves were widely reported. Again, I accept movants' statements that they did not actually know of these matters. However, any inquiry or investigation at all into the possible causes of a movants' injuries and medical conditions, and possible remedies therefor, would have identified the risks of creosote exposures, the many litigation claims that had already been filed against Kerry McGee and Tronox, and the existence of the bankruptcy case and the bankruptcy claims process.

In this case, movants may have elected not to investigate the possible causes of their injuries, or may have elected not to investigate potential legal claims they might have, but those were decisions that were within movants' control. A movant's lack of actual knowledge of the bar date, or of the causes of the movant's injuries, or of the movant's potential claims, is a relevant factor, but it is not enough, by itself, to show that a movant's delays were beyond the movant's reasonable control. See Chemetron, 212 F.2d at 205; Peabody Energy, 579 at 219-220; see also In re Gordian Med., Inc., 499 B.R. 793, 798 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2013) (IRS sought permission to file late claim, alleging it did not know that the debtor was a successor in interest to another company, finding that the delay "was in the reasonable control" of the IRS because with reasonable diligence it could have easily discovered the link between the two companies); US Airways, No. 04-13819, 2005 WL 3676186 at *8 (Bankr. E.D. Va. Nov. 21, 2005) ("the court is unable to find that failure to keep up with the news is a reasonable excuse for the lengthy delay in seeking to file a claim in this case.") I sympathize with movants who were surprised to learn that the bankruptcy claims process had produced such large recoveries. However, given the widespread availability of information, and the prejudice to other claimants and the long delays and costs that late-filed claims will pose, something more than a mere actual lack of knowledge is required to justify relief on grounds of excusable neglect. I conclude that under the governing case law and the circumstances of this case, given the very long delays and the prejudice to other claimants that would result from the allowance of large numbers of late-filed claims, that movants should be required to demonstrate not merely that they lacked an actual awareness of the process but also that it was not reasonably within their control to identify and to pursue their claims. In all but a very few cases the movants have failed to do so.

2. Failure to Act Promptly after Discovery. A party who misses a deadline, and who wishes relief based on equitable considerations, must act promptly to take the action that should have been taken earlier. See, e.g., In re AMR Corp., 492 B.R. 660, 667 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2013), (holding that a three-month delay was an unreasonable delay in applying the Pioneer factors); Board v. AMF Bowling Worldwide, Inc. (In re AMF Bowling Worldwide, Inc.), 520 B.R. 185, 196–97 (Bankr. E.D. Va. 2014), aff'd, 533 B.R. 144 (E.D. Va 2015) (unknown creditor receiving notice of the administrative claim bar date by publication failed to demonstrate excusable neglect where creditor waited more than a year before commencing lawsuit against debtor in state court alleging post-petition personal injury claim, and only filed a motion for enlargement in bankruptcy case at state court judge’s direction, six months after she received actual notice of the bankruptcy); Toscano v. RSH Liquidating Trust (In re RS Legacy Corp.), 577 B.R. 134, 142 (Bankr. D. Del. 2017) (refusing to find excusable neglect where creditor with actual notice of the bar date first learned about her potential claim after the bar date but waited an additional eleven months before asserting a claim); Seven Oaks Partners, LP v. Licata (In re Seven Oaks Partners, LP), 749 Fed. Appx. 67, 69 (2d Cir. 2019) (summary order) (once creditor had knowledge of bankruptcy and of allegedly incorrect listing it was creditor’s obligation to file a claim); In re Majestic Holdco, LLC, No. 09-14142 (KG), 2013 Bankr. LEXIS 657, at *1 (Bankr. D. Del. Feb. 21, 2013) (five-month delay after learned of error barred relief); State Dep’t of Env’tl. Prot. v. W.R. Grace & Co. (In re W.R. Grace & Co.), No. 01-1139 (JKF), 2008 WL 687357, at *4 (D. Del. Mar. 11, 2008) (4-year delay).

The pending motions for the most part explain only the reasons why a movant did not file a proof of claim before the Bar Date in 2009. As noted above, with very few exceptions the motions fail to identify any effort by the movants to investigate or to pursue claims based on injuries once they became known. As explained in the attached summary of reasons for the disposition of each separate motion, many of the motions identify particular dates or times at which the movants learned of the prior Bar Date, only to confirm that the movants then failed to act with sufficient promptness in then making a claim and seeking relief from the Bar Date.

3. Movants who Participated in Prior Proceedings. A large number of movants have contended that they were unaware that they had claims against Tronox and unaware that creosote was connected to their illnesses or conditions, while at the same time acknowledging that they had previously filed their own litigation claims against Tronox based on injuries caused by creosote exposures or that they had been members of class actions in which such claims were made. Any movant who was a litigant or a class member had good reason to know both of the connections between creosote exposures and various injuries and of the possible liabilities of Tronox, and has a particularly high burden of explaining why the movant took no action to pursue claims before the Bar Date. As indicated in the rulings set forth in Tables A and B, most if not all of those movants have failed to do so.

4. Mistakes as to Legal Rights. Some movants have contended (without elaboration) that they did not understand the terms of bar date notices and did not know that the notices applied to their claims. Courts have consistently held, however, that such mistakes of law do not constitute “excusable neglect.” See, e.g., In re Manhattan Jeep Chrysler Dodge, Inc., 599 B.R. 247, 253 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2019) (mistaken legal judgment as to whether bar date order applied was not “excusable neglect”); In re Motors Liquidation Co., 576 B.R. 761, 778-79 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2017) (holding that a claimant who did not file a claim because he believed his claim had not accrued made a mistake of law that did not constitute excusable neglect); Canfield v. Van Atta Buick/GMC Truck Inc., 127 F.3d 248, 250 (2d Cir. 1997) (holding that, as a general matter, a mistake of law does not constitute excusable neglect.) In addition, the movants who have raised this issue have failed to explain why they were confused by the bar date notices or how they could have interpreted the bar date notices as not covering their claims. Finally, the movants who have contended that they made such mistakes have not shown that their mistakes should be excused given the long delays in pursuing the movants' claims and the prejudice that late-filed claims will have on other claimants and on the claims process in general.

5. Mistakes by Counsel. A very large number of movants have claimed that attorneys lost their claim files or failed to take proper actions to protect the movants' interests. However, in Pioneer the Supreme Court rejected the contention that a party should not be held responsible for the excusable neglect of its counsel. Pioneer, 507 U.S. at 397. Parties generally are responsible for the actions of their attorneys, even when the attorneys act negligently. See United States v. Malachowski, 623 Fed. Appx. 555, 557 (2d Cir. 2015) (summary order) (late filing not excused by mistakes that counsel made); Latshaw v. Trainer Wortham & Co., Inc., 452 F.3d 1097, 1101 (9th Cir. 2006) (“[P]arties should be bound by and accountable for the deliberate actions of themselves and their chosen counsel. This includes not only an innocent, albeit careless or negligent, attorney mistake, but also intentional attorney misconduct.”); U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Comm’n v. eFloorTrade, LLC, No. 16 Civ. 7544 (PGG), 2020 WL 2216660, at *4 n.5 (S.D.N.Y. 2020) (rejecting argument that stipulation entered into as a result of poor legal advice should be set aside); Mason Tenders Dist. Council Welfare Fund v. LJC Dismantling Corp., 400 F. Supp. 3d 7, 16 (S.D.N.Y. 2019) (“Litigants are generally bound by the professional conduct of the attorneys they choose to represent them, although the conduct of counsel may give rise to a claim for malpractice by the client.”) (internal citations omitted); Brooks v. Kmart Corp. (In re Kmart Corp.), 315 B.R. 718, 723 (N.D. Ill. 2004) (where “the responsibility for delay is that of claimant's counsel, that responsibility must be attributed to the claimant . . ."). As the Supreme Court held in Link v. Wabash R. Co., 82 S.Ct. 1386, 1390, 370 U.S. 626, 633–34 & n.10 (1962):

Petitioner voluntarily chose this attorney as his representative in the action, and he cannot now avoid the consequences of the acts or omissions of this freely selected agent. Any other notion would be wholly inconsistent with our system of representative litigation, in which each party is deemed bound by the acts of his lawyer-agent and is considered to have 'notice of all facts, notice of which can be charged upon the attorney.' . . . [I]f an attorney's conduct falls substantially below what is reasonable under the circumstances, the client's remedy is against the attorney in a suit for malpractice. But keeping this suit alive merely because plaintiff should not be penalized for the omissions of his own attorney would be visiting the sins of plaintiff's lawyer upon the defendant.

Accordingly, errors by counsel do not constitute grounds for "excusable neglect" relief unless counsel's own failings should be excused. See Pioneer, 507 U.S. at 397 (holding that clients are bound by counsel's mistakes and permitting relief only if counsel can show that counsel's own mistakes were based on excusable neglect). Relief based on errors by counsel is particularly inappropriate where counsel has made a mistake in reviewing a bar date notice or in otherwise complying with a procedural requirement. Id. 392 ("inadvertence, ignorance of the rules, or mistakes construing the rules do not usually constitute 'excusable neglect'"); Silivanch v. Celebrity Cruises, Inc., 333 F.3d at 36 (holding that "the equities will rarely if ever" favor a party who fails to follow a clear court rule and that a party seeking relief on grounds of excusable neglect in such a case ordinarily should lose under the Pioneer standard).

The movants who have pointed fingers at their attorneys have not offered any explanations or excuses for their attorneys' mistakes. The motions do not seek to excuse the attorneys' mistakes, but instead just ask the Court to relieve the clients from the effects of those mistakes. Those are not proper requests for relief based on "excusable neglect."

A large number of motions have also contended that the movants retained William Bambach as counsel and that Mr. Bambach passed away without filing their claims. However, public records show that Mr. Bambach died in 2013. His death in 2013 does not explain a failure to file a claim before the Bar Date in 2009.

6. Bad Decisions that were Consciously Made. Some movants have acknowledged that they were aware of the Bar Date but that they did not expect the bankruptcy case would lead to significant recoveries, and so they decided to wait to see if a better opportunity to make claims might present itself. The honesty of these movants is commendable, but their explanations do not warrant relief based on excusable neglect. See In re Mother Hubbard, Inc., 152 B.R. 189, 193-94 (Bankr. W.D. Mich. 1993) (“Although [the creditor] may have made a bad decision in failing to timely file his claim, making such a conscious decision is not ‘excusable.’ Indeed [the creditor’s] decision is not ‘neglect’ -- it was a voluntary omission within his sole control.”).

7. Allegedly Short Notices and Busy Schedules. Many movants have argued that there was too little time between the date when notices were published and the Bar Date itself. Other movants have argued (without elaboration) that they were otherwise busy or distracted by other personal circumstances in August 2009 and should be excused from the consequences of their failures to file claims. As a general rule, “excusable neglect” requires something more than a simple failure to meet the deadline due to a busy schedule.” United States v. Dumas, 94 F.3d 286, 289 (7th Cir. 1996), cert. denied, 117 S. Ct. 1109 (1997); Milligan v. Tupperware Worldwide, 159 F.3d 1347 at *2 (2d Cir. Mar. 13, 1998) (summary order). More importantly, however, all of the claims that are the subject of the pending motions were filed in 2015 or later – at least six years after the Bar Date. Even if personal circumstances, or the length of time between the publication notice and the original bar date, might have explained a failure to file by August 2009, those excuses do not explain or justify the long delays after the bar date before claims were filed.

8. Complaints about Notices to Counsel of Record. Some movants have complained that notices were sent to counsel of record. However, that practice was followed only where Tronox did not have the addresses of the individual litigants. Sending notices to counsel in such situations is the only practical alternative and is sufficient. See Robbins v. Amoco Prod. Co., 952 F.2d 901, 908 (5th Cir. 1992); In re Northwest Airlines Corp., No. 05-17930 (ALG), 2007 WL 2815917 at *4 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2007); In re Solutia, Inc., Case No. 03-17949, Order Setting a Final Date to File Proof of Claim and Related Notice Procedures, dated Sept. 30, 2004 (ECF No. 1475, at 6 ¶ 10) (authorizing notice by mail to counsel of record for litigation claimants where personal information not available).

9. Alleged Failures to receive mailed notices. Mail properly addressed, stamped and deposited in the mail system is presumed to have been received by the party to whom it has been addressed. Hagner v. United States, 285 U.S. 427, 430 (1932) (“The rule is well settled that proof that a letter properly directed was placed in a post office creates a presumption that it reached its destination in usual time and was actually received by the person to whom it was addressed.”) No movant has offered evidence sufficient to overcome this presumption.

10. Complaints about Instructions Regarding Future Tort Claims. Many movants have complained that they allegedly were misled, or confused, when they filed future tort claims many years after the Bar Date. However, movants’ complaints about their later communications with the Trust do not explain the movants’ failures to file timely claims in 2009.

11. Complaints that Additional Claims Were Not Solicited after the Anadarko

Settlement. As noted above, many movants appear to be under the mistaken belief that the settlement of the Anadarko Litigation was a settlement of a class action in which they were class members, and as to which they should have been given the chance to submit class action claim forms in 2015. However, the Anadarko Litigation was not a class action, and the tort claimants' own claims were not at issue and were not resolved in the Anadarko Litigation. Instead, the Anadarko Litigation involved claims that were owned by the Tronox debtors under the Bankruptcy Code. The proceeds of the Anadarko Litigation were used (in part) to fund payments to tort claimants who were creditors in the bankruptcy case, but the deadline for the filing of claims in the bankruptcy case was in 2009, not in 2015.

VII. Special Situations.

A number of motions raised issues that require consideration of additional statutes and rules in considering whether relief from the bar date should be granted.

A. Infants and Incompetent Persons.

A number of motions have argued that claimants are entitled to relief from the bar date on the ground that the claimants were minors or were incompetent at the time of the bar date. These allegations potentially raise issues not only under Rule 9006 but also under Rule 3002(c)(2) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, which is incorporated into Rule 3003(c)(3). Rule 3002(c)(2) states that “[i]n the interest of justice and if it will not unduly delay the administration of the case, the court may extend the time for filing a proof of claim by an infant or incompetent person or the representative of either.” Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3002(c)(2).

None of the motions identified Rule 3002(c)(2) as a ground for relief. However, neither the Court nor the Trustee identified Rule 3002(c)(2) as a possible ground for relief when the Trustee sought instructions in 2016. The failure to refer to Rule 3002(c)(2) in 2016 was an oversight rather than an intentional omission, and the Court has the power to invoke Rule 3002(c)(2) on its own initiative. See 9 COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 3002.03[3] (16th 2020). Most movants in this case have acted without counsel, and if a movant has identified infancy or incompetence as a ground for relief from the bar date, it is appropriate and fair for the Court to apply all of the rules that are relevant to those circumstances in deciding whether the movants are entitled to relief. Accordingly, the Court will apply Rule 3002(c)(2), as well as Rule 9006, in evaluating those motions that seek relief based on the movant’s age or competency at the time of the bar date.

Unfortunately, neither the Bankruptcy Code nor the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure defines the terms “infant” or “incompetent.” In popular usage the word “infant” usually refers to a young child or baby. See, e.g., Collins English Dictionary, <https://www.collinsdictionary.com/us/dictionary/english/infant> (last visited November 9, 2020) (“[a]n infant is a baby or very young child”). In some legal contexts the word “infant” similarly is limited to persons of very young age. See, e.g., 42 U.S.C. § 1786 (defining “infant” as a person under one year of age for purposes of the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program). Legal dictionaries, however, more commonly equate the term “infant” with the term “minor,” meaning anyone who has not reached the age of adulthood (which usually ranges from 18 to 21 years old). See Black’s Law Dictionary (11th ed. 2019) (defining “infant” as a “person under the age of twenty-one years,” although by statute in some jurisdictions the age may be lower); Ballentine’s Law Dictionary, 3d ed. (noting that in “ordinary usage” an infant is “a child of tender and helpless age,” but that in law an infant is “a person who has not reached the age of majority, usually 21 years, at which the law recognizes a general contractual capacity”); 42 Am.

Jur. 2d Infants § 1 (noting that in ordinary usage an infant is a “child of a tender and helpless age” but that in law the word has “a technical meaning different” from its meaning in common speech, and refers to a person “who has not arrived at majority as fixed by law . . .”).

On its face, Rule 3002(c)(2) is meant to address claims by persons who do not legally have the capacity to represent their own interests. In this particular context, I believe it makes most sense to interpret the word “infant” in Rule 3002(c)(2) as referring to a person who is a “minor” under applicable law.

A “competent” person means someone who is legally qualified by age, mental and physical capacity to perform a relevant act. See Ballentine’s Law Dictionary, 3d ed. (defining a “competent” person as a “capable person; a person legally qualified by age and mental capacity.”) One of the few reported decisions that has addressed a claim of “incompetency” under Rule 3002(c)(2) has held that courts should look to applicable state law to determine a person’s legal competency. See In re Toriello, No. 08-18063 (DHS), 2010 WL 3943737 at *4 (Bankr. D. N.J. Oct. 5, 2010). There are potential problems with this approach, however. A person’s “competency” under state law may be highly relevant in assessing competency for purposes of Rule 3002(c)(2), but people may be legally competent to perform some acts but not others. In the context of Rule 3002(c)(2), the issue ought to be whether or not, as a practical matter, a person suffered from a mental or physical incapacity of a kind that prevented the person from complying with a bar date. That means generally that a movant who seeks relief on the ground of incompetence should show the existence of a condition that rendered the movant incapable of understanding the need to file a proof of claim form before the bar date, or (if the person was capable of understanding that requirement) the existence of a condition that rendered the movant incapable of making such a filing personally and also incapable of enlisting help from others for that purpose.

The movant, as the party seeking relief, bears the burden of proving that relief is warranted under Rule 3002(c)(2). A movant's age is relatively easy to prove, though some movants who have alleged that they were minors have failed to provide such information. "Incompetence" is more difficult to prove. With few exceptions, the movants who have alleged "incompetence" have provided no supporting details and no verification of that status.

There also remains the question of what standard to apply in considering whether to grant relief under Rule 3002(c)(2) to those movants who have demonstrated that they were infants or incompetent at the time of the bar date. Relief under Rule 3002(c)(2) "may" be granted and therefore is discretionary, not mandatory. Vicenty v. San Miguel Sandoval (In re San Miguel Sandoval), 327 B.R. 493, 506 (BAP 1st Cir. 2005). The Rule provides that the Court "may" grant relief if doing so would serve the "interest of justice" and would not unduly delay the administration of the case. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3002(c)(2). The Court has found no authorities, however, that have definitively identified the considerations that should govern a decision as to whether relief is warranted under these standards. Indeed, there are surprisingly few reported decisions that discuss the application of the bar date to persons who are infants or incompetents.

In In re Davis, 243 B.R. 127, 130 (Bankr. M.D. Ala. 1999), the Bankruptcy Court for the Middle District of Alabama extended the time by which the Montgomery County Department of Human Resources could file a proof of claim for child support in a chapter 13 case as the representative of a minor child. The court determined that the "interest of justice" warranted relief based on (1) Congress's emphasis on familial responsibilities throughout the Bankruptcy Code, (2) the Supreme Court decision in Clark v. Jeter, 486 U.S. 456(1988), in which the Supreme Court held that statutes of limitations which restrict the rights of illegitimate children to bring claims for financial support may be subject to heightened scrutiny under the equal protection clause of the fourteenth amendment to the United States Constitution, and (3) the fact that Rule 3002(c)(3) does not require a motion for relief to be filed prior to the expiration of the bar date. Id. at 129-130.

The court took a different approach in In re Toriello, No. 08-18064 (DHS), 2010 WL 3943737 (Bankr. D.N.J. 2010). In Toriello the court considered a request for relief on behalf of a married couple, one of whom had been incapacitated as a result of strokes and the other of whom suffered from memory loss and was in the early stages of Alzheimer's disease. The couple's daughter had assumed control of her parents' financial affairs and had actual knowledge of the bankruptcy well in advance of the bar date. Without making a finding that the creditors were incompetent, the court evaluated both the "interest of justice" and "undue delay" prongs as factual matters and determined that neither was met. As for the "interest of justice" prong, the court considered the fact that the creditors' daughter knew about the bankruptcy well in advance of the bar date but did not seek any legal counsel. Id. at *7. As for "undue delay," the court considered the fact that the extension motion was brought after the confirmation of the debtors' plan and that the debtors would have to propose a modified plan if the creditors' claim were to be allowed. Id. at *6.

At least one other court has considered requests for relief on grounds of infancy or incompetence in the context of due process claims. See, e.g., Chicago, Rock Island & Pac. Ry., 788 F.2d 1280, 1283 (7th Cir. 1986). In the Rock Island case the court considered a request for relief from a bar date on behalf of a nine-year old boy who had lost his foot in a railroad accident. Notice of the bar date had been given to the boy's mother but no claim had been filed.

Years later (after the boy reached adulthood) the boy retained an attorney, who notified the railroad of the claim but who filed no application to the court for permission to make a claim. The railroad took the position that the claim was time-barred, and the injured party then took no action until after the railroad emerged from bankruptcy, at which point he filed suit against the reorganized entity. Id. at 1281. The court held that the application of the bar date did not violate due process, that the reorganization court was not obligated to appoint a guardian ad litem for the injured party, and that notice to the mother (and her opportunity to file a claim) was sufficient for purposes of due process. Id. at 1282-4. The court also noted that the claimant had not acted promptly and diligently in seeking relief from the application of the bar date, and so granting such relief would be barred by laches. Id. at 1284.

From the foregoing I draw the following conclusions.

First, although the “interest of justice” standard is open-ended, many of the factors that are considered by courts in deciding whether to grant relief on grounds of “excusable neglect” under Rule 9006 are plainly also relevant in deciding whether relief is warranted under Rule 3002(c)(2). The determination of whether a claimant missed a deadline due to “excusable neglect” requires consideration of: (1) the danger of prejudice; (2) the length of the delay and its potential impact on proceedings; (3) the reason for the delay, including whether it was in the reasonable control of the movant; and (4) whether the movant acted in good faith. See Pioneer, 507 U.S. at 396. The second “excusable neglect” factor (the potential impact on proceedings) is similar to the express requirement in Rule 3002(c)(2) that the court consider whether permitting a late claim would “unduly delay” the administration of the case. The first, third and fourth factors all are relevant in deciding whether the “interest of justice” warrants relief in favor of a particular claimant.

Second, relief from a bar date based on infancy or incompetence should not be automatic. As explained above, the bar date serves a critical function in a chapter 11 case. Granting automatic relief would effectively nullify the bar date as to many creditors and would make it impossible to deal comprehensively with all claims, particularly in cases involving tort liabilities that likely will include creditors who are still minors. State laws permit parents, guardians or other legal representatives to file claims or to take legal actions on behalf of minors or persons who are not competent, and the proper and efficient administration of bankruptcy cases require that such persons exercise those rights on behalf of minors and incompetent persons where they can do so. Accordingly, while a claimant's infancy or incompetence may itself be the movant's own "reason for delay" in filing a claim, the determination of whether the "interest of justice" calls for relief requires consideration of whether the movant had parents or guardians (in the case of infants) or representatives (in the case of incompetent persons) who had the authority and responsibility to act for the movant and, if so, the reasons why those responsible persons did not take action.

In cases where movants have sought relief based on infancy or incompetence, therefore, we have first assessed whether the motion provides sufficient grounds for the proposed relief.

There were a number of common problems in this regard:

- Many motions alleged the movants are entitled to relief as minors, while at the same time making clear (based on the movant's own contentions as to the dates of exposure) that the movant was 21 years or older at the time of the Bar Date. Plainly those movants were not minors at the time of the Bar Date and are not entitled to relief on that ground.

- Many movants have filed claims on behalf of persons who died before the Bar Date and have argued that the deceased claimants were “incompetent” due to their deaths. The “incompetence” that is relevant for bar date purposes, however, is the competence or incompetence of the person who owned the claim at the time of the Bar Date. If an injured person died, then the only question is whether the executor or personal representative who acquired that claim under state law was competent to assert it.
- A number of other movants have argued that they suffered from various infirmities but have failed to carry their burden of showing that they were “incompetent” to the extent that they were incapable of understanding the need to file a proof of claim form before the bar date, or (if the person was capable of understanding that requirement) that they were incapable of making such a filing.

We have noted that infancy or incompetence were mentioned as possible grounds for relief from the bar date in notices that the Trust previously sent, but that movants seeking relief on that ground were not directed to explain why their parents, guardians or representatives had not taken action on their behalf. In situations where movants have sufficiently demonstrated that they were minors or that they were incompetent at the time of the Bar Date, therefore, we will provide the movants with the opportunity make additional submissions, within sixty days after the issuance of an Order reflecting the Court’s rulings, showing why the movants’ parents, guardians or legal representatives did not file claims on the movants’ behalf, so that we may determine whether relief is warranted under Rule 3002 and/or Rule 9006. The movants who may make such additional submissions are marked on the tables that is submitted with this Decision as Tables A and B.

B. Military Service.

Section 3936(a) of title 50 of the United States Code (which formerly was codified at section 526 of title 50) provides as follows:

The period of a servicemember's military service may not be included in computing any period limited by law, regulation or order for the bringing of any action or proceeding in a court, or in any board, bureau, commission, department, or other agency of a State (or political subdivision of a State) or the United States by or against the servicemember or the servicemember's heirs, executors, administrators or assigns.

See 50 U.S.C. § 3936(a). Some movants have cited to section 3936(a) and have argued that the bar date cannot be applied to bar the claims of persons who were in active military service at the time of the bar date. Other movants have not made reference to section 3936(a) but nevertheless have noted that they were in military service at some points.

There is surprisingly little authority on the effect of section 3936(a) on bar dates in bankruptcy cases. One bankruptcy court held that section 3936 does not bar the application of a bar date in bankruptcy, but that decision was reversed on appeal by the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. See In re A.H. Robins Co., 129 B.R. 457, 461 n. 5 (Bankr. E.D. Va. 1991), rev'd on appeal, 996 F.2d 716 (4th Cir. 1993). The bankruptcy court in Robins ruled that a bar date should not be treated as a "statute of limitation" because it prescribes a date certain for the completion of an act. The Court of Appeals found that reasoning to be deficient:

We find the Trust's attempted distinction between a "period" of time and a "date certain" to be without substance. In our opinion the bar date in this case represents the end point of a period of time, beginning the day the order establishing the bar date was entered, November 21, 1985, within which Dalkon Shield-related claims were to have been filed. This period operates in precisely the same way as any other limitations period. All such periods are bound by terminal dates, a fact that does not transform every period into a "date certain" to which the tolling provision of the Act would not apply. Thus we decide that the filing period fixed by the bar date is a "period . . . limited by any law, regulation or order" for purposes of section 525.

996 F.2d at 719. The Court expressed sympathy as to the possible problems that could arise in bankruptcy cases if bar dates could not be applied to all claimants, but held that the plain language of the statute required relief. Id. at 719-20.

We have found some decisions in which courts have excused persons in military service from other kinds of deadlines set by bankruptcy court orders. See, e.g., Detroit Harbor Terminals, Inc. v. Kuschinski, 181 F.2d 541, 542-43 (6th Cir. 1950) (holding that military service required an extension of the deadline for an exchange of stock under a confirmed bankruptcy plan). However, we are not aware of any relevant authorities in this Circuit.

In bankruptcy parlance a chapter 11 filing creates a “case,” and within that case individual “proceedings” (either contested matters or adversary proceedings) may be resolved. As a purely technical matter there could be an issue as to whether the filing of a proof of claim constitutes “the bringing of any action or proceeding in a court . . .” A proof of claim is deemed to be allowed unless an objection is filed; it is the objection to a claim (not the claim itself) that gives rise to a “proceeding,” which is either a contested matter (if only an objection is filed) or an adversary proceeding (if the objection is joined by a request for other relief). See 11 U.S.C. §§ 501, 502; Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3001, 3007, 7001, 9014. I suppose that on this basis a hyper-technical argument could be made that a deadline for the filing of a bankruptcy proof of claim is not a deadline for the “bringing of any action or proceeding . . .” However, such an argument would put far more weight on the technical definition of what constitutes a “proceeding” in bankruptcy than seems reasonable under the circumstances. We have found no indication that Congress intended to exempt bar dates from the application of section 3936(a), which is quite broad and mandatory in its application to “any” period limited by law, regulation or order. There may be good reasons why a bar date should be exempt from the application of section 3936(a), but that is a decision for Congress to make. The filing of a proof of claim is a prerequisite to a creditor's participation in a bankruptcy case and to the creditor's right to seek relief in the bankruptcy case, and under those circumstances it would run afoul of the obvious intended meaning of the statute if we were to interpret bar dates as being exempt from section 3936(a).

On the other hand, section 3936(a) by its terms provides only for a tolling of a relevant time period, not for an outright exemption from a bar date. If (as the Court of Appeals held in Robins) a bar date order effectively establishes a limitation period equal to the time between the entry of the bar date order and the bar date itself, and if that time period is tolled by section 3936(a), then when the creditor's military service ends the time period would no longer be tolled and the creditor still would need to file a claim within the amount of time that the court originally allowed. In the Tronox case, the order setting the bar date was entered on May 28, 2009, and the bar date was August 12, 2009. That means that the "time period" that was tolled under section 3936(a) was 76 days. Claimants who invoke the protections of section 3936(a) therefore must still show that they filed proofs of claim within 76 days after their military service ended, or must seek relief from that requirement on grounds of excusable neglect.

Some movants have referenced military service, but it is plain from the papers they submitted that their military service ended prior to the entry of the bar date order, making section 3936(a) inapplicable. In other cases it is plain that a proof of claim was not filed within 76 days after military service ended, so that the "tolling" set forth in section 3936(a) would not itself justify the late filing, and so that the movant must show "excusable neglect" in order to obtain relief. In many other cases the period of military service simply is not clear from the papers that have been submitted; in those cases we have provided that the movants may make supplemental submissions to verify the precise dates of their military service.

Our rulings as to individual motions, applying the foregoing standards, are set forth in the tables being filed with this Decision. The Court will hold a conference on March 19, 2021 at 10:00 a.m., at which time the Tort Claims Trust is directed to report to the Court as to the most efficient means of serving notice of the Court's decisions and of making this written decision available to movants. The Court will defer the entry of an Order (which otherwise would begin appeal periods) until after that conference.

Exhibit A

Summary of Public Information Regarding Columbus, Mississippi Plant

1. In 1996, approximately 951 plaintiffs filed suit against Kerr-McGee in the federal district court for the Northern District of Mississippi, alleging injuries from creosote exposures. See Hanson, et al. v. Kerr-McGee Corp., et al., 96-CV-00076 (N.D. Miss. 1996). The case apparently was combined with a later action. See Barham, et al. v. Kerr-McGee Corp., et al., 99-CV-00025 (N.D. Miss. 1999). The two cases were settled in 1999, and the court approved distributions of $5,242,909.69 to the settling plaintiffs. See Hanson, 96-CV-00076, docket no. 707. The number of participating plaintiffs is not clear.

2. In September 1999 the Associated Press released articles about the progress of the Mississippi actions and disputes over requests to test local sites. See “Attorney wants to drill to support lawsuit against Kerr-McGee,” The Associated Press State & Local Wire, Sept. 21, 1999; “School board won’t allow digging on land,” The Associated Press State & Local Wire, Sept. 23, 1999; “Attorney rejects conditions for tests near chemical plant,” The Associated Press State & Local Wire, Oct. 1, 1999.

3. The United States Department of Environmental Protection (the “EPA”) and the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality began an investigation of the Columbus site in 1999. See “Contamination Found Near Plant,” The Sun Herald (Biloxi, MS), Jan. 5, 2001, p. A3.

4. The Maranatha Faith Center in Columbus, Mississippi filed a $100 million lawsuit against Kerr-McGee in 1999 or 2000, alleging that creosote contamination had damaged its property. See “Miss. Church sues, says creosote fouls property,” The Advocate (Baton Rouge, Louisiana) Feb. 23, 2000, p. 5-B; see also “Columbus church files $100 million property contamination suit,” The Associated Press State & Local Wire, Feb. 21, 2000.

5. Another tort action was filed in the state court in 1999 and was removed to the federal district court for the Northern District of Mississippi in 2000. See Andrews, et al. v. Kerr-McGee Corp., et al., 00-CV-00158 (N.D. Miss 2000). In addition, a class action complaint was filed in the federal district court for the Northern District of Mississippi in 2001. See Batchelder, et al. v. Kerr-McGee Corp., et al., 01-CV-00077 (N.D. Miss. 2001).

6. Newspapers reported the filing of the Batchelder action and reported that the attorneys had funded a research report that had analyzed the effects of creosote exposures in Columbus.<sup>1</sup> Newspaper reports quoted the attorneys for plaintiffs as stating that as many as 10,000 people could be members of the affected class. See “Creosote plant hit with class-action suit,” The Clarion-Leader (Jackson, MS), Mar. 8, 2001, p. 5B; “Lawsuit Says Pollution from Plant Caused Serious Health Problems,” The Commercial Appeal, Mar. 10, 2001.

7. Stories about the 2001 class action appeared in national news sources as well. See “Kerr-McGee Sued in Mississippi Class Action for Creosote Syndrome,” PR Newswire, Mar. 9, 2001; “Lawsuit claims health problems associated with Columbus plant,” The Associated Press State & Local Wire, Mar. 9, 2001; “Residents of Miss. Community Sue Kerr-McGee,” Dow Jones Institutional News, Mar. 9, 2001. CNN issued a televised report about the Columbus class action in March 2001. See “Residents of Columbus, Mississippi File Lawsuit Against Kerr-McGee,” CNN Transcripts, Mar. 13, 2001. It televised a follow-up report on creosote problems generally on April 2, 2001. See “Newsroom for April 2, 2001,” CNN Transcripts, Apr. 2, 2001.

<sup>1</sup> The report was also published. See Dahlgren, Warshaw, Horsak, Parker & Takhar, “Exposure assessment of residents living near a wood treatment plant,” 92 Environmental Research (2003) 99-1009.

8. By 2002 seven separate actions were pending against Kerr-McGee on behalf of Columbus residents, in addition to the class action that had been resolved in 1999. Two of the cases (Andrews and Bachelder) were pending in the federal district court for the Northern District of Mississippi; three other cases were pending in the Circuit Court for Lowndes County; and two cases were pending in the Circuit Court of Hinds County. See Kerr-McGee Corp., SEC Form 10-K for Year Ended December 31, 2002, filed March 27, 2003.<sup>2</sup>

9. In May 2002, the Associated Press reported nationally that settlement talks were underway in the Mississippi cases. See “Settlement talks continue in Kerr-McGee case in Mississippi,” The Associated Press State & Local Wire, May 29, 2002.

10. In 2002 a $50 million settlement was reached that potentially covered 6,000 north Mississippi plaintiffs. News reports stated that the settlement “includes most pending lawsuits against the company in state and federal courts in Mississippi,” but did not include the lawsuit filed by the Maranatha Faith Center. See “Kerr-McGee suit settled for $50M,” The Clarion-Leader (Jackson, MS), June 21, 2002, p. 1B. News of the settlement was reported nationally by the Associated Press. See “Settlement offered by Kerr-McGee tops $50 million in Columbus,” The Associated Press State & Local Wire, May 31, 2002.

11. Also in 2002, the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (the “ATSDR”), part of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, decided to prepare a public health assessment to evaluate environmental hazards at the Kerr-McGee site in Columbus. See <https://www.atsdr.cdc.gov/sites/kerrmcgee/background.html>; see also “Second federal

12. Between 2002 and 2005 approximately 250 additional lawsuits (filed on behalf of approximately 5,100 claimants) were filed in the federal district court for the Northern District of Mississippi. See Kerr-McGee Corp., SEC Form 10-K for Year Ended December 31, 2005, filed on March, 16, 2006.<sup>3</sup> A filing in the Tronox bankruptcy case by the Columbus, Mississippi Creosote Plaintiffs Ad Hoc Committee stated that 2,690 persons (or their estates) were plaintiffs in those pending cases at the time of the 2009 bankruptcy filing. See Dkt. No. 605. An unknown number of these plaintiffs may have been individuals who elected not to participate in the settlements that were offered in 2002.

13. In November 2006 the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (the “ATSDR”) published a “fact sheet” that described the effects of creosote exposure and that recommended certain steps to be taken by people in the Columbus area. The Court could not locate a copy of the original fact sheet that was issued in 2006 but an updated version can still be found at the ATSDR website.<sup>4</sup>

14. In June 2007 the ATSDR hosted a “health education workshop” in Columbus. Two presentations were made at the workshop. One was entitled “Creosote Health Effects and

15. On September 22, 2008 the ATSDR released two public health assessments with respect to the Columbus site. The assessment of hazardous substances in soil, sediment and surface water concluded “that the Kerr-McGee site is a past public health hazard and an indeterminate present public health hazard.” Id. at 36. The ATSDR encouraged local residents to read the reports at the Columbus Public Library and to comment upon them. The ATSDR also scheduled media availability seminars in Columbus, to be held at the Trotter Convention Center. See “ATSDR Seeks Public Comments on Public Health Assessments for the Tronox (Formerly Kerr-McGee) Chemical Corporation Site,” September 22, 2008.<sup>6</sup>

16. In October 2008, the Commercial Dispatch (the local Columbus newspaper) published an article about the September 2008 findings by the ATSDR and noted that lawsuits based on creosote exposure had been filed throughout the country and had been settled for hundreds of millions of dollars. See “Community members still concerned about contamination,” The Commercial Dispatch Oct. 15, 2008.

17. The ATSDR also published “fact sheets” that were specific to the Columbus site. The fact sheets were posted on the ATSDR web-site and may have been distributed by other means as well). The fact sheets described the dangers of creosote exposure, the status of investigative efforts, and a number of facts specific to the Columbus facility. It appears that fact sheets were published as early as 2006 but the versions available on the internet have been updated, so the precise history is not clear.<sup>7</sup>

18. In October 2008, the local newspaper reported that Rep. John Mayo, chairman of the House of Representatives' Conservation and Water Resource Committee, addressed local residents and assured them he would try to help to resolve their complaints of contamination from the Kerr-McGee site. See "Community members still concerned about contamination," The Commercial Dispatch, Oct. 15, 2008.

19. The Tronox bankruptcy filing was reported in the local newspaper on January 13, 2009. See "Tronox Bankruptcy won't affect Hamilton facility," The Commercial Dispatch, Jan. 13, 2009.

20. On June 23, 2009, notice of the Tronox bar date was published in The Commercial Dispatch. See Affidavit of Publication of Notice of Bar Date [ECF No. 1465], Exhibit N.

21. The local newspaper reported in July 2009 that additional testing for creosote was being done by officials from the Environmental Protection Agency. See "EPA testing soil at local church,” The Commercial Dispatch, July 17, 2009. The article noted that thousands of creosote-related lawsuits remained pending. Id.

22. Another article in August 2009 referred to requests for more investigations of soil contamination and referenced the reports that the ATSDR had issued in September 2008. See “Church pastor asks city to investigate soil contamination,” The Commercial Dispatch Aug. 5, 2009.

23. In October 2010, the local newspaper reported that the EPA was taking action to add the Columbus site to the superfund list. See “EPA to take over cleanup of old Columbus Kerr-McGee site,” The Commercial Dispatch, Oct. 8, 2010. The article also reported that the EPA would host a community meeting at the Lee Middle School and referred to the bankruptcy of Tronox. Id.

24. Another October 2010 article noted that the EPA had sent notices of a local meeting to everyone who lived within one-half mile of the site, and that 160 people had attended. See “Residents skeptical of plans to clean up old Kerr-McGee site,” The Commercial Dispatch, Oct. 15, 2010. The article noted that creosote has been linked to cancer, skin irritation and breathing problems. Id.

25. More than 100 residents from various places in Mississippi, including from Columbus, appeared at a State Capitol hearing room in 2011 to air grievances over creosote contamination. See “Environmental Justice group exposes polluted chemical sites at Capitol hearing,” Jackson Advocate, Jan. 28, 2011.

26. The EPA designated the Columbus site as a superfund site in 2011 and held another community meeting in October 2011. See “Kerr-McGee land designated Superfund site; EPA to host community meeting tonight,” The Commercial Dispatch, Oct. 27, 2011.

27. An article in 2013 reported that a decade had passed since the Columbus plant had been closed but that local residents continued to believe that creosote effects threatened 3,500 people in the area. See “Work continues on Kerr-McGee rehabilitation,” The Commercial Dispatch Mar. 14, 2013. It also noted that prior claims by residents had been settled for $50 million. Id.

28. In February 2014, The Commercial Dispatch reported that the bankruptcy court had ruled against Kerr-McGee in the pending fraudulent transfer litigation and that damages remained to be assessed. See “14th Ave. drainage project moving forward,” The Commercial Dispatch, Feb. 21, 2014.

29. In April 2014, The Commercial Dispatch reported the settlement that had been reached in the fraudulent transfer action and reported that, among other things, $67 million would be allocated for environmental work at the Columbus site. See “Columbus site gets $67M in Kerr-McGee settlement,” The Commercial Dispatch, Apr. 4, 2014.

30. A follow-up article on April 19, 2014 described the fraudulent transfer settlement and the terms of the Tort Claims Trust that had been established under the Tronox plan. It reported that the Trust would receive $618 million to pay claims, and listed the telephone number and email address for the Trust. See “Settlement brings new hope for Kerr-McGee cleanup,” The Commercial Dispatch, Apr. 19, 2014.

31. The Commercial Dispatch reported on May 29, 2014 that the fraudulent transfer settlement had been approved by the bankruptcy court over objections that had been posed, including objections that had been raised by two attorneys from Columbus. See “Kerr-McGee settlement proceeds despite objections,” The Commercial Dispatch, May 29, 2014.

32. An article in November 2014 reported that the federal district court had upheld the bankruptcy court's approval of the settlement of the fraudulent transfer litigation, and that the settlement was final. See "Anadarko suit finalized, $68M to Columbus site," The Commercial Dispatch, Nov. 12, 2014.

33. Another November 2015 article reported on the progress of the cleanup and again listed the contact information for the Tort Claims Trust. See "Columbus residents graduate with skills to cleanup community," The Commercial Dispatch Nov. 23, 2015.

Summary of Public Information Regarding Hattiesburg, Mississippi Plant

1. The Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality discovered creosote contamination in Hattiesburg in the early 1990s. See “No private wells found near Gulf States site,” Hattiesburg American Oct. 15, 2000, p. 1A.

2. On September 9, 1993, the Hattiesburg Public School District filed suit against Kerr-McGee for damages caused by creosote contamination. Several local business owners joined the suit in 1996. See “Creosote lawsuit timeline,” Hattiesburg American, June 24, 2007, p. 5A.

3. In 2002, the local newspaper reported that an agreement had been reached under which Kerr-McGee would clean up creosote contamination near the former plant on West Pine Street. See Untitled Article, Hattiesburg American July 16, 2002, p. 1A.

4. A public hearing was held in 2002 to discuss the plans for cleanup at the Hattiesburg site, and the local newspaper published an article about it in advance of the hearing. See “16th section cleanup plan set,” Hattiesburg American Oct. 20, 2002 p. 1A.

5. In August 2002, additional local residents attempted to intervene as plaintiffs in the lawsuit that had been filed in 1993 by the local school district, but their request was denied. See “Creosote lawsuit timeline,” Hattiesburg American, June 24, 2007, p. 5A. Many of them then filed separate lawsuits, some of which were removed to the federal district court for the Southern District of Mississippi. Id.

6. In November 2002 the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality held the first of two public meetings to discuss the Hattiesburg creosote site. See “Residents kept in dark about creosote issues,” Hattiesburg American, June 24, 2007, p. 1A.

7. An article in the Hattiesburg American reported in 2003 that Kerr-McGee had made settlement offers to 1,500 plaintiffs in creosote-based litigation. The article stated that Kerr-McGee had offered $400 to each claimant and that 700 of the estimated 1,500 plaintiffs had already accepted the proposals. See “Residents protest $400 offer,” Hattiesburg American, May 20, 2003, p. 2A.

8. In October 2003 the local newspaper in Jackson, Mississippi reported on the progress of cleanup efforts in Hattiesburg and described the potential health effects of creosote exposures. See “A toxic culprit,” The Clarion-Ledger, Oct. 19, 2003, p. 1B.

9. In January 2004, the local Hattiesburg newspaper reported that famous attorney Johnnie Cochran was scheduled to meet in mid-February with Hattiesburg residents who wished to pursue legal action based on creosote exposures. See “Cochran coming to Hattiesburg,” Hattiesburg American, Jan. 22, 2004, p. 1D.

10. In September 2005 a federal judge ruled that 1,600 Hattiesburg residents needed to file individual suits to the extent they wished to seek compensation for property damages or personal injury due to creosote exposures. The same judge also denied a motion to reopen a prior settlement of a damage action that had been filed in 1993 and settled in 2002. See “Judge orders individual suits in pollution case,” Hattiesburg American, Sept. 28, 2005, p. 1A.

11. In December 2005 the local newspaper reported that approximately 600 residents had accepted settlement offers ranging from $500 to more than $10,000 to resolve creosote-based claims against Kerr-McGee. See “Kerr-McGee suit settled with some residents,” Hattiesburg American, Dec. 2, 2005, p. 1A.

12. Another article in February 2006 reported that some residents continued to plan to sue Kerr-McGee and that a total of 2,000 claims had been settled at a total cost of more than $1.3 million. See “Many wait on creosote settlement,” Hattiesburg American, Feb. 13, 2006, p. 1A.

13. A public meeting was held in March 2006 to discuss lawsuits that had been filed against Kerr-McGee and complaints by some local residents that they had not been included in the prior filings. See “Officials discuss Kerr-McGee suit,” Hattiesburg American, Mar. 24, 2006, p. 1C.

14. A group of 20 Hattiesburg residents staged a protest at the local city hall to complain about the city’s role in the lawsuits that had been filed against Tronox/Kerr-McGee relating to creosote exposures. See “Hattiesburg residents call for city to take a stand,” Hattiesburg American, Apr. 19, 2006, p. 9A.

15. Another protest was staged in 2007 as the final cleanup work in Hattiesburg was being prepared. See “Creosote project to resume despite officials’ requests,” Hattiesburg American, Apr. 21, 2007, p. 1A.

16. In May 2007, local officials agreed to conduct more creosote testing in response to complaints from local residents who had outstanding claims against Kerr-McGee. See “Officials OK more creosote testing,” Hattiesburg American, May 15, 2007, p. 3A.

17. The local newspaper reported in June 2007 that the city council would meet with the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality to discuss the creosote cleanup by Tronox, and noted that residents of the neighborhood were concerned that they had not been adequately compensated for work done on their properties. See “Council, MDEQ to discuss creosote,” Hattiesburg American, June 8, 2007, p. 3A.

18. Another protest in June 2007 was held in Hattiesburg. The local newspaper explained that the school district and other plaintiffs had settled claims against Kerr-McGee in 2002 but that other parties who sought to intervene in the late stages of the case had been denied the right to do so. Some of those residents had settled their claims but others continued to litigate. See “Residents stage protest,” Hattiesburg American, June 13, 2007, p. 3A.

19. In June 2007 the local newspaper publicly disclosed that Tronox had paid $17 million in 2002 to settle the lawsuit filed by the Hattiesburg School District and several local businesses. See “Creosote lawsuit settled for $17,” Hattiesburg American, June 23, 2007, p. 1A. The article also reported that separate settlements had been reached with 2,000 residents. Id.

20. In August 2007 the local newspaper reported that city officials and local residents were preparing to select an environmental firm to perform an analysis of cleanup work that Tronox had done. See “Officials set to decide on firm for study,” Hattiesburg American, Aug. 22, 2007.

21. In December 2007 the city council had a special meeting to hear complaints by local residents who alleged racial injustice in connection with the dissemination of information about cleanup efforts. See “Special meeting addresses creosote,” Hattiesburg American, Dec. 19, 2007.

22. In May 2008 the local newspaper reported that the consultant who had been hired to test groundwater samples had found only trace amounts of creosote and that there was no risk to area residents, but that many residents disagreed. See “Study: Chemical poses no danger,” Hattiesburg American, May 20, 2008. Two weeks later, local residents submitted a counter report contending that the amounts of creosote that had been found posed a danger to residents. See “Council received conflicting creosote report,” Hattiesburg American, June 3, 2008.

23. Another protest was held in June 2008 to voice concerns about creosote exposures and other issues. See “Minority treatment protested,” Hattiesburg American, June 7, 2008.

24. In June 2008 the mayor of Hattiesburg wrote to the CEO of Tronox, complaining that residents had not been fairly compensated. See “Mayor seeks ‘fair’ compensation from creosote company,” Hattiesburg American, June 19, 2008. Tronox responded with a letter stating that it would not offer additional compensation to those who had settled their claims. See “Residents will get no creosote compensation,” Hattiesburg American, July 19, 2008.

25. An October 2008 editorial reported that Councilman Henry Naylor had held meetings for constituents to address creosote contamination. See “Naylor’s actions make no sense,” Hattiesburg American, Oct. 6, 2008.

26. The Tronox bankruptcy filing was reported in the local newspaper on January 13, 2009. See “Tronox files for Chapter 11 bankruptcy,” Hattiesburg American, Jan. 13, 2009. The article noted that Tronox was the owner of the former Kerr-McGee plant in Hattiesburg and that the bankruptcy could affect efforts to clean up creosote contamination in Hattiesburg. Id. It further reported that Tronox had been “at the center of a controversy” in south Hattiesburg over creosote cleanup efforts. Id.

27. In June 2009, notices of the Tronox bar date were published in area newspapers. See Affidavit of Publication of Notice of Bar Date [ECF No. 1465], Exs. T, U.

28. In September 2009, the local newspaper reported concerns that substances found in a monitoring well were creosote. The article recited the history of local battles with Kerr-McGee and Tronox over creosote exposures and cleanup. See “Creosote believed found along creek,” Hattiesburg American, Sept. 3, 2009.

29. More than 100 residents from various places in Mississippi, including Hattiesburg and Columbus, appeared at a State Capitol hearing room in 2011 to air grievances over creosote contamination. See “Environmental Justice group exposes polluted chemical sites at Capitol hearing,” Jackson Advocate, Jan. 28, 2011.

Summary of Public Information Regarding Avoca, Pennsylvania Plant

1. In February 2001, the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection, at the urging of the mayor of Avoca, announced that it would investigate alleged contamination problems at the Avoca site. See “Pennsylvania Eyes Closed Kerr-McGee Plant for Possible Contamination,” The Times Leader, Feb. 5, 2001.
2. In May 2001, four Pennsylvania residents filed class action lawsuits alleging damages from creosote and other substances released from the Avoca plant. See “Pa. residents file contamination suite against Kerr-McGee,” The Associated Press State & Local Wire, May 19, 2001. The case was Cavalari, et al. v. Kerr-McGee Chemical, et al., Case No. 3:01-cv-00882, filed in the United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania. For undisclosed reasons the docket shows that the action was dismissed in July 2001.
3. In 2001, 29 people filed four lawsuits in state court alleging that they had been injured by contamination from the Avoca plant. See “Suits filed against Avoca, Pa., Ex-Wood Treatment Plant,” The Times Leader, Oct. 26, 2001. The attorneys representing the plaintiffs stated that they had 500 additional clients who had been part of a federal class action that had been withdrawn. Id. The article also reported that some plaintiffs resided in Duryea and Dupont as well as in Avoca. Id.
4. The Associated Press wire service reported that the 2001 actions had been filed. See “Pa. residents file contamination suit against Kerr-McGee,” The Associated Press State & Local Wire, May 19, 2001.
5. The 29 lawsuits that had been filed in 2001 apparently were settled in 2003 without a class certification. A newspaper article reported on the range of recoveries that plaintiffs had received. See “Kerr-McGee Settles Chemical-Exposure Cases in Wilkes-Barre, Pa,” The Times Leader, Nov. 6, 2003. The article noted that the settlements ranged from $2,700 to $457,360, with most of the settlements at less than $20,000. Id.

6. In August 2004 a local newspaper reported that a new round of lawsuits was being prepared and that a law firm, The Powell Law Group, had made fliers available at the Dupont Borough Building. See “Ex-Avoca Plant Feels Legal Heat; Kerr-McGee Wood Treatment Site Might Face More Plaintiffs Seeking Damages,” Wilkes Barre Times Leader, Aug. 14, 2004, p. 1C. The law firm disclosed that approximately 71 persons had submitted information about injuries they might have suffered. Id.

7. The Powell Law Group filed 24 lawsuits on behalf of more than 3,000 plaintiffs in January 2005 in the Luzerne County Court of Common Pleas. See “Illnesses the Focus of Suits vs. Plant; Kerr-McGee Faces Legal Action Contamination from Ex-Avoca Facility Claimed by Thousands,” Wilkes Barre Times Leader Jan. 4, 2005, p. 1A. The article noted that “[t]he new wave of suits apparently stem from fliers the Powell Law Group distributed last year in communities surrounding Avoca. The fliers sought persons who ‘lived by the Kerr-McGee plant and/or have been harmed by the Kerr-McGee plant.’” Id.

8. At some point the Avoca plaintiffs and Kerr-McGee agreed that arbitrators would assess damage claims by at least some of the plaintiffs. In November 2008 the attorneys for the Avoca plaintiffs argued that Kerr-McGee had failed to pay damages that had been awarded and had breached the arbitration agreements. See “Attorneys: Kerr-McGee slow in paying damages: More than 3,000 people sued company, claiming its Avoca plant caused health problems,” The Times Leader, Nov. 19, 2008. The article also noted that Tronox was contemplating a bankruptcy filing. Id.

9. A local newspaper reported that a Luzerne County judge approved the disputed arbitration awards in late November 2008. See “Arbitration award ruling in Kerr-McGee suit upheld; Judge Olszewski signs orders confirming original award totaling $943,885.72,” The Times Leader, Nov. 25, 2008. The article noted that the plaintiffs had alleged that they or their family members had been injured by creosote exposures and that developed various conditions and illnesses including cancer. Id.

10. Articles at year-end 2008 reported on efforts by local attorneys to attach assets of Tronox in order to secure the payments of monies awarded to plaintiffs in the Pennsylvania state court actions. See “Owner of former Kerr-McGee Corp. must pay: Attorneys for plaintiffs state owner of former Kerr-McGee has continually delayed in paying,” The Times Leader, Dec. 31, 2008. The article noted that the plaintiffs claimed they suffered health problems, including cancer, as the result of exposures to chemicals at the site. Id.

11. An article in February 2009 reported that the 8 plaintiffs who had received arbitration awards had been paid, but that Tronox had filed for bankruptcy in January 2009. See “8 plaintiffs in Kerr-McGee suit paid $900,000: Original lawsuit involved nearly 3,500 plaintiffs who alleged health problems from Avoca plant,” The Times Leader, Feb. 2, 2009.

12. Later articles referred to the 2005 litigations as having included 4,000 employees and residents of the Avoca area. See “DEP Targets former Duryea plant for hazardous material removal,” The Times Leader, June 25, 2011.

13. On June 25, 2009, notice of the Tronox bar date was published in local newspapers. See Affidavit of Publication of Notice of Bar Date [ECF No. 1465], Ex. HH.

14. A June 2012 article described the “multibillion” dollar fraudulent transfer trial that was underway and stated that the outcome would determine “whether thousands of Avocaarea residents will be compensated for health problems they say they suffered from living near a now-shuttered creosote plant.” See “Avoca families’ illness claims at stake in trial,” The Citizen’s Voice & Sunday Voice, June 11, 2012. The article described the Tort Claims Trust and its funding. Id. See also “Federal case to determine fate of Avoca families’ injury claims,” The Times-Tribune, June 12, 2012.

15. The settlement of the fraudulent transfer litigation was reported in April 2014, along with reports that local residents who had made litigation claims were waiting to learn of their recoveries. See “Avoca Residents Exposed To Toxic Waste Await News On Cut Of Settlement,” The Times-Tribune, Apr. 9, 2014.

16. Another local article reported in April that anyone who objected to the terms of the fraudulent transfer settlement had until mid-May to file objections. See “Regional Briefs,” The Times Tribune, Apr. 23, 2014.

17. In August 2014 the local newspapers reported on controversies that had arisen regarding fees owed to one of the attorneys who had represented the Avoca plaintiffs. See “Lawsuit: Powell to receive $200 million from Avoca creosote plant settlement,” The Citizens’ Voice, Aug. 6, 2014.

18. In 2017, a local newspaper reported that 1,600 former and current residents of Avoca had settled creosote-related claims in 2003, and that a second wave of 4,400 sued in 2005 and received compensation through the Tronox bankruptcy plan. The article noted that Avoca had a current population of 2,600 and that additional residents were seeking compensation from the Tort Claims Trust as “future” tort claims. See “The aftermath in Avoca: Cancer, other health problems blamed on emissions,” The Times Leader, Nov. 12, 2017.

1	TRO885678FTC	11/25/2015	Gregory, Leronn	Leronn Gregory	3285		X	X				Diagnosed in 1990s. Explanation for late filing: was not sure of deadline, was not sure claim could still be filed. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

4	TRO886424FTC	12/7/2015	McCottrell, Rosie	Rosie McCottrell	3288		X	X				Diagnosed in 1970, part of prior legal proceeding with Colom law firm; says lawyer did it all and did not know we were "redoing it." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding confirms awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim either was resolved in a prior action or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
5	TRO884153FTC	11/13/2015	Butler, Emma	Debra Walter	3289		X	X				Diagnosed in 1987, died in 1989; resident of Columbus, MS; rep says not aware of the deadline. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

6	TRO886466FTC	12/7/2015	Richardson, Patricia	Shannon Smith	3290		X	X				Diagnosis in 1985 or so; injured party died in 1997. Rep says did not know of claim because was away for military service for a few years but does not provide dates of service or any indication that movant was in military service at the time of the 2009 bar date. Also alleges that was told could not file for a deceased relative but no details provided as to who gave such advice or when. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
7	TRO886463FTC	12/7/2015	Bradford, Carrie	Carrie Bradford	3291		X	X				Diagnoses in 1970s and 1980s; says claimant is just a layperson who never heard of a publication summons or the need to look for one or where and could not afford the expense of an attorney. Says local newspaper may have published summons of which claimant knew nothing, says was unaware of after-effects of exposure at the time. Alleged failure to read published notice is not grounds for due process relief. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
8	TRO887230FTC	12/14/2015	Catchings, Lucas	Lucas Catchings	3292			X		X		Diagnoses February 2008; says made claim; no excuse for late filing offered. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. If contends a timely claim was filed in 2009 that is an issue to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim based on excusable neglect or lack of due process.
9	TRO885393FTC	11/25/2015	Dyson, Latisha	Latisha Dyson	3293		X	X				Diagnosis in 1987. Says had no way of knowing she was exposed to a Tronox product because she was away at college. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim was barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

10	TRO886015FTC	12/7/2015	Porter, Valerie	Valerie Porter	3294		X	X			X	Diagnoses 1983, 1985, 1998, 2016. Previously filed with the Colom law firm and with atty Howard Gunn. Claims as to pre-1998 diagnoses likely were resolved in earlier lawsuits; if not, they were barred by the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. In addition, participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. To the extent movant alleges that counsel did not pursue claim, conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim based on an alleged condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
11	TRO887365FTC	12/14/2015	Mitchell, William	William Mitchell	3295		X	X				2002 diagnosis. Previously filed with the Colom law firm and received settlement; disagrees with settlement amount. Participation in prior legal proceeding confirms awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim either was resolved in prior litigation or, if not, was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
12	TRO887609FTC	12/14/2015	Hall, Johnny	Johnny Hall	3296			X				Diagnosed in 2008. Says did not realize that the area where he lived was one of the areas affected by creosote until after the bar date. Says he does not understand legal rhetoric and would not have understood publication notices even if he had access to the publications. However, risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000, and movant acknowledges awareness of illness and awareness of creosote-related injuries in nearby areas. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
13	TRO887190FTC	12/14/2015	Hall, Lemita	Lemita Hall	3297		X	X				Diagnosis in 2000. Says was out of the state of Mississippi and family did not notify her of the claim and the paperwork. Only learned in 2015 when she had some surgery and her doctor asked if she had filed a claim and told her how to get the information. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

14	TRO886004FTC	12/7/2015	Porter, Leroy	Leroy Porter	3298		X	X			X	Diagnoses in 1980, 1999 and "after 2009 (sardoma)." Previously filed with the Colom law firm in the 1990s. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Filings with Colom law firm show awareness of claims and legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on pre-2006 diagnoses also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Any claim based on a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
15	TRO884292FTC	11/25/2015	Clabon, Robert	Kimberley Clabon-Macon	3299		X	X				Diagnoses in 1990s and early 2002. Injured party deceased 2015. No explanation of failure to file claim, family rep says cannot answer the question. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
16	TRO884090FTC	11/13/2015	Marsh, William Jr.	William Marsh, Jr.	3300			X				Diagnosed 1990 and earlier. Says did not know of claim system until a relative informed him that he had received a settlement check. No specific excusable neglect or due process challenge set forth. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
17	TRO886364FTC	12/7/2015	Connors, James	James Connors	3301			X				Diagnosed 2007, alleges excusable neglect due to fact that he did not know he had been exposed until after the deadline (knew he had skin cancer, but not aware that it was due to creosote exposure). Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

18	TRO885930FTC	11/25/2015	Provenzano, Paul	Paul Provenzano	3302			X				Diagnosed 1970 and 1992, but did not know that diagnosis was due to exposure prior to deadline. Formerly resided near the Avoca, PA plant. Also claims that he and his family re-located for work during this period of time. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
19	TRO884089FTC	11/13/2015	Jackson, Atrinell	Louis Coleman	3303	3909 3382		X				The injured party died in 2015. Supplements filed at docket #3909 and docket #3382. Family member says he was unaware of bar date but no verification that deceased was unaware or that deceased had grounds to miss the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
20	TRO886904FTC	12/7/2015	Mullin, Kimberley	Kimberley Mullin	3304			X				Says diagnosis "began in 2009" but also says exhibited symptoms 1994-2012. Claims excusable neglect - unaware of filing rights due to fact that she was "incapacitated with trying to manage numerous illnesses." Insufficient details to show due process issue as to notices and insufficient showing of incapacity to extent alleges inability to file claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient to warrant relief.
21	TRO88690FTC	12/7/2015	Mullin, Harold	Harold Mullin	3305		X	X		X		Diagnosed 2005-2011 (numerous illnesses). Alleges lack of knowledge of right to file claims, says was suffering from significant medical problems. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Claims based on pre-2006 diagnoses were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to other pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim based on a new condition first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.

22	TRO885272FTC	Unknown	Burgin, Mary	Burgin, Mary	3306		X	X				Motion is not included on the Trust's summary. Diagnosed 1957. Alleges she was a child, but bar date was in 2009 (52 years later). No legally sufficient grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
23	TRO884358FTC	11/25/2015	Butler, Joanne	Joanne Butler	3307	8247	X	X				Former resident of Columbus, MS. Diagnosed in 2002 and 2004, was told by attorney in 2005 that she could not file a claim because she had filed for bankruptcy, then in 2009 when notices sent out she was living in Fayetteville, North Carolina. A supplement filed at dk #8247, says was unaware of the bankruptcy filing or that a trust for tort claims had been established. Attorney's advice is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Contact with attorney shows awareness of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
24	TRO885414FTC	11/25/2015	Smith, Undra	Shannon Smith	3308		X	X				Diagnosis in 1999, exposure began in 1987. Contends she was a child but if exposure began in 1987 she had to be over 21 years old by the bar date in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. No legally sufficient showing of entitlement to excusable neglect or due process relief. In addition, claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

25	TRO884291FTC	11/25/2015	Macon, Kimberly	Kimberly Macon	3309		X	X				Exposure in 1970s, diagnosed 2000. Alleges that she did not know she needed to supplement her late-filed claim but does not assert valid reasons as to why her failure to file by the bar date should be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
26	TRO884072FTC	11/13/2015	Ellis, Deborah Bishop	Deborah Bishop Ellis	3310		X	X				Diagnosed 2001, alleges did file a claim in a proceeding in 2001 and never heard back from lawyer. Filing in 2001 must have been in connection with a class action, bankruptcy was not filed until 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Prior legal claim shows knowledge of rights, failure to pursue the same diligently is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect. Attorney error is not a ground for excusable neglect or due process relief. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claims based on 2001 diagnosis were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

29	TRO885632FTC	Unknown	Williams, Morgan	JaMilla Williams	3314			X			X	Motion is not included on the Trust's summary. Diagnosed 2001, filing on behalf of daughter, unaware exposed, child started daycare in 2001 and got meningitis which mom believes is from exposure; same motion filed at docket #4436 with some additional conditions, brochial conditions 2011 and 2012. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
30	TRO886396FTC	12/7/2015	Harris, Jamar	Jamar Harris	3315		X	X				Date diagnosed is "yes." Alleges did do paperwork in 1999, but it was lost by attorney William Bambach, who is deceased. Mr. Bambach did not die until long after the bar date. Attorney error also is not proper ground for excusable neglect or due process relief. Prior paperwork likely was in connection with different legal proceeding as Tronox bankruptcy was not filed until 1999. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Prior dealings with counsel confirm movant's awareness of legal rights and claims. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claims that had accrued as of 1999 were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations by the time of the Tronox bankruptcy filing in 2009.
31	TRO886864FTC	Unknown	Morrison, Alice	Rosemary Horton	3316	8077	X	X				Diagnosed 1991, filing on behalf of mother who died in 1993. Child says had no reason to know she had been exposed. A supplement filed at docket # 8077 says child was unaware of bankruptcy case, had moved away from area. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

32	TRO886694FTC	12/7/2015	Malone, Traveres	Kimberley Moore	3317		X	X				Diagnosed 1997, deceased 2010. Representative says he was not aware. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
33	TRO884359FTC	11/25/2015	Williams, James	Maggie Williams	3318		X	X				Diagnosed 1978, alleges did file POC and attaches letter from DOJ (from 2010). DOJ said this matter is not within their jurisdiction, and forwarded the matter to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Complaint to DOJ does not constitute a proof of claim in the Tronox bankruptcy case. No challenge to due process, no explanation as to excusable neglect or as to due diligence in pursuing claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
34	TRO884360FTC	11/25/2015	Williams, Maggie	Maggie Williams	3319		X	X				Diagnosed 1986, alleges complained to Department of Justice in 2010 but it lacked jurisdiction and forwarded the matter to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Complaint to DOJ does not constitute a claim in the bankruptcy case. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. No showing as to reasons why failed to meet bar date or as to diligent investigation and pursuit of claim. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
35	Unknown	Unknown	Durrah, Reonna	Reonna Durrah	3320			X				Motion is not included on the Trust's summary. Diagnosed 2004, filing on behalf of daughter. Says both that "I didn't find out about it until it was too late" and "I thought that she wasn't old enough." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Not a sufficient showing of timely action and diligent investigation to warrant relief based on excusable neglect, no claim of lack of due process.

36	TRO886805FTC	12/7/2015	Oden, Turner	Turner Oden	3321		X	X				Diagnoses 1970, 2004, 2008. Thought he was part of a class action in 2003, then his claim "disappeared." Claim in prior action shows knowledge of rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on 1970 and 2004 diagnoses also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
37	TRO884471FTC	11/25/2015	Butler, Virginia	Virginia Butler	3322		X	X				Diagnosed 1970, claims no notice of the case "in local Columbus, MS paper or on TV." In fact, notice was published in the Commercial Dispatch (the local Columbus newspaper) and in other area newspapers. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
38	TRO884470FTC	11/25/2015	Butler, Gilbert, Jr.	Gilbert Butler, Jr.	3323	8125	X	X				Diagnosed 1971, says no publication in local newspaper. A supplement with medical records filed at docket #8125. In fact, there was publication in the local newspaper (the Commercial Dispatch) in June 2009, as evidenced by the affidavit of publication on file with the court, which includes a copy of the published notice. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
39	TRO886949FTC	12/7/2015	Fortini, Carina	Carina Fortini	3325	8090		X			X	Diagnosed 2007-2009 (possibly two different conditions, but unclear). Seems to be saying that she had sent doctors' forms in. A supplement filed at docket #8090. Possible post-bar date diagnosis (dates not specified). Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

40	TRO886773FTC	12/7/2015	Nicholson, Renel	Renel Nicholson	3326						X	Diagnosed 1997-2001 (various diseases). Was 17 at time of deadline. Claims he was not able to file a claim as a minor but does not allege lack of knowledge or reason why a guardian did not act. Will permit supplemental submission to explain why parent or guardian did not act, why claimant waited until 2015 to file a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
41	TRO886723FTC	12/7/2015	Hannon, Ryan	Ryan Hannon	3327		X					Answered "yes" to question about whether was diagnosed, but then says "did not think I had any reason that I had been exposed." Had moved to PA in 2004. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
42	TRO887140FTC	12/14/2015	Yancey, Yvonne	Yvonne Yancey	3328	X	X					Former resident of Columbus, MS. First diagnosed 1984; says "did not know or had no reason to know of any exposure to a Tronox-Kerr-McGee product prior to the claim filing deadline." Moved to CA in 1976. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
43	TRO884931FTC	11/25/2015	Baldwin, Willie	Willie Baldwin	3329	3999	X	X				Duplicate motion at docket # 3999. First diagnosed 1979, "never received paperwork." No challenge to sufficiency of publication notice, no showing of excusable neglect. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

44	TRO886922FTC	12/7/2015	Stewart, Fred Sr.	Luella Hughes	3330		X	X				Diagnosed 1987, filing on behalf of deceased father (Fred E. Stewart, Sr.). Claims "the lack of publication notice of the Claims filing Deadline was not reasonably calculated to provide notice to potential claimants who were unknown at the time of the notice." No evidence or explanation in support of this claim, amounts to a legal challenge to the sufficiency of publication notice in general rather than a challenge to the specific notices in this case. Publication notices complied with due process for the reasons stated in the accompanying decision. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
45	TRO884724FTC	11/25/2015	Moore, Terrance	Terrance Moore	3331	8239					X	Diagnosed 1994, "no reason to know exposed." Minor child living in another state at the time. Rejection notice filed at docket # 6772. A supplement filed at docket #8329. Says did not have access to Wall Street Journal but notice also was published in the Commercial Dispatch in Columbus, MS on June 23, 2009 and in several other newspapers in Mississippi and Alabama. Will permit supplemental submission to explain why parent or guardian did not act, why claimant waited until 2015 before filing a claim, and whether that warrants relief.
46	TRO885096FTC	11/25/2015	Mosely, Marcus	Marcus Mosely	3332			X		X		Diagnosed in 2016 (after the bar date). Says "my claim was filed on time" but appears to be referring to a more recent claim rather than a claim made prior to the bar date. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

47	TRO884722FTC	11/25/2015	Moore, Ruth	Ruth Moore	3333	8329	X	X				Diagnosed 1994, "no reason to know exposed," was living in another state at the time (now lives in Alabama). Rejection notice filed at docket #6773. A supplement filed at docket #8329, says did not get WSJ and did not have internet. Alleges no publication in local newspaper, but in fact notice was published in the Commercial Dispatch in Columbus, MS and also in The Birmingham News in Birmingham, Alabama. Says if she had known, she would have filed a claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim appears to be based on exposures in Columbus MS, in which case the claim was barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
48	TRO884261FTC	11/25/2015	Cunningham, David	David Cunningham	3334	6992		X		X		Lists diagnoses in 2009, 2015, 2014. Alleges that attorney failed to file paperwork, but time period unclear. Supplement filed at docket #6992, says sent paperwork many times; says attorney dropped the ball and claimant was left to resend paperwork numerous times, all of which appears to refer to correspondence with the Trust about the late-filed claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Alleged misconduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process in the absence of a showing that counsel's own failures should be excused. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
49	TRO887363FTC	12/14/2015	Noland, Winston	Winston Noland	3335	8271	X	X				Former resident of Columbus, MS. Diagnosed 1993, was out of state, also alleges lawyer was "crooked." A supplemental letter filed at docket #8271. Complaint about lawyer's services is not a basis for excusable neglect or due process relief unless the lawyer's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

50	TRO884876FTC	11/25/2015	Salter, Lorey	Lorey Salter	3336		X	X				First diagnosed 2003, alleges that he made a claim in 2001-2005 through an attorney and against Kerr-McGee. Claim during that period must have been in connection with a prior class action as the bankruptcy case was not filed until 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding confirms awareness of claim and of legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. If claim was not resolved in a prior lawsuit, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
51	TRO884361FTC	11/25/2015	Williams, Rick	Rick Williams	3337		X	X				Diagnosed 1990, alleges did file a claim with church group (Maranatha Faith Center), and that "other went to US Justice Dept." Filing with the Church or the DOJ is not the same as filing a lawsuit or filing a bankruptcy proof of claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Prior dealings with church and DOJ show awareness of claim. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
52	TRO886724FTC	12/7/2015	Hannon, Nancy	Nancy Hannon	3338			X				Diagnosed 1993. Claims "did not know and no reason to know exposed." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
53	TRO886725FTC	12/7/2015	Hannon, Michael	Michael Hannon	3339			X				Diagnosed "yes." No real allegations - says used to play baseball next to the plant (also now lives in PA, but does not allege lack of due process or excusable neglect or grounds upon which relief from the bar date should be granted. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

54	TRO886738FTC	12/7/2015	Hannon, Matthew	Matthew Hannon	3340			X				Diagnosed "yes." Says "did not know exposed." Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
55	TRO884362FTC	11/25/2015	Williams, Romone	Romone Williams	3341		X	X				Diagnosed 1988. Alleges filed claim with church group in 2009; unclear what that is, but it does not constitute a litigation or the filing of a proof of claim in the Tronox case. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
56	TRO884353FTC	11/25/2015	Moody, Itell	Sarah Harris Hughes	3342		X	X				Diagnosed 1976. Was part of a prior class action. Not a "future tort claim" where disease was manifested and claimant already participated in a prior proceeding. Either the claim was resolved in a prior action or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
57	TRO885778FTC	11/25/2015	Miglionico, Cory	Cory Miglionico	3343			X				Does not say when diagnosed exactly, but had kidney problems at 10 years old and was born in 1961. Says did not file because 1) "I was sick" and 2) did not know that he could - thought it was for Avoca residents only. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

58	TRO884877FTC	11/25/2015	Salter, Corle	Corle Salter	3344			X			X	Says diagnosed in 2011 but also claims to have been part of a class action many years earlier with Wilbur Colon as counsel. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date and all defenses thereto (including defenses as to whether prior class action barred future claims) are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
59	TRO887198FTC	12/14/2015	Green, Ivory	Ivory Green	3345		X	X				Diagnosed 1999, was "not aware disease was connected to chemicals until later," filed when heard of claims process in 2015. No specifics as to excusable neglect or due process contentions given diagnosis in 1999. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, the claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
60	TRO884879FTC	11/25/2015	Salter, Gavin	Gavin Salter	3346			X				Diagnosed 2007, was not aware of claims deadline because "there were no information given until 2015." But also claims was part of prior litigation with Wilbur Colon as counsel. Not a "Future Tort Claim" if participated in a prior legal proceeding. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding confirms awareness of claim and legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
61	TRO887617FTC	12/14/2015	Congious, Sarah	Norcasha Congious	3347		X	X				Diagnosed 2005, filing on behalf of dead mother. Mom died, father allegedly became incompetent - drug and alcohol dependent. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Insufficient showing of incompetence at time of bar date. In addition, claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

62	TRO885522FTC	Unknown	Richards, Atrice	Attrice Richardson	3348		X	X				Motion not included in Trust's summary. Diagnosed 1971, alleges child at time of deadline, but is old enough to have been diagnosed in 1971 so must have been approximately 38 years old at the time of the bar date. No other information provided, no other excuse offered. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. No showing as to relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
63	TRO886520FTC	12/7/2015	Moore, Loretta	Latanya Moore	3349	8371	X	X				Diagnosed 1980, the injured party died in 1998; rep lived out of town in 2009. A supplement filed at docket #8371, rep unaware of the bankruptcy case. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
64	TRO885038FTC	11/25/2015	Dunn, Melinda	Melinda Dunn	3350			X				Previously filed with atty Robert Powell in 2003, he was later incarcerated for corruption. Says she did not receive any notice or contact to inform her of bar date; later a friend informed her and she did some research and learned of future tort claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Contact with counsel in 2003 confirms awareness of legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect in the absence of a showing that counsel's own conduct should be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
65	TRO885254FTC	11/25/2015	Howard, Pearlle	Pearlie Howard	3351	3398 8060 8877		X			X	Diagnosed in 2010, exposed 12/13/2009. At time, did not know exposed. Moved out of area (lost all when house was destroyed) to Alabama; unaware of claims deadline. A duplicate of parts of this claim filed at docket #3398 and a supplement at docket # 8060. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8877 complaining about the process. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

66	TRO886975FTC	12/7/2015	Woodrick, Demetrius	Demetrius Woodrick	3352		X	X				Diagnosed in 2000. Alleges he made a claim in 2000 but attorney lost it. Any claim filed in 2000 must have related to a different proceeding because the bankruptcy case was not filed until 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Prior claim in another proceeding confirms prior awareness of injury and cause. Attorney conduct also is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief in the absence of a showing that the attorney's conduct was excusable. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
67	TRO887463FTC	12/14/2015	Hughes, Deborah	Deborah Hughes	3353		X	X				Diagnosed "yes," exhibited symptoms in 1999. Alleges that attorney lost the claim. Attorney conduct is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief unless the attorney's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Dealings with counsel confirm awareness of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
68	TRO884817FTC	11/25/2015	Coleman, Cameron	Cameron Coleman	3354			X				Diagnosed 1997. Claims was minor child in 1997 but no allegations as to status in 2009 or as to reasons why claim not filed before bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
69	TRO885775FTC	11/25/2015	McArtur, Alicia	Alicia McArthur	3355			X				Diagnosed 1975. "Unaware of proceedings." No due process challenge, insufficient explanation as to alleged excusable neglect. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

70	TRO885032FTC	11/25/2015	Ryan, Larry	Larry Ryan	3356		X	X				Diagnosed 1958. "Did not hear about claims filing." No explanation as to whether anything was done since 1958 diagnosis to pursue a claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
71	TRO885834FTC	11/25/2015	Bishop, John	Scherrell Sturdivant	3357			X				Diagnosed 2008. Someone (no indication who) said could not file on behalf of deceased family members. Not contend lack of knowledge or awareness of bar date. Alleged bad advice from another person is not grounds for relief unless the bad advice can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
72	TRO885938FTC	11/25/2015	Smith, Alfonzo	Alfonzo Smith	3358		X	X				Diagnosed 1980. "Had filed previous claim with no correspondes [sic] from Tronox. Did not realized I was qualified to reapply." Was part of prior litigation with Colon law firm. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Dealings with Colom firm confirm awareness of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim either was resolved in prior litigation or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
73	TRO886675FTC	12/7/2015	Dismuke, Timothy	Timothy Dismuke	3359		X	X				Diagnosed 2000. Says attorney (William Barbach) lost paperwork. Attorney conduct is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief unless the attorney's conduct is excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Dealings with counsel confirm awareness of claim and legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

74	TRO886674FTC	12/7/2015	Dismuke, Betty	Betty Dismuke	3360			X				Diagnosed "yes." Only says "I did paperwork was lost threw [sic] attorney." Unexcused attorney conduct is not grounds for due process or excusable neglect relief. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Dealings with attorney confirm awareness of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
75	TRO887459FTC	12/14/2015	Harris, Tremarcus	Tremarcus Harris	3361			X				Diagnosed "yes." Says attorney lost paperwork. Unexcused attorney conduct is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Dealings with attorney show awareness of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
76	TRO887571FTC	12/14/2015	Bryant, Diana	Diana Bryant	3362			X				Was never diagnosed, "I sense it on my own." Began exhibiting symptoms not before 2004. Only says that did not file claim because didn't know about the process, sent claim when found out. Says did not get a lawyer to pursue claim due to cost. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
77	TRO884247FTC	11/25/2015	Gadner, Eugene	Eugene Gadner	3363		X	X				Diagnosed 1999, says attorney lost paperwork in 1999. Part of prior litigation. Attorney conduct not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief without a showing that the attorney's conduct should be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Contact with attorney confirms awareness of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
78	TRO886794FTC	12/7/2015	Parks, Marquez	Marquez Parks	3364		X	X				First diagnosed 1988, says "I did file a proof of claim on July 12, 2009 and never heard anything else from my claim." Alleges that a timely claim was filed but there is no record of such a claim. Even if a claim had been filed, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

79	TRO886953FTC	12/7/2015	Pound, Carmen	Carmen Pound	3365			X				Diagnosed 1971, states that she moved her family twice in 2009, and had no permanent residence until September 2009. Does not challenge publication notice, does not make out legally sufficient case of due process violation. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
80	TRO886102FTC	Unknown	Swoop, Roosevelt	Roosevelt Swoop	3366			X				Motion not included in Trust's summary. Diagnosis year not included, exhibited symptoms in 1969, previously filed a claim or legal proceeding against Tronox, says that "I filed a tort claim trust" but appears to be referring to the late claim that was filed. No circumstances alleged to show excusable neglect, no due process claim made.
81	TRO884260FTC	11/25/2015	Bailey-Britton, LaTara	LaTara Bailey-Britton	3367	9469		X		X		Claims she filed a claim in connection with an earlier lawsuit and a claim in 2009 for which she heard nothing, then filed claims again in later years. No record of any proof of claim filed in the Tronox bankruptcy case in 2009. Prior lawsuit shows awareness of legal rights and claims. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. If claimant believes that she actually filed a timely claim in 2009 she may raise that issue with the Tort Claims Trust but that does not represent a request for relief based on excusable neglect or due process.
82	TRO884258FTC	11/25/2015	Bailey, Brandon	LaTara Bailey-Britton	3368	9471		X		X		First diagnosed in 1997, states that she did file a POC on behalf of her son on July 10, 2009 and "never heard anything else from it." Alleges a timely claim was filed, that is to be addressed by the Tort Claims Trust. Not an excusable neglect or due process issue.
83	TRO885646FTC	11/25/2015	Bradley, McArthur	McArthur Bradley	3369	8784	X	X				First diagnosed in June 1999, states that she did not file POC because she had "no knowledge" of the lawsuit, which was "due to no publication notices of the filing deadline." In fact, the notice of the bar date was published in the Commercial Dispatch (the local Columbus newspaper) in June 2009. In addition, claimant says was part of a 2002 class action with Wilbur Colom as counsel. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8784 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding confirms awareness of claim and legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim either was resolved in a prior proceeding or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

Says she "did not know much" about the Tronox bankruptcy case, thought she had to reside in the area her whole life. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on 1999 diagnoses also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim based on alleged post-bar date diagnoses are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
85	TRO887085FTC	12/14/2015	Brown, Earnestine	Earnestine Brown	3371		X	X				Diagnosed 2001, states that did not know about the possibility of receiving a settlement. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
86	TRO887535FTC	12/14/2015	DePetro, Joel	Joel DePetro	3372	4069					X	Claims did not know and had no reason to know exposed to Tronox product; says was a minor. The same claim was filed again at docket #4069. Will allow supplemental submission to confirm age at time of bar date and to explain why parents or guardians did not pursue a claim by the bar date, why claimant waited until 2015 to do so, and whether relief is warranted.
87	TRO887536FTC	12/14/2015	DePetro, Alexis	Alexis DePetro	3373			X				Diagnosed 1990, "did not know or have reason to know exposed prior to deadline." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
88	TRO886545FTC	12/7/2015	Billups, Connie	Connie Billups	3374		X	X				First diagnosed in 2002, states that she DID file a POC prior to the deadline, but there is no record of such a filing. Even if filed, the claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. No grounds for relief from the bar date are alleged or are proper.

89	TRO886933FTC	12/7/2015	Mack, Hattie	Hattie Mack	3375		X	X				Diagnosed 1990, alleges that she was in and out of the hospital, did not know she had to file by a deadline, and is taking so much medication that she can hardly think. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
90	TRO887042FTC	12/14/2015	Davis, Ricky	Ricky Davis	3376		X	X				Diagnosed 2000, alleges filed but paperwork was misplaced in 2000 by attorney in prior litigation. Attorney conduct is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief unless the attorney's own conduct is excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
91	TRO885718FTC	11/25/2015	Wilson, Jala	Tiffany Wilson	3377			X				Diagnosed 2007, did not know prior to deadline that minor daughter's condition was due to exposure to creosote. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
92	TRO886002FTC	12/7/2015	Wilson, Titus	Titus Wilson	3378			X				Says did not know and was not notified of his exposure to toxins but also says he made a prior claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
93	TRO886104FTC	12/7/2015	Smith, Precious	Precious Smith	3379		X	X				Diagnosed 1992, alleges did not know exposed to product at the time, and no one gave her a specific deadline, she filed at the same time as others whose claims were accepted. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
95	TRO886368FTC	Unknown	Richardson, Arlicia	Arlicia Richardson	3381						X	Motion not included on Trust's summary. Diagnosed 2004, but "was a child" at the time of the bar date. Will allow supplemental submission to explain why parent or guardian did not make a timely claim, why claimant waited until 2015 to do so, and whether relief is warranted.
96	Unknown	12/14/2015	Dickerson, Lemon	Yvonne Yancey	3383			X				No claim filed and no grounds for relief set forth; sent a letter asking that any correspondence re: her dead father be sent to her address.
97	TRO885076FTC	11/25/2015	Taylor, William, Jr.	William Taylor, Jr.	3384		X	X				Diagnosed 1985, only says "did not know." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
98	TRO892144FTC	2/23/2016	Sempa, Barbe	Barbe Sempa	3385			X				Diagnosed 1982, not aware eligible and claims never received notices. Alleges did not live in Avoca area when plant first opened, but also says lived in Avoca since 1981. Only alleges lack of direct notice, not sufficient to establish excusable neglect or due process issue. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
99	TRO880348FTC	12/4/2015	Roberts, Teresa	Teresa Roberts	3386			X		X		First diagnosed 1981, additional diagnoses in 2011 and 2016. Says attorney did not inform them of filing deadline. Mistake by counsel is not grounds for due process or excusable neglect relief unless counsel's mistake can itself be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Any claim based on a condition first diagnosed after bar date should be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.

No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
102	TRO885883FTC	Unknown	Burgin, Terrance	Terrance Burgin	3389			X		X		Motion not included in Trust's summary. Never diagnosed. Exhibited symptoms beginning 10/28/2009. Alleges publication notice insufficient. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
103	TRO884560FTC	11/25/2015	Sykes, Annie	Kimberly Martin	3390		X	X				First symptoms 1996; as to whether diagnosed, answered "yes." Mother died, filing on behalf of mother. Alleges attorney filed claim in 2002 (must have been another proceeding) but is now dead or not practicing. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Filing of prior claim shows awareness of rights. Attorney conduct is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief unless the attorney's own conduct can be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

106	TRO902609FTC	9/14/2016	Snopkowski, Joseph	Nancy Walsh	3393	4963 8057		X				Father was diagnosed in 1978, died in 1979. "I filed all paperwork sent to me, for my father, every time they sent me paperwork I filled it out." Apparently is referring to paperwork filed in connection with the late-filed claim. Supplement filed at docket #4963 and 8057, complains that other people received money without doctor reports. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
107	TRO887613FTC	12/14/2015	Whitfield, Christopher	Christopher Whitfield	3394			X		X		Unaware of an opportunity to file a proof of claim in the Tronox bankruptcy case. Says was exposed to Tronox product August 12, 2009 and his symptoms and diagnosis were August 14, 2009. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
108	TRO88644FTC	12/7/2015	Gardner, Barbara	Barbara Gardner	3395	9109		X				Diagnosis year not included. Alleges allergies and sinus issues. Says "I made a mistake on my dates, I'm sorry about that." Seems to be saying that did not know of exposure prior to deadline. A supplemental letter filed at docket #9109 complaining about the process. Insufficient details about circumstances and diligence in pursuit of claim to support relief. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
109	TRO884129FTC	11/13/2015	Hill, Edward	Edward Hill	3396	9296	X	X				Diagnosed 2001, attorney lost paperwork. A supplemental letter filed at docket #9296 complaining about the process. Attorney conduct is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief unless the attorney's own mistakes can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 110	TRO885455FTC	11/25/2015	Johnson, Amber	Amber Johnson	3397	8233		X				Diagnosed "yes," no reasons given for missing deadline. States that "I filed my claim at the same time as some of the ones you are allowing to be a future tort claim." A supplemental letter filed at docket #8233. A supplemental letter complaining about the process filed at docket #8647. Filing "future tort claim" in 2015 does not excuse failure to file by bar date, no grounds alleged upon which relief from the bar date could be granted.
111	TRO900359FTC	7/25/2016	Gorman, Bernard	Rosalie Gorman	3399			X				Diagnosed "at the age of 35" ... not filed on time because "wasn't aware until recently." Appears to have been filed on behalf of a relative. No verification of lack of knowledge of the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

145	TRO885701FTC	11/25/2015	Martin, Annie	Betty Davis	3433		X	X				Diagnosis in 1969, the injured party died in 1988. Rep says she was not aware of Tronox deadline. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
146	TRO885640FTC	11/25/2015	Baskin, Bernice	Sheryl Pusha	3434		X	X				1957 Diagnosis, injured party died in 2004. Rep says did not know that she was supposed to file in the bankruptcy court at all. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
147	TRO887224FTC	12/14/2015	Samuel, Glinda	Glinda Samuel	3435	4343 8220 9492	X	X				Previously filed with Cochran and Colom law firm 2000-2001, 2002, and Hamilton firm 2004; says that "Because of 'Judicial Malpractice' and counsellor ineptitude, [her] claim was Bounced around, Mishandled, and treated with disregard." She assumed that she was represented throughout the process. A duplicate is filed at docket # 4343; a supplement is filed at docket # 8220. Attorney mistake or malpractice is not a proper ground for excusable neglect or due process relief. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Dealings with attorneys show knowledge of claims. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, there is no indication the claim was ever subject of a filed lawsuit and it therefore was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

152	TRO884351FTC	11/25/2015	Jones, Tomarris	Tomarris Jones	3440		X	X				Diagnosis in 1991. Says did not receive a notice to file and was unaware of the lawsuit and was living out of town in a different Mississippi town; says that in his case the publication notice was not reasonably calculated to potential claimants. Notice was published in the Commercial Dispatch and other MS newspapers and complied with due process requirements. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
153	TRO884833FTC	11/25/2015	Irions, George	George Irions	3441		X	X				Diagnosis in 1970. Previously filed with the Colom law firm in 2002 Kerr-McGee Creosote Plant class action. Says did not see any publications about Tronox bankruptcy. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior class action confirms awareness of legal rights and claims. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim either was fully resolved in a prior action or was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
154	TRO889220FTC TRO887636FTC	2/23/2016	Poster, Gussie	Gussie Poster	3442		X	X				Diagnosis in 1978. Says unaware of the information and the possibility of her receiving a settlement for physical injuries. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
155	TRO884067FTC	11/13/2015	Ellis, Barbara	Barbara Ellis	3443		X	X				1984 diagnosis. Says she was unaware of the information and/or the possibility of receiving a settlement for physical injuries. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

156	TRO884834FTC	11/25/2015	Irions, Ada	Ada Irions	3444		X	X				1970 diagnosis, previously filed with the Colom law firm 2002. Says did not file a proof of claim because was unaware of this lawsuit; did not see any publication notification of this lawsuit or the bar date; standard language; her negligence to file by the bar date was because there was no publication notice of the claims filing deadline to provide notice for potential claimants who were unknown at the time of the notice. Publication notices did occur and they met due process standards as explained in the accompanying decision. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
157	TRO887583FTC	12/14/2015	Covington, Willie	Willie Covington	3445		X	X				Diagnoses in 1980s and 1990s. Says was unaware of the information or the possibility of receiving a settlement for physical injuries. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

158	TRO887049FTC	12/14/2015	Vaughn, Christine	Christine Vaughn	3446	8105		X			x	Says that first learned of Kerr-McGee lawsuit in 2003; she tried to find out where she could get an application. She learned that the Maranatha Faith Center had the application and tried to get one but was told that only church members were able to apply. It was about 11 years before they heard anything, nothing in news or paper, then on April 4, 2014, a big write-up about the settlement and clean up and on April 19, 2015, the WCBI news did an interview with Pastor Steve Jamison, these are the only times she heard about the case. (Given this timing the first references to picking up claims at the Church likely were in the early 2000s and in reference to a class action.) She did not know about a future tort claim until 2015 when a friend said her aunt called to check up on her claim and wanted to know if she could add a condition to her application and they told her to file a future tort claim; "unaware of deadline or that case was still open." A supplement was filed at docket #8105, does not understand why they say her claim was late when it was mailed at same time as others whose claims were allowed; says her diagnosis was after bar date and for others who had same diagnosis date, their claims were allowed. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Movant alleges awareness of Kerr-McGee potential fault. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
159	TRO888986FTC	12/30/2015	Wynn, Lynn	Lynn Wynn	3447	8185		X			X	Says that she filed a legal proceeding in approximately July of 2009 without a lawyer, mentions that she is a paralegal in a law firm; then says she filed her proof of claim late because that was when she became aware of the bar date; says she was away with a family member who was critically ill and was out of the county, does not provide dates or any supporting documents or verification of any legal proceedings allegedly filed. A supplemental response filed at docket #8185, again says filed timely claim in July 2009, but that contradicts statement that she filed late. Any contention as to a timely claim is to be addressed by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a request for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. To extent the claim was filed late, no legally sufficient excuse for late filing has been shown.

160	TRO886737FTC	12/7/2015	Davis, Jeffrey	Jeffrey Davis	3448			X				Diagnosis in 2005. Says not aware and no reason to know exposed to a Tronox product as the plant was in a neighboring town; it was not until years later when the future tort claim forms and information became known and available; called Trust and learned of the radius of exposure and that his residence was in area. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
161	TRO892317FTC	2/23/2016	Hollis, Dejuan	Dejuan Hollis	3449			X				Former resident of Columbus, MS. Diagnosis date(s) not clear. Says did not file because "no knowledge of a claim was against Kerr McGee at the time." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
162	TRO885936FTC	11/25/2015	Davenport, Pamela	Pamela Davenport	3450		X	X				1985 diagnosis. Says was told the bankruptcy case was closed and that claimants were not going to receive anything because Tronox was in bankruptcy, her spouse told her to file because they both were affected living there; he received his settlement. Alleges actual knowledge of bankruptcy and made a conscious decision not to file because of belief there would not be significant payouts, that is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
163	TRO886467FTC	12/7/2015	Hood, Charlene	Charlene Hood	3451			X		X		Some symptoms prior but claims all diagnoses were in 2009 or after; did not file due to illness such as symptoms and being placed in and out of hospital, complications with pregnancy. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, no grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
164	TRO884176FTC	11/25/2015	Conner, Geraldine	Amanda Crowell	3452			X		X		Says she did file (it appears with Garretson) but she called and they did not have them and they mailed her more forms. Dispute over an alleged prior timely filing is for resolution by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim for relief from the bar date based on excusable neglect or due process.

165	TRO884004FTC	11/13/2015	Fenton, Freddie	Freddie Fenton	3453	9158		X			X	Says had symptoms in prior years but no diagnosis until 2015. Says did not have condition before the time frame; there was no literature on the process of filing a claim; just did not know. A supplemental letter filed at docket #9158 complaining about the process. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
166	TRO901153FTC	8/16/2016	Gardner, Ben	Ben Gardner	3454			X			X	Diagnosis 2010; did not know there was a deadline. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
167	TRO891585FTC	2/23/2016	Hopkins, Patrick	Patrick Hopkins	3455			X			X	Says diagnosis 2009-2012; did not hear anything after filed claim in 2015. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

A supplement filed at docket #8175, complaining that filed at same time as others whose claims were allowed and they were not residents of area. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8711 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Dealings with counsel show awareness of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim based on a condition first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.

169	TRO893184FTC	2/23/2016	Robinson, John	John Robinson	3457		X	X			X	Diagnoses 1961 and 2017. Previously filed with the Colom law firm; says did not file because he is on disability and does not get around to socialize; says he was incompetent at that time and from time to time dealing with his illnesses. No supporting information provided sufficient to show inability to file a timely claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participated in prior litigation, knew of claim and potential liability. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claim based on 1961 diagnosis also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim based on a condition first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
170	TRO886080FTC	12/7/2015	Martin, Karen	Karen Martin	3458		X	X				1974 diagnosis. Previously filed with the Colom law firm but was told paperwork was lost; she assumed she could not file again but she moved to another county and then relatives told her to try again. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Prior filing with Colom law firm shows knowledge of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
171	TRO887103FTC	12/14/2015	Moore, Curtis	Curtis Moore	3459		X	X				1976 diagnosis, possibly another in 2007. Previously filed with Colom law firm 1999 and received $411- says he was later diagnosed with a more serious condition in 2007 but Tronox bankruptcy case did not inform him that he was eligible to refile; after hearing about people receiving settlements for lesser conditions and diseases, he inquired for the paperwork. Says Tronox was aware of the original claimants and knew to whom they had made payments but Tronox did not contact him. Prior settlement did not give Tronox reason to know the claimant allegedly had a new claim and did not require additional direct notice. On the other hand, prior claims show claimant's awareness of causal connection and liability. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

172	TRO884558FTC	11/25/2015	Moore, Herman	Bessie Moore	3460			X			X		Diagnoses 2007 and 2013, but also says the claimant filed with the Colom law firm in a 2002 Kerr-McGee Creosote Plant Class Action. The injured party died in 2017. Allegedly did not see any publications. No indication that injured party lacked knowledge of the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in class action shows knowledge of claims and legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claims based on pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim based on a condition first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
173	TRO886452FTC	12/7/2015	Hunter, Tracey	Tracey Hunter	3461		X	X					2005 diagnosis. Says hired an attorney at an unspecified time but then cancelled the representation. Says he did not receive a notice to file and was unaware of the bar date; says that someone recently informed him and therefore the publication notice of the bar date was not reasonably calculated to provide notice to potential claimants who were unknown at the time. Publication notice was sufficient for the reasons stated in the accompanying decision. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Dealings with attorney confirm awareness of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
174	TRO887334FTC	12/14/2015	Parks, Robert	Joyce Parks Johnson	3462			X					The injured party died in 2006; rep does not provide reason why he did not file in 2009, appears to contend that he did so. No record of any claim actually filed, no basis established for excusable neglect or due process relief.
175	TRO886987FTC	12/7/2015	Moody, Victor	Victor Moody	3463	8754		X			X		Says filed a claim with Wilbur Colom and alleges a timely claim was filed. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8754 complaining about the process. If claim was filed in a class action that does not constitute a claim in the bankruptcy case. If contends that Mr. Colom should have filed a bankruptcy claim but did not do so, that does not warrant relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's failure can be excused. If believes a timely proof of claim actually was filed in 2009, that is not a request for relief based on excusable neglect or due process, is to be resolved by Tort Claims Trust.

176	TRO884328FTC	11/25/2015	Moody, Ashley	Ashley Moody	3464	8736		X			X	Says a claim was filed with Wilbur Colom. Says diagnosis September 2009 and inconsistently later says she has proof that her conditions were prior to 2009. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8736 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Assertion that a timely claim was filed is not a request for relief based on excusable neglect or due process, is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
177	TRO885749FTC	11/25/2015	Ervin, Yvette	Yvette Ervin	3465			X				1981 Diagnosis. Does not provide a reason why claim was not filed. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 178	TRO885729FTC	11/25/2015	Jones, Earnest	Earnest Jones	3466			X			X	Says did not file because did not have the paperwork at the time; also says symptoms 2006 but no diagnosis until 2015. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. 179	TRO886129FTC	12/7/2015	Steels, Ernestine	Ernestine Steels	3467		X	X				Diagnosis 1983 and 1984. Says unaware exposed to a Tronox product. Submitted in 2015, alleges other claims submitted in 2015 have been accepted. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge, but insufficient showing of diligence in pursuit of claim and other elements to support excusable neglect relief. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

180	TRO887469FTC	12/14/2015	Wilkins, Charlie	Charlie Wilkins	3468	9063	X	X				March 1976 diagnosis. Unaware of the Tronox claims process, then spoke to an attorney who said he would get back in touch with him. Says found out later that people were filing papers and so he filed. A supplemental letter filed with others at dk #9063 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8709 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Prior legal claim shows awareness of rights. Attorney misconduct is not a ground for excusable neglect or due process relief unless the attorney's conduct may be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim that accrued in 1999 also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

Does not allege lack of awareness of the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
189	TRO880666FTC	12/4/2015	Ryczak, Peter	Peter Ryczak	3477			X				2005 and 2006 diagnoses and surgery. Says was unaware he could file a claim, no other details offered. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
190	TRO897243FTC	5/4/2016	Bailey, Alex	Yolanda Jones	3478		X	X				1968 diagnosis; injured party died in 1977. Rep says unaware could file claim for deceased relative; did not read an announcement regarding a filing date, nor did she see a deadline date in the news. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of bar date but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
191	TRO901989FTC	9/14/2016	Gilhooley, Patrick	Patrick Gilhooley	3479			X		X		Says diagnosis did not occur until September 2009. Does not allege a claim based on a pre-bar date diagnosis for which relief from the bar date is sought. Merits of any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
192	TRO891586FTC	2/23/2016	Hopkins, Doris	Doris Hopkins	3480			X		X		Did not know anything about tort claims process; says symptoms and diagnoses 2009, 2010, 2011, and 2012. Date of 2009 diagnosis not clear. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

193	TRO887133FTC	12/14/2015	Williams, Sammie	Sammie Williams	3481		X	X				1994 diagnosis, says that Maranatha Center filled out paperwork for him on March, 15, 1999; says he did not get papers until 2 days before filing date, mailman put mail out at the wrong address. Appears to be referring to an earlier class action as the bankruptcy of Tronox was not filed until 2009. No explanation offered as to why missed the 2009 bar date in the Tronox bankruptcy case. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Prior claims in 1999 confirm awareness of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of bar date but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
194	TRO895082FTC	3/23/2016	Shinn, Titus	Titus Shinn	3482			X		X		Says was a minor; says he is incompetent can't read; does not say why a guardian did not file; says did not know and no reason to know exposed to a Tronox product; says symptoms and diagnosis September 2009. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
195	TRO895078FTC	3/23/2016	Shinn, Jahiem	Jahiem Shinn	3483			X		X		Says no diagnosis until June 2010. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
196	TRO895077FTC	3/23/2016	Clay, Camelia	Camelia Clay	3484			X		X		Says diagnosis was in 2013. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
197	TRO895079FTC	3/23/2016	Shinn, Jolene	Jolene Shinn	3485		X	X				1998 Diagnosis. No excuse provided and therefore no basis for relief. Claim also was time-barred under applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
198	TRO895080FTC	3/23/2016	Jennings, Toney	Toney Jennings	3486						X	March 2009 diagnosis. Says was a child and incompetent and a slow learner and can't read and has to have someone else do it for her; does not say why a guardian did not file. Will permit supplemental submission explaining why parents or guardians did not file, reason why claimant did not file until 2016, and whether relief is warranted.

199	TRO895075FTC	3/23/2016	Shinn, Florence	Florence Shinn	3487			X			X	Says diagnosed in August 2009; says incompetent at time of claim filing deadline and can't read it; has to have someone do it for her. Unclear if diagnosis was before or after the August 12, 2009 bar date. August 2009 diagnosis might explain reason why August bar date was initially missed but no explanation is provided for the failure to file a claim until March 2016, more than six years after the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claims based on pre-bar date diagnoses. Insufficient support offered as to asserted incompetence. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
200	TRO895085FTC	3/23/2016	Shinn, Cornelia Glenn	Cornelia Glenn Shinn	3488			X				July 2009 disease and diagnosis, did not know and no reason to know was exposed to a Tronox product. July 2009 diagnosis might explain reason why August bar date was initially missed but no explanation is provided for the failure to file a claim until March 2016, more than six years after the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
201	TRO884665FTC	11/25/2015	Summerville, Eddie	Eddie Summerville	3489		X	X				September 2000 diagnosis. Explanation: "thought the deadline was completed and Tronox was not taking any more applicants." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

202	TRO885974FTC	11/25/2015	James, Kathleen	Kathleen James	3490		X	X				Says that symptoms started in 1977 but was diagnosed at time started school in 1990. Then says that it was her guardian who would have to fill out form but that person was the hospital sick at the time, does not specify time. Given onset of symptoms in 1977 the claimant was no less than 41 years old at the time of the bar date, no showing as to incompetence or infancy and no showing of why claimant could not file a claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of bar date but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
203	TRO884958FTC	11/25/2015	Jefferson, Ytansa	Ytansa Jefferson	3491		X	X				2003 diagnosis. Says was unaware of the possibility of receiving a settlement for physical injuries. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Only alleges lack of actual knowledge of claims process, insufficient showing as to elements of excusable neglect, not support a due process claim. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
204	TRO885827FTC	11/25/2015	Williams, Pat	Pat Williams	3492			X			X	Alleges first diagnosis in 2014. Says she applied in "the round first prior to the deadline" but did not receive written notice as to the status of her paperwork and she filed again when it was advertised; is apparently referring to post-2009 filings. No claim has been asserted based on a pre-bar date diagnosis, therefore no proper motion has been made for relief from the bar date to assert such a claim. The merits of any claim based on a condition first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
205	TRO885478FTC	11/25/2015	Talley-Wilson, Lucy	Jerome Wilson	3493		X	X				The injured party died in 1978. Rep says knew nothing of this chemical waste or the lawsuit or the damage caused by the chemical or how it affected her relative. No showing as to relative's knowledge, or knowledge of other representatives, or of diligence in pursuing claim based on 1970s diagnosis. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

206	TRO897558FTC	5/25/2016	Kress, Michael	Corinne Bendowski	3494			X				The injured party died in 1995. Rep does not provide an excuse or justification for late claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. No showing of relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
207	TRO884329FTC	11/25/2015	Moody, Victoria	Victoria Moody	3495	8738	X	X		X		2000 diagnosis. Previously filed with Wilbur Colom; says a claim was filed in bankruptcy by filing deadline but there is no record of such a bankruptcy claim, claimant may be confused with claim filed in prior class action. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8738 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior class action shows awareness of legal rights. If claim was fully resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. If claim was not the subject of a prior proceeding, then it was time-barred before the Tronox bankruptcy. If the claim was the subject of a still-pending proceeding, it should have been filed by the bar date, because counsel (Mr. Colom) received direct notice of the bar date. If claimant believes a proof of claim actually was filed, that is not a request for relief from the bar date, and instead is an issue to be raised with the Tort Claims Trust.
208	TRO887606FTC	12/14/2015	Jefferson, Tyrone	Tyrone Jefferson	3496		X	X				First diagnosed in 2004. Says tried filing a claim when he heard but never got form; not clear if is referring to 2009 or some other time period. Says did not think he was able to file a claim until he started getting eczema and high blood pressure, but motion alleges those symptoms began in 2004, which was five years before the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
209	TRO881061FTC	12/4/2015	Jones, Sallie	Judy Jennings	3497	9366	X	X				2002 diagnosis; the injured party died in 2010. Rep does not provide an explanation for lack of timely filing. A supplemental letter filed at docket #9319 and docket #9366 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. No proper grounds alleged for relief from the bar date. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

210	TRO902526FTC	9/14/2016	Magda, Andrew	Theresa Magda	3498	5547		X				The injured party is deceased; rep says did not know that the residents of Avoca filed a class action lawsuit against Kerr McGee, but no information or verification as to whether deceased was aware. Additional letter is at docket # 5547. Risks of creosote exposures and news of class actions were the subject of widespread news coverage in Avoca. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
211	TRO886774FTC	12/7/2015	Nicholson, Denai	Denai Nicholson	3499						X	2006-07 diagnosis. Says at the time she was a minor and unable to file a claim; does not say why guardian did not file a claim. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
212	TRO892850FTC	2/23/2016	Glenn, Kelli	Kelli Glenn	3500		X			X		Former resident of Columbus, MS. Asthma diagnosis 2008, other diagnoses after 2009. Moved to Texas, and had no reason to know was exposed to a Tronox product. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. 213	TRO888177FTC	Unknown	Weaver, Frank	Frank Weaver	3501	9325	X			X		Motion was not included in the Trust's summary. Did not fill out form or sign declaration but attached a statement. Inconsistent statements as to exposure dates (saying at one point that exposure started in 1965 but saying at another point that was first exposed after the bar date). Says was not diagnosed until 2012. A supplemental letter filed with others at docket #9325 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on pre-2006 diagnoses also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

216	TRO897851FTC	5/25/2016	James, Tiffany	Tiffany James	3504		X	X				Diagnosed 2004. No knowledge of exposure prior to deadline. Was minor living with grandmother as guardian and relied on her. No explanation as to grandmother's knowledge or as to reasons why she did not file a claim. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
217	TRO884496FTC	11/25/2015	Stewart, Ella	Sarah Jones	3505			X				Diagnosed 1975, "unaware of the filing date." Lived out of state. Filing on behalf of deceased mother. Wants this to be considered "excusable neglect." Says that the injured party participated in a 2002 class action suit. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim resolved in prior litigation could not be reasserted in the Tronox bankruptcy.

218	TRO892003FTC	2/23/2016	Clark, Earnest	Diane Stinson	3506		X	X				2005 diagnosis. Filing on behalf of deceased relative. Refers to unspecified presentations about Kerr-McGee chemicals causing injuries, alleges unfairness that cannot have compensation for Mr. Clark's injuries. No explanation as to failure to file by bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of bar date but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Movant alleges it is unjust that people have not been compensated but does not explain any circumstances regarding prior knowledge of issues, pursuit of claim, or reasons why excusable neglect relief would be appropriate. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
220	TRO892008FTC	2/23/2016	Stinson, Diane	Diane Stinson	3508		X	X				Diagnosed 2001, does not properly allege excusable neglect or grounds for due process relief, just says "I was not aware." Same family group as claims 3506 and 3507. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 224	TRO892483FTC	2/23/2016	Sims, Shameka	Shameka Simas	3512			X				Diagnosed 2009, alleges mom filed a claim with an attorney they never heard back from in 2009. Allegations about prior timely claim are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, not an excusable neglect or due process issue. If attorney failed to file, that is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless the attorney's own failure can be excused.
225	Unknown	Unknown	Durrah, Abby	Abby Durrah	3513	8084		X		X		Motion is not included in the Trust's summary. Says she is filing for reconsideration of her claim but no motion for relief based on excusable neglect or due process has been filed. At docket #3513, she filed a rejection of the amount the trust offered as an allowed claim. She filed a separate claim on behalf of a relative at docket #3774. Docket # 8084 is a request for reconsideration. Any review of the Trust's decision as to a post-bar date claim must proceed through the Trust's dispute resolution procedures.
226	TRO901860FTC	9/14/2016	Bishop, Fredia	Fredia Bishop	3514		X	X				Diagnosed 1978. Filing for mother. "Didn't know about deadline." Says was a child, does not know if mother ever made a claim. Alleges her own lack of knowledge of the bar date but makes no showing as to relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

Moved to Delaware in 2003 and remarried. "I don't remember getting notice then [in 2003]. When I did get them it was too painful to remember and put them aside."). Reference to notices in 2003 appears to confuse the 2009 bankruptcy process with a prior class action. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
230	TRO880509FTC	12/4/2015	Ward, Paula	Paula Ward	3518	8053		X				Diagnosed 2007, contacted Powell Law firm multiple times before filing deadline but was told they weren't accepting new claims, left name but attorney neglected to call her. Alleges that "this was a complete violation of due process by Powell Law Firm." A supplement filed at docket #8053, accuses Powell firm of misconduct. Bankruptcy filing did not occur until January 2009 and bar date was August 12, 2009, so prior communications with Powell firm in 2007 could not have been about the Tronox bankruptcy process. In any event unexcused conduct by counsel is not a proper ground for excusable neglect or due process relief. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001, and contact with the Powell firm shows movant's awareness of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

231	TRO913662FTC	6/28/2017	Czaja, Louis	Louis Czaja	3519			X				Diagnosed 2000 and 2008. Alleges that had no reason to know exposed prior to deadline, first heard of claims process from a neighbor in 2017. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
232	TRO886831FTC	12/7/2015	Gordon, Pearl	Pearl Gordon	3520			X		X		Diagnosed 2012. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
233	TRO890221FTC	2/23/2016	Ervin, Jerry	Jerry Ervin	3521		X	X				Former resident of Columbus, MS. Diagnosed 2000. "Did not know or had paperwork to file." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
234	TRO893137FTC	2/23/2016	Stewart, Annette	Annette Stewart	3522		X	X				Diagnosed 1997, "did not understand, I only have a third grade education." But also alleges making a claim "back when the lawsuit began." Unclear if reference to prior claim is to a class action that preceded the bankruptcy case. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
235	TRO901861FTC	9/14/2016	Bishop, Peggy	Fredia Bishop	3523		X	X				Diagnosed 1977. Contends that a claim was filed in July 2000, which must have been part of a prior class action. Alleges lack of knowledge of Tronox deadlines. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, the claim either was resolved in prior action or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
238	TRO893067FTC	2/23/2016	Jackson, Dwain	Dwain Jackson	3526		X	X				Diagnosed in 1990, did not file because not in the state, only found out about deadline when came home for a funeral. States that he filed original claim back in 2001 and 2002, but he declined an offer, attorney "took the money and left the country." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

239	TRO886926FTC	12/7/2015	Starks, Doris	Doris Starks	3527	8040	X	X				Diagnosed 1990, did not see any publication notice. Claims due process issue - lived out of state and publication notice not reasonably calculated to provide notice to potential claimants. A supplemental letter complaining concerning process for herself and 85 other claimants filed at docket #8040. Alleges participation in class action in 2002. Publication notices were reasonable in scope, with notices published in areas where plants were located and in national newspaper. Participation in prior proceeding also shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim either was resolved in a prior class action or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

No allegation of lack of knowledge of bar date, no dates as to death in family, no showing of prompt action and diligence in pursuing rights. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
245	TRO886620FTC	12/7/2015	Henry, Jerome	Ellen Henry	3533		X	X				Diagnosed 2001, "incompetent" at time of deadline - no factual elaboration, e.g., circumstances surrounding alleged incompetence. Appears related to claimants in claims 3530, 3531, 3532. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
246	TRO903576FTC	11/23/2016	Henry, Cherish	Lakoya Henry	3534						X	Diagnosed 2005, "child - under the age of 18." No allegation as to conduct of parent or guardian, no allegation of lack of awareness. Appears related to claimants in claims 3530, 3531, 3532 and 3533. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
247	TRO890069FTC	2/23/2016	Grant, Alexandra	Alexandra Grant	3535			X				Diagnosed 1994, living in New Orleans and mail not forwarded and allegedly was dealing with hurricane Katrina, but Hurricane Katrina was in 2005, long before the bar date in August 2009. Says the bar date was not advertised in New Orleans area, but notice of the bar date was published in cities where plants had been located and in the national edition of the Wall Street Journal. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

248	TRO884023FTC	11/13/2015	McCrary, Patricia	Patricia R. McCrary	3536			X				Listed in Trust's summary with a different claim number [TRO884024FTC]. Diagnosed 2003, filing on behalf of child, part of 2002 action. Says was "not given a direct notice of the significance of the claim filing deadline." Complains of lack of direct notice but no allegation that Tronox knew the claimant's child had a potential claim. Participation in prior litigation shows awareness of rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
249	TRO885430FTC	11/25/2015	Randolph, John	Patricia Randolph	3537			X				Diagnosed 2008, failed to file on dad's behalf because he was in hospice and child was caring for him during that time. However, dad died on 4/26/2008, and child could have filed by bar date. Insufficient showing to warrant relief based on excusable neglect.
250	TRO891849FTC	2/23/2016	Jackson, Albert	Albert Jackson	3538			X				Exposure started 1969, symptoms 1978, when asked when first diagnosed answered "yes." Says was living in Milwaukee at time of deadline, has to be on oxygen for breathing. A rejection notice filed at docket #3913. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
251	TRO887997FTC	12/18/2015	Brown, Theresa	Theresa Brown	3539		X	X				First diagnosed 2000, "when the process begin, I did not understand that question ask to the best of my knowledge that I needed to list the dates and toxins." Describes first claim in 2015 but does not explain failure to file in 2009. Motion denied for failure to show grounds warranting relief. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
252	TRO901557FTC	8/16/2016	Lang, Sheena	Sheena Lang	3540		X	X		X		First diagnosed 1990 for eye muscle disorder, not diagnosed for hypertension, high blood pressure, anxiety, other conditions until after bar date. Says did not know/no reason to know exposed prior to deadline. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

253	TRO894769FTC	3/23/2016	Stewart, Kardy	Kardy Stewart	3541			X			X	Diagnosed 2007, states that "I did file a POC in the Tronox bankruptcy case by the claims deadline but I never heard from them." Dispute over alleged timely filed claim is not a proper request for excusable neglect or due process relief, any dispute over this claim is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust.
254	TRO893552FTC	2/23/2016	Colebrooke, Minola	Minola Colebrooke	3542	8170	X	X				Diagnosed 2003, filed initial claim in December 2004 with an attorney and corresponded with "Creosote Litigation Group" in 2005. Contends he should be entitled to an additional settlement for asthma condition, prior litigation submission was for sarcoidosis. Prior litigation proceeding shows awareness of rights and of connection to creosote exposure. A supplement filed at docket #8170, says unaware of lawsuit because lives in Florida. Also says Trust has been sending her responses under two different claim numbers even though she says that claim number TRO888080FTC was superceded by claim # TRO893552FTC. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim either was already resolved in prior litigation or it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
255	TRO897453FTC	5/25/2016	Jones, Ola	Minola Colebrooke	3543	8199	X	X				Diagnosed 1985. Refers to prior dealings with Creosote Litigation Group in 2005, says did not know could submit on deceased mother's behalf. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8199, rep said unaware of lawsuit as she lived in Florida. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Reference to prior dealings with Creosote Litigation Group shows awareness of legal rights and participation (or opportunity to participate) in prior legal proceeding. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
256	TRO895494FTC	3/2/2016	Lucious, Christopher	Christopher Lucious	3544	8354	X	X			X	Trust's summary incorrectly listed the claim number as TRO894494FTC. Diagnoses in 2001 and 2010. Says did not file because "no one informed me about filing a claim." A supplement filed at docket #8354, says incarcerated from 2009-2012, unaware of lawsuit, no way to get notice to file a claim. Claim based on 2001 diagnoses claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

257	TRO888010FTC	12/18/2015	Smith, Rebecca	Rebecca Smith	3545		X	X				Diagnosed July 2002. Says that filed in October 2015, "when the process began I did not understand that I needed to list all of my conditions." Reference to her understanding about what was required with filing appears to be a reference to her October 2015 filing. No explanation of failure to file by 2009 bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
258	TRO901385FTC	8/16/2016	Cituk, John, Jr.	John Cituk, Jr.	3546			X		X		Diagnosed 2002 with a non-cancerous lesion but more serious diagnoses in 2010 and later years for cancerous lymphoma. Also states that did not file a claim on time because "living in NJ and PA, was not very optimal of being informed about the claims." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Alleges did not know or have reason to know of exposure to toxic substance. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on pre-2006 diagnoses were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
261	TRO902899FTC	10/13/2016	Aston, John	Genevieve Aston	3549			X			X	Diagnosed 2001, filing on behalf of deceased son who died in 2007, states that he sent a death certificate when he first filed (date unspecified) and never "received a proof of claim." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Insufficient allegations of lack of knowledge or of other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. If believes he made a timely claim that is for resolution by the Tort Claims Trust, is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief.
262	TRO886671FTC	12/7/2015	Gardner, Robert	Gretta Gardner	3550		X	X				Diagnosed 2001, didn't know needed to file, thought was "already being represented." Appears to be a reference to prior class actions. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Awareness of prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 263	TRO888237FTC	12/18/2015	Lagrone, Johnny	Johnny Lagrone	3551		X	X				Diagnosed 1980, only states that he did not know about the deadline, but also alleges made a claim through the Colom law firm. Appears to be a reference to prior litigation. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Complaints about counsel are not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief unless counsel's conduct can itself be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

265	TRO897755FTC	Unknown	Stewart, Robert	Robert Stewart	3553		X	X				Motion is not listed in the Trust's summary. Diagnosed in 1992, alleges publication notice was a due process violation because it did not actually reach everyone. The publication notices were reasonable and sufficient for the reasons stated in the accompanying decision. Does not allege that Tronox had reason to know of his injuries or of other circumstances that would make publication notice invalid. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 309	TRO893363FTC	2/23/2016	Jones, Sandra	Sandra Jones	3597		X	X				Diagnosed 1980, alleges lack of knowledge, says filed when first heard about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
310	TRO915022FTC	7/26/2017	Love, Shanna	Shanna Love	3598			X		X		Claims 2010 exposures and March 2010 diagnosis. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
311	TRO88420FTC	11/25/2015	Brooks, Veda	Veda Brooks	3599		X	X				Exposed/diagnosed in 1999, claims filed with an attorney in 2000 but paperwork was lost by attorney. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Prior contact with attorney about claims shows awareness of claim and legal rights. Conduct by attorney is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief unless the attorney's conduct can be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
312	TRO893441FTC	2/23/2016	People, Javonte	Javonte People	3600		X	X				Diagnosed 1997. 314	TRO897571FTC	5/25/2016	Belotti, Leonard	Gertrude Belotti	3602	8039		X				Diagnosed 1992 and prior years. Filing on behalf of husband, alleges did not know or have reason to know husband was exposed before filing deadline; says did not have notice. A duplicate filed at docket #8039. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
315	TRO898674FTC	6/27/2016	Askew, Martina	Martina Askew	3603		X	X				Diagnosed 2003, states not aware deadline passed. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
316	TRO893416FTC	2/23/2016	Nat, John	John Nat	3604	8366		X				Diagnosed 2000, 2003 and 2008. "Unaware I should be included in the claim." Alleges his wife received direct notice of the process and that he assumed that if he did not get direct notice he was not eligible to file. Believes it was an "oversight on behalf of the original attorneys." A supplemental letter filed at docket #8366 indicating claimant is deceased. Knowledge of notices received by wife shows knowledge of the process, alleged oversight of attorneys or unexplained mistake in interpreting the notice is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

318	TRO898493FTC	Unknown	Areshai T. Elliot	Areshai T. Elliot	3606			X			X	Motion is not included in the Trust's summary. Diagnosed 2010, but does say "I actually did file before the deadline but I left some information out on my application." Reference to prior filing appears to be to the filing of the late claim, mistakenly believed it was timely. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
319	TRO895764FTC	3/24/2016	Douglas, Frederick	Frederick Douglas	3607		X	X				Diagnosed 2000-2008, says filed in 2000 with William Bombach, does not know what happened. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Prior filing with counsel shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for excusable neglect or due process relief unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Claims based on conditions first diagnosed prior to 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
320	TRO889626FTC	2/23/2016	Hill, Leshon	Leshon Hill	3608		X	X			X	Diagnosed 2000. Claims he did file a claim in the case but did not hear back; not clear if he is alleging a prior claim in a class action, or a timely bankruptcy claim filing before 8/12/09, or a late-filed claim. Any dispute as to timely filed claim is not a request for relief from the bar date and is an issue for resolution by the Tort Claims Trust. If claim was late: no reason is offered, not warrant excusable neglect or due process relief. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
321	TRO891590FTC	2/23/2016	Miller, Kristina	Kristina Miller	3609	4962 8852		X			X	Some conditions diagnosed prior to bar date, some after bar date. Supplement filed at docket #4962. Says "did not know anything about deadline." A supplemental letter filed at docket #8852 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

Filed late claim in 2016 (eight years after first diagnosis, 6 years after second diagnosis). Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect relief as to conditions first diagnosed before the bar date. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
323	TRO898881FTC	6/27/2016	Kelly, Keyante	Manuela Kelly	3611		X	X				Diagnosed in 2005, alleges no knowledge of claims filing deadline and was not made aware of it. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief.
325	TRO894311FTC	3/2/2016	Greenlee, Robin	Mary Lishman	3613	8012 8112		X			X	Father diagnosed with prostate cancer in 2007, died in late 2009. Relative says that "there was no publication notice or media notice" but certificates on file prove publication in accordance with Court's order, including publication in The Commercial Dispatch in June 2009. A supplement filed at docket #8012 identifies additional conditions allegedly diagnosed after bar date. Supplement at docket # 8112. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim based on a condition first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

335	TRO892411FTC	2/23/2016	Williams, Gary	Gary Williams	3623		X	X				Diagnosed 1967, made claims in 2005, 2007, 2009, 2010, 2012, 2014, and 2015, but never received notice of filing deadline. Filed these claims pro se. Claims filed before 2009 could not have been in connection with the bankruptcy process as the bankruptcy case was not filed until 2009. It appears this claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. No grounds stated for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any dispute as to whether a timely claim was actually filed is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust as that is not a claim for relief from the bar date based on excusable neglect or due process.
336	TRO880934FTC	12/4/2015	Williams, Edna	Edna Williams	3624		X	X				Diagnosed 2000, claims filed with Wilbur Colom but "attorney lost paperwork." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process unless counsel's conduct is excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 391	TRO892956FTC	2/23/2016	Coley, Mary	Mary Coley	3679	8324 8700	X	X				Diagnosed 2005. "Was not aware of claims process." A supplement filed at docket #8324, without knowledge to wade through process. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8700 with others complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
392	TRO904276FTC	1/3/2017	Roberts, Ollie	Linnie Cooperwood	3680		X	X				Diagnosis was before 2009, filing on behalf of deceased, says that "the lawyers that filed the suits in 2000 said that they weren't eligible to file because we were already in a lawsuit." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. If claim was fully resolved in a prior proceeding then it could not be reasserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. If claim was not fully resolved in prior proceeding, then it was time-barred before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

394	TRO884121FTC	11/13/2015	Johnson, Tiffany	Tiffany Johnson	3682		X	X		X		Diagnosed 2005, believes did file on time but only record is of claim filed in 2015, claimant may be under mistaken belief that the 2015 claim was timely. If contends a timely claim was filed in 2009 that is an issue to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim based on excusable neglect or lack of due process. If claim was late, no excuse offered. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
395	TRO904618FTC	1/24/2017	Wilson, JW	Linnie Cooperwood	3683		X	X				Diagnosed "before 2009," filing on behalf of deceased. 398	TRO894889FTC	3/23/2016	Johnson, Precious	Precious Johnson	3686	8967		X			X		Diagnosed 2007, says did not know/had no reason to know exposed prior to deadline. A supplemental letter filed with others at docket #8967 complaining about the process. Alleges a new and more serious diagnosis in 2017. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claims based on pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
399	TRO880232FTC	12/4/2015	Karriem, Yusuf	Yusuf Karriem	3687							X	Diagnosed 2003, recites reasons for not filing by quoting verbatim from the determination notice without elaborating on underlying reasons. Alleges was a child at time of bar date, no explanation as to awareness by parents or guardian or why they did not file a claim. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
400	TRO887972FTC	12/18/2015	Lacomis, Edmund	Edmund Lacomis	3688			X					Diagnosed 2003, "was not informed." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
401	TRO880678FTC	12/4/2015	Graham, Monica McCrary	Monica McCrary Graham	3689			X					Diagnosed 1999, did not know of claim process, says did not know exposed at time of filing. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
402	TRO884119FTC	11/13/2015	Shinn, Joscia	Joscia Shinn	3690		X	X			X		Diagnosed first in 1989, series of later diagnoses, some after 2009. Discusses how long she has lived in area but does not provide any reason for why not filed by deadline. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on diagnoses before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

403	TRO890017FTC	2/23/2016	Wilson, Lovenia	Linnie Cooperwood	3691			X				Injured party was diagnosed before 2009 and died before 2009. Relative says she did not know of the process or the deadline. No showing as to deceased's knowledge or awareness of rights, pursuit of other claims. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
404	TRO897291FTC	5/4/2016	Porter, Cora	Freddie Porter	3692	8279		X				Diagnosis date not provided, says "did not know about the claims process." A supplement filed at docket #8279, without knowledge to wade through the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
405	TRO884638FTC	11/25/2015	Hughes, Johnny	Johnny Hughes	3693		X	X				Diagnosed 1998, "not aware of proceeding." States that information was not widely known. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
406	TRO893758FTC	3/2/2016	Handerson, Annie	Wilene Gray	3694	8232	X	X				Diagnosed 1999, attorney (Bambach) lost papers. A supplement filed at docket #8232, complains that claimants who did not live in area were allowed claims but she who lived in area was not. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

407	TRO887637FTC	12/14/2015	Stewart, Gennette	Genette Stewart	3695			X				Diagnosed with cancer in March 2009, "because I was treated until such time of sickness - and that why I filed." Appears to allege sickness at time of bar date as reason for not filing. No explanation, however, as to why claim was not filed until more than 6 years after the bar date, in December 2015. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
408	TRO901151FTC	8/16/2016	Ford, Dorothy	Dorothy Ford	3696		X	X				Diagnosed 1968, not aware of deadline. 410	TRO880332FTC	12/4/2015	Poindexter, Vincent	Vincent Poindexter	3698		X	X				First diagnosed 1996. Says attorney (Bombach) gathered claim information and lost it. Says EPA visited in 2008 and took names but sent no other information. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
411	TRO886379FTC	12/7/2015	Harris, Javonta	Javonta Harris	3699		X	X				Included on the Trust's summary but without a listed docket number. Diagnosed 2000, "was not aware of claims process." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

412	TRO891965FTC	2/23/2016	Harris, Emma	Emma Harris	3700		X	X				Docket 3700 is actually a motion for Emma Harris; it was mislabelled as a motion for Annie Dixon. The motion for the Annie Dixon claim is actually at docket 4401. Emma Harris was diagnosed in 1996. Gave $40 to Judy Bulgin (sp?) to file a claim, had an asbestos test done and was told she was not eligible, thought that meant she should file a Tronox claim. Did not fill out other paperwork because she did not understand importance of it. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
413	TRO898671FTC	6/27/2016	Walker, Essence	Essence Walker	3701			X				Diagnosed 2009, does not say what month. "Didn't have no idea at the time." Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
414	TRO885951FTC	11/25/2015	Lang, Johnny	Unknown	3702	3737	X	X				Says diagnosed 2008, but alleges that he was part of a 2002 action through the Tollison law firm. Also says "I file in a timely manner, I was approved for funds. I don't understand why I am not approved now." Reference to timely filing appears to be reference to class action, which was a separate proceeding and not part of the Tronox bankruptcy. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim either was resolved in the prior action or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
415	TRO884234FTC	11/25/2015	Shinn, Laquilla	Lawuilla Shinn	3703		X	X		X		Diagnosed in 1988, 2000, 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011. Was told to send a copy of every location they lived in, they seemed to believe this was sufficient. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on pre-2006 diagnoses also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.

416	TRO892255FTC	2/23/2016	Latham, Cherell	Cherell Latham	3704						X	Diagnosed 1997, was a child at time of deadline. No allegation as to knowledge or awareness of parent or guardian or as to reasons why they did not file a timely claim. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
417	TRO891331FTC	2/23/2016	Burns, Muriel	Muriel Burns	3705		X	X				Diagnosed 1993, job required traveling, states that publication notice was insufficient as a result. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but does not allege that Tronox knew of his claim and does not challenge the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Publication notices were reasonable and in compliance with due process requirements for the reasons stated in the accompanying decision. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
418	TRO891958FTC	2/23/2016	Hall, Lenita	Lenita Hall	3706		X	X				Diagnosed 1996, was out of state, was not made aware of case until came back to Mississippi. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
419	TRO890864FTC	2/23/2016	Givens, Dorothy	Dorothy Givens	3707		X	X				Diagnosed 1998, "was not aware of claims." Attached letter states that she was unaware of the dangers of living in the area. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

420	TRO896692FTC	Unknown	Anthony Stewart	Anthony Stewart	3708		X	X				Motion was not included in the Trust's summary. Diagnosed 1981. Alleges publication notice not reasonable but only in a conclusory way. No allegation that Tronox should have known of his claim and should have sent an individualized notice, no criticism of publication notices that were approved. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
421	TRO898655FTC	6/27/2016	Moore, Nautica	Nautica Moore	3709			X				Diagnosed 2009, no month provided, "didn't have no idea at the time." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claims based on pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
422	TRO888294FTC	12/18/2015	Patmon, Louise	Louise Patmon	3710		X	X				Diagnosed 1985 and 2005, not aware of claims process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

424	TRO893893FTC	3/2/2016	Griffin, April	April Griffin	3712		X	X				Diagnosed 1995 and 1997, not aware of process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
425	TRO896577FTC	4/25/2016	Jonts, Caroline Salter	Caroline Jones	3713			X				Diagnosed 2008, did submit claim in 2015, Kerr Mckee has allegedly misplaced her claim. Appears to be under the impression that the 2015 claim was timely. No reason given for failure to file by original bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
426	TRO902826FTC	10/13/2016	Cockrell, Pearlie	Pearlie Cockrell	3714		X	X				Diagnosed 2000, did file claim but alleges was not paid fairly. Apparently filed claim in a prior legal proceeding and not the bankruptcy case. If the claim was resolved in a prior legal proceeding then it could not be reasserted in the Tronox bankruptcy case. If the claim was not resolved, then the prior proceeding shows an awareness of legal rights and the movant has failed to show sufficient diligence in pursuing the same. In addition, if the claim was not fully resolved in the prior proceeding then it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
427	TRO88041FTC	12/4/2015	Taggart, Dottie	Taggart, Dottie	3715	8058	X	X				Diagnosed 1972, Howard Gunn filed claim for her in 2001, family has been paid but she has not. A supplement filed at docket #8058 complaining that she filed with one law firm and case was transferred to a new law firm; says Garretson firm (for Tort Claims Trust) allegedly assured her that claim was in lawsuit; Tollison firm said she was represented, but later could not find papers; went to meeting of claimants in Columbus, and was assured was in lawsuit; law firms failed to properly file and handle claim or misplaced them. Refers to filing of claim in a prior class action, which was a different proceeding and which did not constitute a claim in the bankruptcy case. Prior work with attorney shows awareness of claim and of rights. If claim was fully resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. If claim was not the subject of a prior proceeding, then it was time-barred before the Tronox bankruptcy. If the claim was the subject of a still-pending proceeding, it should have been filed by the bar date, because counsel received direct notice of the bar date. Unexcused attorney failures are not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

Filing on mother's behalf, states that a claim was filed in November 2015. Mother mentally ill since 1967. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
433	TRO896631FTC	Unknown	Alexius Miller	Alexius Miller	3721		X	X				Motion was not listed in the Trust's summary. Diagnosed 1997. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

434	TRO898576FTC	6/27/2016	Brown, Edward	Edward Brown	3722			X			X		Diagnosed 2010. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
435	TRO898536FTC	6/27/2016	James, Lula	Timothy James	3723	4782		X			X		Injured party deceased 2017; rep refers to an earlier filing in 2014; symptoms 2000 and diagnosis 2016. There is a duplicate of this motion filed at docket # 4782. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claims based on pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
436	TRO902701FTC	8/16/2016	Thomas, Aaliyah	Aaliyah Thomas	3724		x	X					Diagnosed 2000, not aware of process. Contends she was present at meeting with EPA about creosote dangers. Says she did not know about the Tronox claims process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of bar date but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 440	TRO892445FTC	Unknown	Kenneth Brewer	Kenneth Brewer	3728		X	X				Motion was not listed in the Trust's summary. Diagnosed 1964. Wife died in June 2009, had to raise child alone, wife handled these sorts of matters. Alleges reason why did not know or did not pay attention to claims process in 2009, but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
441	TRO901158FTC	8/16/2016	Jefferson, Ananias	Linda Avant	3729		X	X				Injured party was diagnosed in 1983 and died in 2005. Relative filing on behalf of deceased, unaware of deadline until passed. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 444	TRO891327FTC	2/23/2016	Guin, Terry	Terry Guin	3732	4363?	X	X				Diagnosed 2002, wasn't aware that health issues were caused by exposure. Motion at docket 4363 is possibly a duplicate though claim numbers differ. Says "the initial claim package was returned by the attorney" - unclear if that is a reference to the late-filed claim or to something else. If contends a timely claim was filed that is an issue to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim based on excusable neglect or lack of due process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 451	TRO900874FTC	8/16/2016	Walker, Barbara	Barbara Walker	3740			X		X		Diagnosed 2009, no month specified; says did not know of process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
452	TRO880229FTC	12/4/2015	Karriem, Dinetta	Dinetta Krriem	3741	8872	X	X				Diagnosed 1986, copies reasons for non-filing verbatim from descriptions in notice but without elaboration. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8872 complaining about the process. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 453	TRO888462FTC	12/18/2015	Salter, Susie	Caroline Ross	3742		X	X				Injured person was diagnosed in 1970, is now deceased. Representative says she "filed way before the deadline, something is wrong on your end." No record of a bankruptcy claim in 2009, may be under mistaken belief that 2015 claim was timely. If contends a timely claim was filed that is an issue to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim based on excusable neglect or lack of due process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 454	TRO893433FTC	2/23/2016	Silvers, Barbara	Barbara Silvers	3743		X	X				1997 diagnosis; unaware of the information or possibility of receiving a settlement for physical injuries. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
455	TRO891202FTC	2/23/2016	Williams, Sharron	Sharron Williams	3744			X		X		Alleges was diagnosed in 2010, but in answer to question #2 (dates exposed) she lists various conditions, some of which long pre-date the bar date in 2009. As to reason why did not file: says she "just didn't." Not a sufficient showing to support relief based on excusable neglect or lack of due process as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
456	TRO888396FTC	12/18/2015	Smith, Mary Roby	Mary Roby Smith	3745		X	X				Diagnosed 1979, does not read Wall Street Journal and nothing was on the news. Alleges that "they told me that my name was in the system but I hadn't gotten any notice in the mail saying I could file until a person at Maranatha Faith Center in Columbus MS told me about it." However, affidavit of service shows that notice of the bar date was mailed to Mary Smith as a participant in the pending Creosote Litigations in MS. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

457	TRO885073FTC	11/25/2015	Gray, William Jr.	William Gray, Jr.	3746			X			X	Diagnosed 2009, no month, says filed with attorney Bambach but the paperwork was lost. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Dealings with attorney show awareness of claim and of legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claims based on pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
458	TRO898677FTC	6/27/2016	O'Neal, Coty	Coty O'Neal	3747		X	X				Diagnosed 2003, unaware deadline passed. Does not allege lack of awareness of process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
459	TRO885924FTC	11/25/2015	Salter, Shirley	Shirley Salter	3748			X				Diagnosed 2007, says did file POC before deadline passed. If contends a timely claim was filed that is an issue to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim based on excusable neglect or lack of due process. No other ground for relief is claimed.
460	TRO903693FTC	11/23/2016	Edwards, James	James Edwards	3749		X	X				Diagnosed 2001, had no knowledge of case until 2016, moved away, does not say what new location was. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
461	TRO885802FTC	11/25/2015	Tate, Darlene	LaCorey Tate	3750		X	X				Diagnosed 1990, alleges did file on time, attaches letter from DOJ saying that letter was referred to the EPA. Letters to DOJ and EPA were not bankruptcy claim filings. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Appears to have been aware of risks of creosote given letters sent to government agencies. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

462	TRO894741FTC	3/23/2016	Farmer, Andre	Andre Farmer	3751		X	X			X	Ulcer and heart issues in 2000, diagnosed with cancer in 2010. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
463	TRO891094FTC	2/23/2016	Saddler, Manuel	Manuel Saddler	3752	8331	X	X				1987 diagnosis. Not aware of claims process. A supplement filed at docket #8331, without knowledge to wade through process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
464	TRO886060FTC	Unknown	Roland, Kelvin	Kelvin Roland	3753		X	X				Not included on the Trust's summary. 1995 Diagnosis. Claims (without explanation or further support) that was incapacitated at the time of the bar date, plus incompetent. Also alleges was incarcerated at time of bar date. Alleges he attended a meeting at Trotter Convention when "the claim first was initiated" and signed up with an attorney (William Cunningham) but never heard more. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in meeting and dealing with counsel shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

470	TRO887935FTC	12/18/2015	Smith, Brenesha	Brenesha Smith	3759		X	X				1996 diagnosis. Says "sent off paper work not sure how I pass deadline." May be under mistaken belief that late-filed claim was timely. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
471	TRO892101FTC	2/23/2016	Mays, Fannie	Fannie Mays	3760		X	X				1978 diagnosis. Says not aware of claims process; uses standard but conclusory language saying publication notice was not good enough. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
472	TRO889623FTC	2/23/2016	Pilate, Marcy	Marcy Pilate	3761						X	Diagnosis in 1998. Says was a child at time of bar date. Lists attorney representation (William Colom) but without date, unclear if representation preceded bar date or post-dated it. No explanation as to parents' or guardian's knowledge or reasons why they did not make a timely claim. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
473	TRO894106FTC	3/2/2016	Jones, Yolander	Yolander Jones	3762		X	X				Diagnoses in 1982, 1997, 2000 and 2007. Says did not see any notice, "since I was not notified I did not think I could file a claim." Unclear as to whether was aware of claims process before bar date. Mistake as to eligibility is not by itself grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on pre-2006 diagnoses also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
474	TRO890868FTC	2/23/2016	Givens, Desi	Desi Givens	3763						X	1996 diagnosis. Says not aware of claims process, attached letter says unaware of dangers while living in area. Says was child in 1996, cannot tell age of claimant in 2009. Will permit supplemental submission to verify age in 2009 and, if was a minor at that time, to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.

475	TRO880913FTC	12/4/2015	Harriston, Willie	Willie Harriston	3764			X				The motion at docket #3764 was incorrectly listed in the Trust's summary as a motion by Willie Harrison, but that motion is at docket 4234. This claimant signed his name two different ways - once as Willie Hairston, once as Willie Harriston. Says he previously filed with the Colom law firm but was not paid enough. If claim was resolved in a prior proceeding it could not be reasserted in the Tronox bankruptcy case. If claim was not fully resolved, then participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims arising before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
476	TRO893925FTC	3/2/2016	Fenster, Charlie Jr.	Charlie Fenster	3765		X	X				Says was a child at time of deadline, but also says diagnosed in 1979, so had to be at least 30 years old. No other circumstances explained, including knowledge or actions by parents or guardian. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
477	TRO912170FTC	5/30/2017	Hardy, Lawrence	Lawrence Hardy	3766	8312	X	X				1997 diagnosis, says was unaware of claims process. Attachment argues that claimants should not be punished for a seemingly ever-changing claims process. A supplement filed at docket #8312, without knowledge to wade through process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
478	TRO890663FTC	2/23/2016	William, Cherry	Cherry William	3767	8056 8063	X	X				Diagnoses in 1980s. Says did not know had been exposed prior to bar date. A supplement filed at docket #8056 and a duplicate of 8056 is filed at 8063. Says she cannot afford a lawyer and does not have much education. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

479	TRO890664FTC	2/23/2016	Brown, Frankie	Cherry William	3768		X	X				Diagnoses in 1980s. Says did not know had been exposed. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 480	TRO886046FTC	12/7/2015	Verdell, Meller	Meller Verdell	3769			X				1979 diagnosis, no justification given for failure to file by bar date. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
481	Unknown	12/4/2015	Collins, Gregory	Gregory Collins	3770			X				1973 diagnosis. Says 2009 was a difficult year due to family deaths, was focused on estate matters until 2011. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
482	TRO895088FTC	3/23/2016	Brownlee, David	Mattie Brownlee	3771	8062	X	X				Diagnoses 1996 and earlier. Filed by relative. Says no reason to know exposed prior to death. A supplement filed at docket # 3771 and docket # 8062; simply educated, unaware of manner in which to proceed. No showing as to deceased's or his family's knowledge and diligence in pursuing claim and legal rights. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 483	TRO895442FTC	3/24/2016	O'Hop, Thamas	Thamas O'Hop	3772			X				2007 diagnosis. Says didn't know about process until cousin told him, filed in 2016. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

484	TRO904998FTC	1/24/2017	Scott, Kawanis	Kawanis Scott	3773		X	X				Former resident of Columbus, MS. Says was told by an attorney in 1985 that the deadline for claims had passed and that only employees of Kerr-McGee could file. Appears to have been attempting to pursue participation in prior lawsuits by the Colom law firm. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
485	TRO902463FTC	9/14/2016	Johnson, Charlie	Abby Durrah	3774	6644		X		X		Diagnosed "sometime 2009 or 2010." filing on behalf of brother. Filed in 2016 as well. Rejection notice filed at docket # 6644. Brother suffered, feels should be compensated. No showing as to brother's knowledge of claims process or diligence in pursuit of his rights, not qualify for relief based on excusable neglect or due process as to claims based on conditions diagnosed prior to the bar date. Merits of any claim first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
486	TRO880497FTC	12/4/2015	Bishop, Diane (Wells)	Marilyn Bishop Davis	3775		X	X				Former resident of Columbus, MS. Injured party died in 1993. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

487	TRO891531FTC	Unknown	Bridges, William	William Bridges	3776	8019 8068 8391 8528 8530 9408 9432	X	X				Motion not included on Trust's summary. 1972 Diagnosis. Previously filed in 2002 with atty Howard Gunn, did not live in Mississippi to get updates, says attorney of record did not advise that he had dropped out of the suit. Additional letters were filed by Billie W. Bridges for a group of people some of which mention this name also. The additional supplements are filed at docket #8019, 8068 (with a duplicate at 8391), 8528 (with a duplicate at 8530) and #9408 and #9432, complaining about the process. They appear to confuse the bankruptcy case with the prior class actions and appear to think that the prior class action counsel was representing them in the 2009 bankruptcy case. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Class action counsel had direct notice of 2009 bar date, if was still representing the movant then should have filed a timely claim, conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
488	TRO881005FTC	12/4/2015	Collins, Roy	Roy Collins	3777						X	Filed in 2015, says was a child at the time of the bar date. However, he was born in 1989, so was 20 at bar date. Alleges father's and brother's claims were allowed but unclear when they filed or as to when they were first diagnosed with symptoms. Does not allege that he or his parents were unaware of the claims process or of their claims and legal rights at the time of the bar date. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
489	TRO886956FTC	12/7/2015	Kundrat, Robert	Robert Kundrat	3778		X	X		X		Diagnoses in various years before 2009, once in 2014 (no details as to condition diagnosed then). Did not file because "we were told that since Kerr McGee was bankrupt, there would be no funds available for any claims that would be filed." Deserves credit for the honesty of the explanation but unfortunately a miscalculation of the likely recovery is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Merits of any claim first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
490	TRO896710FTC	4/25/2016	Ropieski, Stanley	Marian Ropieski	3779			X				Diagnosis in 2005. Says did not know "of this class action lawsuit until it was in the paper." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

491	TRO894279FTC	3/2/2016	Humphries, Pamela	Pamela Humphries	3780		X	X				Diagnosis in 1996. Says was under the impression that only people with cancer could file, then found out in 2015 that "anyone who had attended Hunt High School could file." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
492	TRO901494FTC	8/16/2016	Wells, Lawrence	Lawrence Wells	3781			X				Former resident of Hamilton, MS. Various pre-bar date diagnoses. Alleges did not know of the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on pre-2006 diagnoses also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
493	TRO886961FTC	12/7/2015	Dulney, Donna	Donna Dulney	3782		X	X				2000 diagnosis. Says she was told she was not eligible (does not say by whom or in context of what proceeding). Does not allege lack of knowledge of proceeding or of bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
494	TRO898879FTC	6/27/2016	Abraham, Tonia	Tonia Abraham	3783			X				1987 diagnosis. Says was unaware of deadline. Not a sufficient showing of diligence given date of diagnosis. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
495	TRO884464FTC	11/25/2015	Bailey, Hattie	Hattie Bailey	3784	8260	X	X				1989 diagnosis. Did not know about claims process. A supplement filed at docket #8260, says that at the time she was not aware of the dangers of the company to the community. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
496	TRO891187FTC	2/23/2016	Tate, Annie	Annie Tate	3785			X				Diagnosis in 2006. Says "did not know about it in time." Says filed with attorney in 2002, wasn't told the attorney dropped out. There were supplemental letters filed by Billy Wayne Bridges for this party and a group of others at docket ## 7341, 8019, 8068 (with a duplicate at 8391), and 8528 (with a duplicate at 8530). The letter filed at docket #7341 by Billy Bridges on behalf of various claimants complaining as to how the attorneys representing them in the class actions handled their case and requesting that payment to the attorneys get frozen until they certify as to the way they handled the claimants' documentation. Movants appear to confuse the bankruptcy case with the prior class actions and appear to think that the prior class action counsel was representing them in the 2009 bankruptcy case. There are additional supplements filed at docket #8019, 8068 (with a duplicate at 8391), 8528 (with a duplicate at 8530) and #9408 and #9432, complaining about the process. The class actions are different proceedings that are not pending in this Court. Prior filing in class action does not constitute a filing in the bankruptcy case. Claims resolved in prior action could not be reasserted in the Tronox bankruptcy case. If the claim was not resolved and was not the subject of a pending proceeding then it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. If the claim was the subject of a still- pending proceeding, it should have been filed by the bar date, because counsel received direct notice of the bar date. Complaints that attorneys with Creosote Litigation Group should have filed claims on their behalf is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect in the absence of a showing that counsel's failures can be excused.
498	TRO904757FTC	1/24/2017	Tomassoni, Mark	Mark Tomassoni	3787			X				1998 diagnosis. Says never received direct notice that required to file a claim. Complains about lack of direct notice but does not allege that Tronox knew of the movant or of the movant's claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
499	TRO897888FTC	5/25/2016	Backowski, Albert	Albert Backowski	3788			X				November 2007 diagnosis. Says he did not see notice in the news. Found out later after other people got payments on claims. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

Filed with attorney Howard Gunn in 2002. Attorney told her no action needed, part of 2002 action. There were supplemental letters filed by Billy Wayne Bridges for this party and a group of others at docket ## 7341, 8019, 8068 (with a duplicate at 8391), and 8528 (with a duplicate at 8530) and #9408, and 9432, complaining about the process. A supplement filed at docket #8313, without knowledge to wade through the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Motion at docket 3796 is for James A. Harris [TRO897705FTC], motion at docket 4194 is for James Harris [TRO900378FTC]. James A. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
512	TRO894866FTC	3/23/2016	Williams, Stefan	Stefan Williams	3802		X	X				Says filed in 2002 but unclear of date, claims to have filed again "when claims became available again" in October 2015. Says relatives were compensated from earlier claims. Any claim filed in 2002 must have been in connection with a prior class action. Unclear if claim was resolved in class action but if so the claim could not be reasserted in the Tronox bankruptcy case. If claim was not resolved, then participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of bar date but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim that accrued as of 2002 also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
513	TRO896381FTC	4/13/2016	Ellis, Mitt	Oscar Ellis	3803			X				1988 diagnosis, party died before bar date. No explanation as to failure to file by the original bar date, therefore no proper grounds stated for relief.
514	TRO895797FTC	3/24/2016	Mullens, John	Jacqueline Aderinto	3804		X	X				1981 diagnosis, says no reason to know exposed prior to deadline. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
515	TRO886665FTC	12/7/2015	Dowd, Linda	Linda Dowd	3805			X		X		2006 diagnosis of high blood pressure, 2011 diagnosis of back pain. Describes other conditions without diagnosis dates. Did not know about "the lawsuit." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

516	TRO887323FTC	12/14/2015	Gray, Parine	Parine Gray	3806			X			X	Diagnosed 2013, but also says didn't file a claim by deadline because unaware of possibility of getting anything for injuries. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
517	TRO891960FTC	2/23/2016	Malone, West	West Malone	3807			X			X	The correct claim number for this motion is TRO891960FTC (listed incorrectly by the Tort Claims Trust as TRO891690FTC, which is a claim for Fannie Hackman that is governed by the motion at docket #4754.) Movant at docket 3807 says he did not file because he was not aware of any lawsuit. Diagnoses listed are after bar date, none listed before bar date. Unclear if any relief sought as to pre-bar date diagnoses, but motion denied as to pre-bar date diagnoses for failure to identify a relevant pre-bar date diagnosis and lack of proper showing of diligence and other elements of excusable neglect claim. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
518	TRO899973FTC	7/25/2016	Johnson, Karsandra	Karsandra Johnson	3808		X	X				2000 Diagnosis. Says did not know of the process or the deadline. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
519	TRO903243FTC	10/27/2016	Wright, Gregory	Gregory Wright	3809		X	X				2005 Diagnosis. Says did not know that had been exposed or had reason to know. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
520	TRO895842FTC	3/24/2016	Shumpert, Cedrick	Cedrick Shumpert	3810		X	X				Diagnosis in 2005. Says talked to an attorney (unnamed and at unspecified time) who said "it wasn't the deadline." Context is not clear. If he spoke to an attorney before the bar date and received bad advice from the attorney that is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process unless the attorney's conduct can be excused. If he spoke to an attorney after the bar date, that does not explain why he missed the original bar date. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

521	TRO884624FTC	11/25/2015	Hairston, Lula	Lula Hairston	3811	6221 8273 8276	X	X				1960 diagnosis. Previously filed with Colom law firm in 2002 class action. Says was not aware of the Tronox claim process. A supplemental claim filed at docket #6221 but in this one she says she did not previously file with an attorney. An additional supplement filed at docket #8276, says was without knowledge to wade through the process. There is also a supplement filed at docket #8273 that says without knowledge to wade through process but using a different TRO number [TRO880743FTC]. Unclear if did or did not participate in prior class action claims process, but if so then participation shows knowledge of claim, and any claim resolved in a prior class action could not be reasserted in the Tronox bankruptcy case. If claim was not part of class action, risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 523	TRO903261FTC	10/27/2016	Vaughn, Michael	Sanders Vaughn, Sr.	3813		X	X				Filing on behalf of injured party who was diagnosed in 2001 and is now deceased. Rep says was dealing with PTSD and depression (dates not specified) and did not know to file a claim. Insufficient showing of incapacity to file claim or to arrange filing of claim. No showing as to deceased's knowledge or pursuit of rights. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Explains why missed the bar date itself but does not explain why no claim was filed until early 2016, more than six years after the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
526	TRO894583FTC	3/23/2016	Scott, Susie Summerville	Susie Summerville Scott	3816		X	X				1974 diagnosis. Says was part of 2002 lawsuit through Colom law firm. Claim resolved in a prior litigation could not be reasserted in the Tronox bankruptcy case. If claim was not resolved, then participation in the prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of bar date but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 530	TRO900043FTC	7/25/2016	Hazenski, Joseph	Mary Grace Kabacinski	3820			X				Filed on behalf of person who died in 1989. Representative says does not read Wall Street Journal or watch the news. Not a sufficient showing of diligence given that injuries must have preceded 1989. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
531	TRO895832FTC	3/24/2016	Kabacinski, Mary Grace	Mary Grace Kabacinski	3821			X		X		Alleges various conditions, most of which pre-date the 2009 bar date. Says does not read Wall Street Journal and did not see notices in other papers. Became aware only when other people started receiving checks. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claims based on pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim based on a condition first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
532	TRO893063FTC	2/23/2016	Eads, J	Ardyce Eads	3822	8061 8398	X	X				The injured party was diagnosed in 1998 and died in 2001. Former resident of Columbus, MS. Rep filing on behalf of deceased husband. Did not file prior claim because died before the class action. Rep believes that notice went to husband's house, which she wouldn't have seen (may be referring to a class action notice). States that in 2009 she had moved several times and was fighting breast cancer from the creosote exposure; however, she also says she has been free of it for 15 years. Supplements filed at docket # 8061 and # 8398. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Reference to class action suit shows awareness of claims. Alleges lack of actual knowledge by representative but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
533	TRO896713FTC	4/25/2016	Hill, Tommy	Tommy Hill	3823			X				1988 diagnosis. Says had no knowledge "of the claim" until 2015. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

534	TRO898716FTC	6/27/2016	Howard, Caremella	Caremella Howard	3824		X	X			X	Former resident of Columbus, MS. Diagnoses listed as 1/1/1980 and 12/31/2009, motion form says was diagnosed before bar date and should be excused for not filing because was unaware of lawsuit until sister told her. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claim based on pre-bar date diagnosis. Claim based on 1980 diagnosis also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. 535	TRO881086FTC	12/4/2015	Collins, Timothy	Tim Collins	3825		X	X				Mother died in 2009, claimant was the executor of her estate. Says tried to be included in early 2000s class action settlement in Columbus, MS but was told he was too late. Alleges did not actually know of the Tronox bankruptcy claims process. Says mother's death was the main focus of his life in 2009. Lives in Colorado. States that he knows publication notice is technically considered to be adequate, but local MS notices provided discernable advantages to people who were living in that state. However, reference to the prior class action shows knowledge of legal claims and rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim that had accrued as of the early 2000s also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
536	TRO895599FTC	3/24/2016	Cooks, Kemion	Kemion Cooks	3826						X	Diagnosis date listed as "2008-2010." Was 17 years old at time of bar date, living in California. Did not know of the claims process. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
537	TRO889540FTC	2/23/2016	Jamison, Glendora	Glendora Jamison	3827			X			X	Diagnosed with cancer in 2011. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. 539	TRO887129FTC	12/14/2015	Shields, John, Sr.	John Shields, Jr.	3829		X	X				Filed for father. Says submitted a claim in 1997 in connection with a prior creosote litigation. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, claim either was resolved in a prior proceeding or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
540	TRO913182FTC	5/30/2017	Eads, Ardyce	Ardyce Eads	3830	8059	X	X				2000 diagnosis. Former resident of Columbus, MS. Says did not get notice. Filed claim for deceased husband in November 2015. Called help line in April 2017 after rejection of husband's claim, mentioned her own cancer, was told to file a future tort claim. A supplement filed at docket #8059, does not read WSJ and saw no bar date news in media; however, publications included local newspaper in Aberdeen and other local papers in MS. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of bar date but does not explain her failure to file her own claim at the time she filed a claim for her husband, also does not address relevant factors other than lack of actual knowledge. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

542	TRO884031FTC	11/13/2015	Perry, Arthur	Arthur Perry	3832	8310 8920	X	X				2005 diagnosis. Original papers offer no reason why missed bar date. A supplement filed at docket #8310, says without knowledge to wade through process. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8920 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

545	TRO903242FTC	10/27/2016	Wright, Lashuna	Lashuna Wright	3835			X			X	Diagnoses at various dates. Filed claim through Wilbur Colom, unclear in what proceeding or when but apparently before the bar date. Says did not know of deadline. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of Tronox bar date but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claims based on conditions diagnosed before the bar date. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
546	TRO893149FTC	2/23/2016	Coleman, Jacqueline	Jacqueline Coleman	3836	4823	x	X				1985 diagnosis but recurrence of tumors after bar date. Was unaware of exposure prior to deadline. She and her physicians did not know of connection to creosote. Says did not have access to any of the publications with notice, but notice was published in the Commercial Dispatch in Columbus. Also says notice only allowed 52 calendar days or 36 business days to file a claim and that was unreasonably short, but that does not explain why she filed no claim until more than six years after the bar date. Says did not know and no reason to know exposed to a Tronox product; she says that "unlike the case heard by the court in Standard Bank who heard about the contamination in October 2012 and did not file until September 2014" she says that when she learned of it in 2015, she filed immediately. A supplemental form was filed at docket # 4823. Suggests she consulted with physicians about causal connection and was unaware of creosote link. However, connections between creosote exposures and health issues were the subject of widespread publicity in Columbus, MS beginning in 1999. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

553	TRO890496FTC	2/23/2016	Jackson, Jaquelin	Jacquelin Jackson	3843		X	X			X	In response to question about specific diseases or physical conditions allegedly caused by exposure the claimant appears to have listed all medical conditions that have ever been diagnosed, some of which are after the bar date. Connection to creosote of many of the conditions listed (contusions, soft tissue injuries) is not clear. Claims that did not know of exposure to Tronox products. Alleges lack of knowledge of bar date but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of legal rights and claims), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect or due process as to claims based on conditions diagnosed before the bar date. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
554	TRO880295FTC	12/4/2015	Moore, Christine	Christine Moore	3844	3940	X	X				Diagnoses all 2004 and earlier. Unaware of deadline. A supplement filed at docket #3940 alleges that the Tort Claims Trust denied an alleged future tort claim, then retracted the denial, then denied the claim again. No reasons stated to support grant of relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
555	TRO899972FTC	7/25/2016	Danner, Ada	Ada Danner	3845		X	X				1988 diagnosis. Copies and pastes language regarding lack of knowledge of the bar date, no other explanation. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
556	TRO886198FTC	12/7/2015	Thompson, Alice	Alice Thompson	3846		X	X			X	Diagnosis for diabetes 1994, other condition 2004, blindness 2010. Says disabled and had no knowledge of bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to conditions based on pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on pre-2006 diagnoses also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

557	TRO902855FTC	10/13/2016	Davis, Sarah	Clyde Moore	3847	8184	X	X				The injured party died in 2003; rep unaware of need to file a claim on behalf of mother. A supplement filed at docket #8184, was told he could not file a claim for a deceased person (does not say who gave such advice or when). Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Bad advice is not grounds for excuse unless person giving the advice can be excused. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
558	TRO891062FTC	2/23/2016	Harris, Gwendolyn	Gwendolyn Harris	3848	6034 8997	X	X		X		Trust's summary incorrectly listed this motion as dkt # 3847. Diagnosis dates not clear. Lived outside of area at deadline. A rejection notice filed at docket #6034. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8997 complaining about the process and delays. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. 585	TRO895083FTC	3/23/2016	Shinn, Johnnie	Johnnie Shinn	3876			X			X	Says was diagnosed in 2017 but also contends that claimant filed a legal proceeding against Tronox prior to the bar date and did not get direct notice of the bar date. Affidavits of service on file show notices were mailed to all people with pending lawsuits or, if their addresses were not known, to their attorneys of record. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to a specific pre-bar date claim or as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect for pre-bar date claims. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
586	TRO884782FTC	11/25/2015	Cox, Joyce	Joyce Cox	3877		X	X				Was part of 2002 class action. Claim resolved in a prior proceeding could not be reasserted in the Tronox bankruptcy case. If the claim was not resolved and was not the subject of a pending proceeding then it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. If the claim was the subject of a still-pending proceeding, it should have been filed by the bar date, because counsel received direct notice of the bar date.
587	TRO896415FTC	4/13/2016	Brewer, Barbara	Barbara Brewer	3878		X	X				1995 diagnosis. Has copied and pasted text saying claimant had no knowledge, saw no notices, called after the bar date and was told to file a future tort claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
588	TRO901116FTC	8/16/2016	Monroe, Lucille	Lue Ann Hampton	3879		X	X				Diagnosis from 1970. Explanation for not filing is "we didn't know you could or she were really too sick to do so." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 590	TRO890390FTC	2/23/2016	Barry, Edd	Mary B. Neal	3881		X	X				1956 diagnosis. Consulted attorney Howard Gunn in MS in 2002, was told could not file in class action for a deceased person. This 2002 conversation shows an awareness of connection to creosote and of potential legal rights. No explanation as to why did not pursue claims independent of the class action. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of 2009 bar date in Tronox case but does not show other factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of rights) to support relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
591	TRO889293FTC	2/23/2016	Barry, Minnie	Mary B. Neal	3882		X	X				Similar to claim 3881. Says was told by Howard Gunn (after filed class action claim in 2002) that could not file for a deceased person. This 2002 conversation shows an awareness of connection to creosote and of potential legal rights. No explanation as to why did not pursue claims independent of the class action. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of 2009 bar date in Tronox case but does not show other factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of rights) to support relief based on excusable neglect or due process. 595	TRO902319FTC	9/14/2016	Farmer, Bruce	Bruce Farmer	3886		X	X				1986 diagnosis. Unaware of possibility of receiving payment for injuries in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
596	TRO890045FTC	2/23/2016	Taylor, Nathan	Nathan Taylor	3887		X	X		X		Lists 1981 as date of first diagnosis but conditions listed all have diagnosis dates after the bar date (2010 and later). Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claims based on pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

597	TRO893907FTC	3/2/2016	Johnson, William	William Johnson	3888		X	X				Injured party diagnosed in 1975, deceased at time of bar date. Claimant has cut-and-pasted typed text alleging lack of knowledge of the Tronox process, allegation that called Tort Claims Trust after bar date and was told to file a future tort claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
598	TRO905569FTC	3/28/2017	Davidson, George, Jr.	George Davidson, Jr.	3889		X	X				Says diagnosis in 1944 but may be confusing exposure date and diagnosis date. Alleges lack of knowledge, believes would violate due process to deny claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
599	TRO905559FTC	3/28/2017	Howell, Leonard	Flenrus L. Murdock, Jr.	3890		X	X				1983 diagnosis. 601	TRO893450FTC	2/23/2016	Mays, Darnell	Kristen Smith	3892			X		X		Filing for deceased father. Condition occurred after 2009, they say, but also say diagnosis was in 2007 or 2008 and that mailed a claim to an attorney. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect based on conditions first diagnosed before the bar date. 603	TRO888058FTC	12/18/2015	Pruitt, Gloria	Gloria Pruitt	3894			X		X		Says was diagnosed 10/25/2009. Also says did not file by bar date because "I misinterpreted conditions of the claim." Latter statement suggests knowledge of bar date but no diagnosis until after the bar date. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
604	TRO902039FTC	9/14/2016	Moore, Tracy	Tracy Moore	3895			X				Contends diagnosis in June-July 2009, same time frame for claims filed on behalf of children at dockets 3896 and 3897. Relatively recent diagnosis might explain failure to file in August 2009 but no explanation is offered as to why did not file until more than 6 years later. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

Says did not receive any notice regarding the Tronox tort claims trust settlement; was not aware could file a claim. Rejection notice filed at docket #3925 applies to post-bar date diagnoses though no post-bar date exposure or diagnosis is identified in motion papers. Separate legal memo argues that excusable neglect has been shown and that due process relief should be granted. However, the claim based on the listed diagnosis was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations long before the Tronox bankruptcy filing occurred. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. 640	TRO892784FTC	2/23/2016	Hodges, Jossie	Jossie Hodges	3948		X	X				Filed with Wilbur Colom in 2002. A supplemental letter filed at docket #9311 complaining about the process. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. If claim was fully resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. If the claim was not resolved and was not the subject of a pending proceeding then it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. If the claim was the subject of a still- pending proceeding, it should have been filed by the bar date, because counsel received direct notice of the bar date.
641	TRO880932FTC	12/4/2015	Gardner, Andrew	Andrew Gardner	3949			X				Says has filed claim (apparently with attorney Bambach), "they" say they could not find papers. If alleges filed a timely claim in 2009 that is for resolution by the Tort Claims Trust. If is referring to a late-filed claim, no reasons offered to support relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Mistakes of counsel are not grounds for relief unless counsel's conduct is excused.
642	TRO891175FTC	2/23/2016	Tate, Magnolia	Magnolia Tate	3950		X	X				Diagnoses 1985-1987. Says did not know of claims process. Alleges some conditions diagnosed in 2017. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claims based on pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on pre-2006 diagnoses also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
649	TRO891117FTC	2/23/2016	Harrison, Brian	Brian Harrison	3957			X		X		Alleges allergy diagnosis in 2008, high blood pressure in 2010. Says was unaware of deadline. 650	TRO895911FTC	4/6/2016	Harper, Elsie	Elsie Harper	3958		X	X				Filed with Colom law firm in 1998. Only says "N/A" as to reason why did not file by bar date. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
651	TRO886962FTC	12/7/2015	Dulney, Jessica	Jessica Dulney	3959			X				1998 diagnosis. Was told ineligible, then was told qualified - unclear by whom or in connection with what proceeding (i.e., a prior class action or the bankruptcy case). Alleged advice is not grounds for relief without more specifics as to date, proceeding, and source of the advice. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
652	TRO884317FTC	11/25/2015	Hill, James	Barbara Roland	3960			X				Conditions preceded bar date, father died in 2011. Did not know claims were being filed. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
653	TRO901754FTC	Unknown	Kamran Ware	Kamran Ware	3961			X				Motion not listed on Trust's summary. Diagnosed 6-21-09, says "I didn't know about it." Recency of diagnosis may explain failure to file in August 2009 but no explanation provided as to why no claim was filed until more than six years after the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

700	TRO889920FTC	2/23/2016	Byrd, Willie	Willie Byrd	4014		X	X				1998/1999 diagnosis. Says was unaware exposed to Tronox product, unaware of form to file, on active duty in U.S. Army from 2005-2009 (discharged 9/26/2009). Even if application of the bar date was tolled due to military service the claim still was not timely filed, as it was not filed until February 23, 2016, more than six years after the military service ended. Claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations prior to the beginning of military service in 2005 and prior to Tronox bankruptcy. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
701	TRO890385FTC	2/23/2016	Waldon, Georgia	Georgia Waldon	4015		X	X				1978 diagnosis. Cut-and-pasted language says was unaware, did not see notifications, called and was told to file Future Tort Claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 703	TRO901876FTC	9/14/2016	Beamon, Rosie	Rosie Beamon	4017			X			X	Claimed diagnosis date of 2014 but also says cancer dates back to 2005 and that respiratory issues have existed for 40 years. Says did not know how to fill out the claim form but appears to be referring to the late claim submissions and not to a claim filed in 2009. Unclear if seeks relief as to any condition diagnosed before the bar date and in any event the motion only alleges lack of understanding of the process with no showing as to other relevant factors (knowledge of the bar date, diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
704	TRO893010FTC	2/23/2016	Malone, T	Mary Malone	4018		X	X				The injured party was diagnosed in 2000 and died in 2001. Says rep was unaware of Tronox bankruptcy or possibility of receiving a settlement. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 705	TRO905702FTC	3/28/2017	Thompson, Deborah	Tommy Ewing	4019	8211	X	X				1986 diagnosis, death in 2001. Filing by representative. The rep filed a supplemental letter at docket #8211, but he references his own ailments and not those of the injured party. Says claim should be allowed because he stayed in area and has medical problem from the toxins, but there is no claim filed for him on his own behalf. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 721	TRO880941FTC	12/4/2015	Adkins, Willie	Sophia Adkins	4035	8268		X				Representative filing on behalf of a minor. 2001 diagnosis. Rep says filed claim with Tollison firm, was told "he had to have his own claim, or separate claim." Says she was told it was too late to file for him, but then another law firm said it was not too late. A supplement filed at docket #8268, says learned years later that could file claim, but this appears that this is a reference to filing with the Trust. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Representative alleges lack of actual knowledge of bar date but prior dealings with attorneys show awareness of claims, no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

737	TRO880854FTC	Unknown	Dover, Betty	Michael R. Harris	4051			X			X	Motion is not on Trust's summary. Not clear whether Tort Claims Trust has objected to this motion or to this claim. Injured party is deceased but rep says diagnosis in 2012. Says injured party did not get direct notice; did not know she had been exposed to a Tronox product, they had moved out of state. To extent the motion seeks relief on grounds of excusable neglect it is denied for failure to identify a specific pre-bar date claim for which relief is sought and a failure to make sufficient showings (regarding diligent investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date) to warrant relief from the bar date as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
876	TRO888551FTC	12/24/2015	Bekanich, Andrew	Connie Marcellini	4202			X				Injured party diagnosed in 1970, died in 1991. Selected natural disaster as reason for failure to file by 2009 bar date, no details provided. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
877	TRO892110FTC	2/23/2016	Howard, Geraildean	Geraildean Howard	4203		X	X				1991 diagnosis. Says moved to another town in Mississippi. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 878	TRO892366FTC	2/23/2016	Lee, Thomas	Thomas Lee	4204			X		X		Says symptoms started in 2008 but first diagnosis in 2014. Did not know and had no reason to know exposed to Tronox product. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, no grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
879	TRO897870FTC	4/9/2016	Facciponti, Adam	Adam Facciponti	4205			X			X	2006 diagnosis. Says was a minor when case began but alleges exposure began in 1985 so was at least 24 years old at the time of the bar date. Also says was in U.S. Air Force and did not hear about this matter until 2014. Claim was not filed until April 9, 2016; even if the bar date was tolled by 50 U.S.C. 3936, the claim would be untimely so long as military service ended on or before January 23, 2016. The motion alleges lack of actual knowledge in 2009 but makes no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date and why waited so long after learning of the process in 2014), would not be sufficient to warrant an untimely claim to be permitted on grounds of excusable neglect. If movant believes that military service continued until January 23, 2016 or later, movant may make a supplemental submission to verify the dates of military service.
880	TRO881057FTC	12/4/2015	Johnson, Olivia	Olivia Johnson	4206		X	X				1972 diagnosis. Unaware of bar date; did not receive notice. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
881	TRO892072FTC	2/23/2016	Marcellini, Connie	Connie Marcellini	4207			X		X		Says diagnosed 2010 but says symptoms started in 1990s, unclear when conditions were actually diagnosed. Alleges natural disaster as reason for not filing, but no specifics are given. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in pursuit of claims and reasons why filed so long after the bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. 908	TRO894573FTC	3/23/2016	Harrison, Willie	Willie Harrison	4234		X	X				Movant for docket # 4234 is Willie Harrison [TRO894573FTC]. It was incorrectly on the Trust's chart at docket # 3764, but that docket entry is for Willie Harriston [TRO880913FTC]. 2002 diagnosis. The excuse for Willie Harrison [TRO894573FTC] is that he was unaware of the bankruptcy case; 2002 letter says brain injury precludes claimant from making decisions for himself, and spouse should make decisions but she did not file claim. No explanation of why spouse did not file a claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 909	TRO886604FTC	12/7/2015	Seals, Terence	Terence Seals	4235		X	X				X	1980 diagnosis. Says was deployed out of country while in military service but dates are not clear. To the extent the motion seeks relief based on excusable neglect the motion is denied. The risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. If movant contends that the Mississippi statute of limitations was tolled due to military service and further contends that military service tolled the application of the bar date so that the claim was timely (which would require a showing that military service continued through September 21, 2015), movant may make a supplemental submission to verify the dates of military service.

918	TRO901118FTC	8/16/2016	Bennett, Tina	Petina Bennett	4244		X	X				Previously filed with Colom law firm 2000, did not get recovery. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
919	TRO894405FTC	3/2/2016	Humphries, Johnnie	Johnnie Humphries	4245			X		X		Says symptoms and diagnosis 2015, but enclosed chart shows same conditions listed as being diagnosed in both 2007 and 2015. Cannot tell from papers if there really were any new post-bar date conditions, but the fact that a previously-diagnosed condition continued after the bar date is not enough to make it a future tort claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
920	TRO892855FTC	2/23/2016	Calloway, Willie	Willie Calloway	4246		X	X				2003 diagnosis. Unaware of what was occurring because of personal obligations dealing with health issues of self and relatives. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
921	TRO912403FTC	5/30/2017	Ewing, Yvonne	Yvonne Ewing	4247		X	X				2005 diagnosis. Says was totally incompetent at bar date, dealing with medical issues that left her unable to care for herself. Claim filed in 2017. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

Was not aware of the filing, spoke to an attorney who did not get back to her, filed after heard other people were filing. A supplemental letter filed with others at docket #9266 complaining about the process. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
950	TRO893994FTC	3/2/2016	Buchanan, Debra Stewart	Debra Stewart Buchanan	4276			X				First diagnosis "1970 to 2009." Says papers were filed on time. If contends a timely claim was filed that is an issue to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim based on excusable neglect or lack of due process. To the extent the claim was late-filed, no excuse has been offered. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
951	TRO888280FTC	12/18/2015	Morrison, Kenneth	Rosemary Horton	4277	8143	X	X				The injured party was diagnosed in 1970 and died in 1977; rep did not know claimant had been exposed to a Tronox product. A supplement filed at docket #8143; rep moved away from area, unaware of bar date, when first learned of it, it appeared relief only applied to those in area. (May be referring to a prior class action in which class membership was limited based on residence.) Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

956	TRO892869FTC	2/23/2016	Johnson, Stella	Cotesio Johnson-Jones	4282	8668 9023		X			X	Says first diagnosis in 2010, the injured party died in 2016. Also says previously filed with atty Bambach in 2009 but papers lost. A supplemental letter complaining about the process filed at docket #8668 and at docket #9023. Prior dealings with counsel show awareness of legal rights. Actions by counsel would not constitute grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process unless counsel's actions could be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect to the extent claim is based on pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
957	TRO896943FTC	4/25/2016	Harris, DeAnthony	DeAnthony Harris	4283		X	X				2004 diagnosis. Previously filed with atty Colom in 2006, not receive anything. Unclear if attorney pursued the claim, but conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. If the claim was not the subject of a pending proceeding then it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. If the claim was the subject of a still- pending proceeding, it should have been filed by the bar date, because counsel (Mr. Colom) received direct notice of the bar date.
958	TRO888929FTC	12/30/2015	Orr, Tanisha	Tanisha Orr	4284			X			X	Alleges symptoms and diagnosis in December 2009. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
959	TRO901975FTC	9/14/2016	Guarnieri, Cynthia	Cynthia Guarnieri	4285			X				Diagnoses in 1977 and 1982. Not subscribe to Wall Street Journal or read the other papers, became aware when others received settlement checks. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

960	TRO894411FTC	3/2/2016	Weaver, Earnestine	Earnestine Weaver	4286	9266	X	X				Various diagnosis dates, all before 2003. Spoke to atty who did not get back, learned of others filing papers. A supplemental letter filed with others at docket #9266 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
961	TRO886415FTC	12/7/2015	Hubbard, Sergio	Sergio Hubbard	4287	8219 8344 9429	X	X				1994 diagnosis. Unaware of bankruptcy case, says has mild retardation. A supplement filed at docket #8219 (says disabled) and at docket #8344, without knowledge to wade through the process. A supplemental letter filed at docket #9429 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
962	TRO886617FTC	12/7/2015	McCarter, Bertha	Bertha McCarther	4288	8116	X	X				Previously filed with Colom law firm, did not receive any money. Says was unaware condition was connected to Tronox product but that is inconsistent with the movant's participation in the prior class action. A supplement filed at docket #8116, says atty Colom failed to file proof of claim. Colom firm handled prior class actions, not clear if was counsel to claimant at time of bar date. If claim was fully resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. If claim was not the subject of a prior proceeding, then it was time-barred before the Tronox bankruptcy. If the claim was the subject of a still- pending proceeding, it should have been filed by the bar date, because counsel (Mr. Colom) received direct notice of the bar date. Unexcused failures by counsel (if they occurred) are not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect.
963	TRO894961FTC	3/23/2016	Deal, Lauretha	Lauretha Deal	4289			X				Diagnosis 1989/1993. Filing for mother. Refers to former residence near Kerr-McGee plant but does not specify which plant. Unaware of the information or the possibility of receiving a settlement; the chart is corrected to reflect docket # 4289, the trust referred to the incorrect number. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

964	TRO893744FTC	3/2/2016	Stewart, James	Brenda Blevins	4290		X	X			X	Injured party diagnosed before 1990; filing by relative. Says papers filed on time. If contends a timely claim was filed that is an issue to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim based on excusable neglect or lack of due process. To extent claim was filed late no excuse is offered. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 968	TRO886035FTC	12/7/2015	Evans, Bobbie	Zerrick Evans	4295		X	X				1995/2003 diagnoses and symptoms. Deceased 2008; rep says he was minor at time, does not indicate responsible person for estate in 2009 and does not explain why that person or persons did not take action. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim based on 1995 diagnosis also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
969	TRO892179FTC	2/23/2016	Dixon, Margaret	Mildred Monroe	4296		X	X				1998 diagnosis; claim filed December 2015. The injured party deceased 2007; rep says insufficient notice. Notices complied with due process for the reasons stated in the accompanying decision. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 1000	TRO885487FTC	11/25/2015	Brooks, Latonya	Latonya Brooks	4329	5990	X	X			X	1994 diagnosis for skin irritation, 2010 for migraines. Previously filed with Colom law firm 2005; unaware attorneys were taking claims in Tronox bankruptcy case. A duplicate of this motion is filed at docket # 5990. The Trust incorrectly says that this claim was not filed with the Court but it was filed and docketed twice at docket #4329 and docket #5990. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Filing with Colom law firm shows awareness of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on pre-2006 diagnoses also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date (including any defense as to whether such claims are barred by prior class action proceedings) are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1001	TRO901962FTC	9/14/2016	Latham, Terry	Terry Latham	4330		X	X				1998 diagnosis. Says publication notice was not reasonably calculated to provide notice, but does not allege Tronox had reason to know of his claim and does not provide specific challenge to publication notices that were approved. Says did not know, no reason to know exposed to Tronox product. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 1002	TRO885466FTC	11/25/2015	Brooks, Eugene	Deloris Brooks	4331	5972	X	X				Diagnoses in 1960 and 1990. Rep unaware attorneys were taking claims; a duplicate of this motion is filed at docket # 5972. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1003	TRO894937FTC	3/23/2016	Jones, Cameron	Cameron Jones	4332			X			X	Says symptom and diagnosis 2010. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

The file for Christopher D. Conner [TRO889048FTC] filed by Arthur Conner is at docket # 4221. As to Christopher J. Conner: the excuse is that he was a minor (age 15) and unaware of the claims process. A supplement filed at docket #8137, says was diagnosed after the bar date in 2009. Unclear if claimant wishes to pursue any claim based on a diagnoses that preceded the bar date, but if so will permit supplemental submission to verify age at bar date and to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted. Merits of any claim based on a condition first diagnosed after the bar date should be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
1010	TRO902427FTC	9/14/2016	Davis, Earnest	Shannon Burchfield	4339	4335	X	X					The injured party was diagnosed in 1974 and died in 2009; rep says no knowledge of claim. 1033	TRO880860FTC	12/4/2015	Guin, Terry	Terry Guin	4363	3732?	X	X				Date of first diagnosis listed as "1960s-2006." Motion at docket 3732 is possibly a duplicate though claim numbers differ. Appears to be referring to continuing condition. Did not receive "claim" in time, original claim package was returned by "acting attorney" during initial filing process (unclear when). Appears to be confusing a prior class action process with the bankruptcy claims process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on conditions first diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1034	TRO901286FTC	8/16/2016	Shirley, Sadie	Alfred Shirley	4364			X				Movant is filing on behalf of mother. The injured party died in November 2005; did not receive any type of notice during times of exposure and manifestation, relied on home remedies. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1035	TRO891775FTC	2/23/2016	Pounds, Shirley	Shirley Pounds	4365			X				Diagnosis 1991 or earlier. Not clear where exposure occurred and what law governs the claim for statute of limitations purposes. Was told in 1991 her thyroid condition was attributable to "the plant." Did not file before bar date because did not understand what it was asking and if she needed to respond or not. Unclear if knew of bar date. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1160	TRO888078FTC	12/18/2015	Brown, Patricia	Patricia Brown	4496		X	X				Diagnoses in early 2000s; previously filed with Howard Gunn 2002; moved from Columbus and did not receive any more paperwork from Gunn; did not receive written notice of bar date. Prior dealings with attorney show awareness of claim and legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1161	TRO884548FTC	11/25/2015	Porter, Carline	Carline Porter	4497		X	X				Previously filed with Colom law firm 1998; part of 2002 class action; standard language; unaware of bankruptcy case. Alleges a 2006 diagnosis date but does not allege any new condition. If claim was fully resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. If the claim was not resolved and was not the subject of a pending proceeding then it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Even if a new condition arose in 2006, participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1162	TRO884364FTC	11/25/2015	Williams, Jamie	Jamie Williams	4498		X	X				1988 diagnosis. Sent letter to DOJ, it forwarded letter to U.S. Environmental Protection Agency in 2010. Letters in 2010 did not constitute timely claims in the 2009 bankruptcy process. However, they do show awareness (as early as 2010) of possible claims. No explanation why claim was not filed until many years after bar date. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred by the time of the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1163	TRO904344FTC	1/3/2017	Taylor, Sherritt	Sherritt Taylor	4499			X			X	Filed claim once found out how to file it in 2014; says symptoms and diagnosis in Sept. 2009. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1164	TRO884554FTC	11/25/2015	Porter, Quinton	Quinton Porter	4500		X	X				Previously filed with Colom law firm 1998; part of 2002 class action; standard language; unaware of bankruptcy case. 1165	TRO889115FTC	2/23/2016	Watford-Jones, Connie	Connie Watford-Jones	4501	8201						Symptoms and diagnosis 1991, serving in military air force since 2000, unaware of bar date, military deployment; supplement at docket # 8201 attaches copy of Service Members Civil Relief Act and personal data re: military duty. Military service began 2/2/2000 and continued as of the filing of the motion in 2017. Deadline for filing proof of claim apparently was tolled by 50 U.S.C. 3936 and so claim filed in February 2016 must be treated as timely and subject to resolution by the Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
1166	TRO892716FTC	2/23/2016	Taylor, Nick	Nick Taylor	4502			X			X	Symptoms and diagnosis 10/2009 but refers to earlier filing with earlier conditions; says was unaware of bar date, misinterpreted conditions of filing. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. No showing as to relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

1167	TRO896419FTC	4/13/2016	Stewart, Katrice	Katrice Stewart Ward	4503		X	X				There are actually two separate motions for this TRO claim number; the first is for Katrice Stewart, which is on the docket at claim #4503, and the second is for Dominique Stewart at docket # 4504. The motion at docket 4503 alleges diagnoses in 2007, but movant also contends she previously filed with the Colom law firm in 2003. Says did not receive notice of bar date. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Proof of service shows direct mailing of bar date notice to the Colom law firm, so if movant was represented by that firm in 2009 direct notice was provided. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of the bar date but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims that had accrued as of 2003 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1168	TRO896419FTC	4/13/2016	Stewart, Dominique L.	Katrice Stewart Ward	4504		X	X				There are actually two separate motions for this TRO claim number; the first is for Katrice Stewart, which is on the docket at claim #4503, and the second is for Dominique Stewart at docket # 4504. The motion at docket 4504 alleges diagnoses in 1987 and 2006. Movant also contends she previously filed with the Colom law firm in 2003. Says did not receive notice of bar date. Claims was a child, but also says exposure began in 1987 and diagnoses were in 1987, so movant had to be approximately 22 years old at the time of the bar date in 2009. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Proof of service shows direct mailing of bar date notice to the Colom law firm, so if movant was represented by that firm in 2009 direct notice was provided. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. 1170	TRO891910FTC	2/23/2016	Scott, Veleria	Veleria Scott	4506	6640	X	X			X	Duplicate motion at docket # 6640. Various conditions listed; first diagnosis date listed as 1975 but some conditions are described as having later onsets; says was not aware, no idea she was being exposed until she was told during a meeting because she is a homeowner in this area; due to the affected area, she cannot sell her home, the value is worth nothing of what she paid for it. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. 1180	TRO900923FTC	8/16/2016	Crump, Markeda	Sandra Carroll	4516			X				Diagnosis and symptoms 2006; deceased 2008; says documents filed timely but appears referring to class action claims or to mistaken belief that late-filed Tronox bankruptcy claims were timely. If contends a timely claim was filed that is an issue to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim based on excusable neglect or lack of due process. If claim was late, no excuse has been offered. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1181	TRO886182FTC	12/7/2015	Turner, Rosie	Rosie Turner	4517		X	X		X		Form does not specify diagnosis dates, refers to medical records, not completely clear what dates of all relevant diagnoses were. Says was unaware of her entitlement at the time of the bar date; refers to participating in a prior class action but does not recall who the lawyer was. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. 1277	TRO886199FTC	12/7/2015	Turner, Sha Tanya	Sha Tanya Turner	4613		X	X				Diagnosis date not listed but symptoms began in 1978. Was part of a prior class action but not certain of the name of the lawyer; says was unaware of entitlement to file in Tronox. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. In addition, the claim either was resolved in a prior proceeding or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1278	TRO902368FTC	9/14/2016	Morgan, Corzell	Corzell Morgan	4614			X		X		Diagnoses dates listed as "1956-2017 currently." Alleges some conditions manifested after bar date, also undergoing radiation treatment in summer 2009. Residence at time of exposures not specified. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1279	TRO886178FTC	12/7/2015	Turner, Eddie	Turner, Eddie	4615		X	X				The Trustee's summary lists the claim number as TRO886178FTC, but the page that was docketed lists it at TRO886179FTC. Claimants says was part of an earlier class action but does not recall name of atty. Claimant says was unaware of entitlement to file. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. If claim was resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on pre-2006 diagnoses, if not resolved in a prior proceeding, also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1280	TRO887480FTC	12/14/2015	Payne, Richard	Sharlene Payne Martin	4616	9293	X	X				1974 diagnosis; rep says injured party died in 1992; rep did not file because there were not any class action law suits regarding Kerr-McGee illnesses. A supplemental letter filed at docket #9293 complaining about the process. Absence of a class action filed by another party does not explain injured party's failure to take action. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

Says filed in a timely manner but form refers to a 2015 filing, which was long after the bar date. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1320	TRO896112FTC	4/6/2016	Jackson, Kim (Reynolds)	Kim Jackson (Reynolds)	4658			X		X		Says symptoms were in 2007 but diagnosis in 2012. Does not appear to be seeking relief based on excusable neglect, instead appears to be pursuing a Future Tort Claim based on a post-bar date diagnosis. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date (including any disputes as to the dates of diagnoses) are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1321	TRO889343FTC	2/23/2016	Smith-Daniels, Sallie	Sallie Smith-Daniels	4659		X	X				Diagnoses 2003 and earlier. Did not know and had no reason to know exposed to a Tronox product; focused on dialysis treatment in 2009, kidney disease led to transplant in 2010. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1322	TRO913558FTC	6/28/2017	McClenton, Anthony	Anthony McClenton	4660		X	X				1981 diagnosis. Unaware of bar date; unaware exposed to Tronox product; violation of due process. Alleges due process issue but makes no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1323	TRO891278FTC	2/23/2016	Treadwell, Ann	Ann Treadwell	4661		X	X				1986 diagnosis. Unaware of bar date. Says she filed after she called the Trust and was told there was no deadline. Trust did not exist at the time of the bar date so such a call does not explain a failure to file in 2009. In addition, there was no deadline as to claims based on post-bar date diagnoses, so any advice to that effect was correct. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1324	TRO893134FTC	2/23/2016	Jethrow, Christine	Christine Jethrow	4662		X	X				Former Columbus resident. Alleges a diagnosis in 2006 but previously filed with atty Bambach in 1999, says paperwork lost. Prior dealings with attorney show awareness of claim and legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1325	TRO886490FTC	12/7/2015	Young, Mary	Mary Young	4663	8816	X	X				1987 diagnosis. Says did not receive direct notice which violates due process; out of town at the time. A supplemental letter filed with others at docket #8816 complaining about the process. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1326	TRO890354FTC	2/23/2016	Jones, Carter	Evelyn Jones Vaughn	4664			X				1974 diagnosis; injured party died in 1985; rep unaware of bankruptcy case and bar date; did not see any notices. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1327	TRO888565FTC	12/24/2015	Jones, Kawanda	Kawanda Jones	4665			X		X		Alleges some diagnoses before bar date but other conditions after bar date. Says did not know and had no reason to know exposed to Tronox product. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1328	TRO895733FTC	3/24/2016	Brown, Nicole	Nicole Brown	4666			X		X		Symptoms and diagnosis after bar date; unaware of bar date. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. If counsel lost or misplaced a claim in another proceeding, that is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1331	TRO892325FTC	2/23/2016	Lee, Sammie	Pauline Lee	4669		X	X				2005 diagnosis; injured party died in 2008; cut-and-pasted language as to reasons for not filing by bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1332	TRO886920FTC	12/7/2015	Rice, Christopher	Christopher Rice	4670			X		X		Lists various diagnosis dates but may be continuing conditions rather than new conditions or injuries. Unaware of lawsuit or that he could file a claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to conditions diagnosed before the bar date. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

1333	TRO886918FTC	12/7/2015	Hopkins, Felicia	Felicia Hopkins	4671		X	X				Diagnoses 1981-1996. Says was unaware of lawsuit or that she could file a claim. Says was a child, but given alleged exposure onset (1981) and first diagnosis (1981) claimant must have been 27 or 28 at the time of the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1334	TRO891362FTC	2/23/2016	Williams, Joe	Joe Williams	4672			X		X		Says that symptoms and diagnosis began 2010. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, no grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1335	TRO902802FTC	8/16/2016	Fields, Carolyn	Carolyn Fields	4673		X	X				2004 diagnosis. No excuse provided. Does not allege lack of knowledge of bar date, contains no showing to support relief based on excusable neglect or due process. In addition, claim was time-barred before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1336	TRO886253FTC	12/7/2015	Ivy, Jesse	Jesse Ivy	4676			X		X		Standard form language as to reasons why did not meet bar date; says symptoms and diagnosis were in September 2009. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, no grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1337	TRO902792FTC	8/16/2016	Howard, Eric	Eric Howard	4677			X		X		Alleges a 2009 diagnosis without a specific date. Says was unaware of Tronox bankruptcy case until heard about it from a friend at an unspecified date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to claims based on a pre-bar date diagnosis. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

1339	TRO902793FTC	8/16/2016	Moore, Judy	Judy Moore	4679			X		X		Symptoms in 1998 and diagnosis 2009 without specific date. Says was unaware of the case. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1340	TRO913552FTC	6/28/2017	Kilgore, Mary	Mary Kilgore	4680		X	X				1953 diagnosis. Unaware of deadline; did not know and no reason to know exposed to a Tronox product; violation of due process. Claim was time-barred by the time of the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Alleges lack of actual knowledge of bar date but claim had already expired and in any event there is no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1341	TRO901404FTC	8/16/2016	Spratt, Chadsity	Chiquita McMillian	4681	8203					X	2005 diagnosis of daughter at birth, rep says unaware of claim; says also had no reason to believe injured party was exposed to a Tronox chemical. Filed supplement at docket # 8203, complains about WSJ publication rather than local MS papers, but in fact the notice also was published in the Columbus Commercial Dispatch and in newspapers located in Jackson and Hattiesburg, MS. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
1342	TRO901390FTC	8/16/2016	McMillian, Willie Lamar	Willie Lamar McMillian	4682	8205		X				2006-2007 diagnoses. Unaware of the claim; no reason to believe exposed to a Tronox chemical, filed as soon as he heard about the process. Supplement at docket #8205. Complains about publication in WSJ but publication notice also appeared in the Columbus Commercial Dispatch and in two other newspapers in Mississippi. No explanation of many years' delay after the bar date before claim was filed. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

1343	TRO894102FTC	3/2/2016	Moody, Willie	Willie Moody	4683	8151		X			X		The motion at docket # 4683 is by Willie Moody [TRO894102FTC]. A different motion by a person named Willie Moody [TRO891159FTC] is at docket #5042. In the motion at docket 4683, Mr. Moody says his symptoms and diagnosis were in 2012-2013, after the bar date. However, he also says that he previously filed with the Colom law firm in 2007, says that he filed ten years ago but the Tronox/Kerr McGee froze an account at Bank First. Appears to be referring to a claim in a prior class action, but details are not clear. A supplement filed at docket # 8151, it is merely a copy of the certificate of service filed by the Trust. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1344	TRO888047FTC	12/18/2015	Polite, Wallace	Wallace Polite	4684		X	X					1991 diagnosis. Says was incompetent at the time of the bar date. Claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Incompetence or lack of knowledge in 2009 therefore make no difference. Also makes no showing as to relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1345	TRO887800FTC	12/14/2015	Laing, Caroline	Caroline Laing	4685	8123	X	X					Symptoms 1996-1998; says "yes" for diagnosis but without alleging a date. Says moved away from Mississippi, joined army in 1989 and moved a number of times, received no direct notice and was unaware of bankruptcy proceedings. A supplement at docket # 8123, says retired from army in 2001. Military service ended in 2001, so 50 U.S.C. 3936 is not applicable. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1348	TRO897206FTC	5/4/2016	Lynn, Michael, Sr.	Cynthia Lynn	4688			X				Diagnoses 1989-1996; the injured party is deceased; rep says not made aware of the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1349	TRO897207FTC	5/4/2016	Lynn, Michael	Michael Lynn	4689			X				1990 diagnosis. Says was not made aware. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1350	TRO897208FTC	5/4/2016	Lynn, Kelly	Kelly Lynn	4690			X				1994 diagnosis. Says was not made aware. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1351	TRO890457FTC	2/23/2016	McSwine, Doris	Doris McSwine	4691	8258		X				Alleges 2006 diagnosis; former MS resident; says previously filed with Tollison law firm in 2016, may be referring to late-filed claim with Trust; says did not know to file by 2009. Supplement at docket # 8258. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

1352	TRO880746FTC	12/4/2015	Williams, Carol	Carol Williams	4692		X	X				1980 diagnosis. Was unaware of bar date or case; did not see any publication notice; notice not reasonably calculated to provide notice to potential claimants; resides in TN. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but claim had already expired and in any event there is no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009.
1353	TRO886622FTC	12/7/2015	Brown, Antoine	Antoine Brown	4693	8816 9155	X	X				1988 diagnosis. Working out of state; did not receive direct notice that was required to file in bankruptcy case which allegedly violated due process; unclear if was previously part of Colom class action. A supplemental letter filed with others at docket #8816 complaining about the process. A supplemental letter filed at docket #9155 complaining about the process. If claim was resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. Even if the claim was not resolved in a prior class action the claim was time-barred by the time of the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Alleged lack of direct notice did not matter because claim had already expired. In addition, movant has made no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, offers no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009.
1354	TRO887532FTC	12/14/2015	Malone, Jimmie	Gwen Thompson	4694	7973 8215 8375	X	X				Different address listed in last supplement (docket 8375), both addresses are listed here. Previously filed with Colom law firm 2002; injured party deceased 2003; rep says unaware of process; supp filed at docket # 7973 (letter complaining of process, refers to paperwork sent by attorneys in 2002 and need to prove lived in the area; complains is not responsible for the high volume of claims and that people who did not live in the area were paid) and docket #8215, unaware of deadline, community was not informed of deadline. A supplement filed at docket #8375 by Gwen Malone Thompson, wants to know why they did not get property damage settlement and why Pastor Jamison got it all. However, there is no record that this movant ever made a property damage claim. Participation in prior class action shows knowledge of claim and rights. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim either was resolved in prior class action or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1362	TRO891682FTC	2/23/2016	McMath, Porthia	Porthia McMath	4701	8118	X	X				Diagnoses in 1965 and 1999. Previously filed with Colom firm; may have received a $4,553.25 settlement. A supplement filed at docket #8118. If claim was fully resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. If claim was not resolved, then it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. In addition, participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights, motion alleges lack of actual knowledge but makes no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), would not be sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect even if claim had not already been resolved or time-barred.
1363	TRO894427FTC	3/2/2016	Wells, Emma	Barry Jefferson	4702	8079	X	X				1971 diagnosis; the injured party died in 1982; rep unaware could file claim for deceased person. A supplement filed at docket #8079. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1364	TRO894420FTC	3/2/2016	Jones, Alberta	Barry Jefferson	4703	8065	X	X				Incorrectly listed by Trust as having docket number 3850, the correct docket number is 4703. The injured party died in 1987; rep unaware he could have gone to a lawyer or anyone else. A supplement filed at docket #8065, rep says hospital threw out records after 10 years. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1365	TRO886022FTC	12/7/2015	Smith, Estella	Estella Smith	4704			X			X	Cut-and-pasted language as to reasons for not filing. Says symptoms and diagnosis in 2013 but also filed with Colom, part of 2002 class action. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Claim asserted in class action either was resolved in that prior proceeding or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date (including the merits of any defense based on the resolution of the prior class action claim) are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1366	TRO901185FTC	8/16/2016	Edward, Tommy	Tommy Edward	4705		X	X				1974 diagnosis. Was not aware he could file because he worked over there, and lived with a friend but didn't have own home, but was told that he could file because he can't work anymore because of this. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1367	TRO912499FTC	5/30/2017	Cousins, Curlie	Curlie Cousins	4706		X	X				1935 diagnosis. Unaware of bar date; did not know and no reason to know exposed to Tronox product; a violation of due process. Claim was time-barred by the time of the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Alleges lack of due process but the claim had already expired and there is also no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Even if the claim had not expired the motion merely alleges lack of actual knowledge but makes no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

1368	TRO888224FTC	12/18/2015	Clayborn, Mary	Mary Clayborn	4707		X	X			X	Diagnoses in 2002 and 2011. Former resident of Columbus, MS who relocated to Alabama; did not receive notice, publication notice not reasonably calculated to provide notice; did not know and had no reason to know exposed to Tronox product. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claim also was time-barred to the extent it is based on a condition diagnosed in 2002. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1369	TRO896007FTC	4/6/2016	Cooper, Jeffrey	Jeffrey Cooper	4708						X	2003 diagnosis. Says was a minor at bar date and that discharge violates due process; does not say why guardian did not file. Will permit supplemental submission to verify age at the time of the bar date and to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
1370	TRO891503FTC	2/23/2016	Stallings, Lacisha	Lacisha Stallings	4709			X			X	Says symptoms and diagnosis Oct. 2009; cut-and-pasted reasons for not filing earlier. Diagnosis date may be disputed. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, no grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1371	TRO896810FTC	4/25/2016	Butler, Parko	Parko Butler	4711						X	December 2008 diagnosis. Says was incapacitated by injuries and mental illness, schizophrenia. Will permit supplemental submission to verify alleged mental incapacity at the time of the bar date and to explain why movant could not enlist others to help in filing a claim, why movant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
1372	TRO896359FTC	4/13/2016	Cooper, Trayvon	Trayvon Cooper	4712						X	2003 diagnosis. Was a minor at the time of the bar date, says violation of due process. Will permit supplemental submission to verify age as of the bar date and to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.

1373	TRO902301FTC	9/14/2016	Williams, Arvin	Mattie Williams	4713		X	X				1978 diagnosis. Former resident of Columbus, MS. Premature infant deceased, rep says residing in Arkansas since 2000; unaware of class action until late, then unaware of bar date, then when another lawsuit was opened (presumably she means the filing of claims with the Trust in 2015 or so) she received an application from Garretson but they did not mention that the deadline had passed. Claim based on a 1978 diagnosis is not a future tort claim. Claim was time-barred by the time of the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Even if claim were not time-barred, the motion alleges lack of actual knowledge but makes no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1374	TRO880717FTC	12/4/2015	Williams, Augusta	Mattie Williams	4714		X	X				1985 diagnosis; injured party died in 2006, filed by same representative as claim 4713 (a former MS resident), refers to an attached letter. Claim was time-barred by the time of the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Claim based on a 1985 diagnosis is not a future tort claim. Even if the claim were not time-barred, the movant alleges lack of actual knowledge but makes no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1375	TRO880718FTC	12/4/2015	Williams, Ofie	Mattie Williams	4715		X	X				Injured party died in 2000, filed by same representative as claims 4713 and 4714 (a former MS resident), same excuse. Claim was time-barred by the time of the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Even if the claim were not time-barred, the motion alleges lack of actual knowledge but makes no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1376	TRO900895FTC	Unknown	Holliday, Lou Dean	Lou Dean Holliday	4716	5300		X		X		Not included in Trust's summary. Alleges a 2016 diagnosis. Says was not notified about the filing of any papers until the time he did file, an unidentified man told him it was not too late and got their money (apparently referring to someone who charged for filling out and filling relevant forms). No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

1403	TRO898339FTC	6/20/2016	Hill, George	Velma Stalling	4745		X	X				First diagnosis date listed as "1999-2009." Injured party died in 2009. Previously filed with Bambach, paperwork lost. Prior dealings with attorney show awareness of claim and legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1412	TRO891206FTC	Unknown	Mosely, Freddie	Freddie Mosely	4755		X	X				The Trust's summary correctly listed the motion at docket 4755 as a motion by Freddie Mosely but the correct claim number is TRO891206FTC. The claim number on the Trust's summary (TRO891291FTC) belongs to Thomas Taylor at docket # 4837. The motion filed by Mr. Mosley alleges a 1999 diagnosis. Motion asserts that the claim was previously filed with Mr. Bambach but that the paperwork was lost. Even though the claim lists the injured party as Freddie Mosely himself, it may actually be Shirley Mosely as her death certificate from 2000 is attached to the file, and Mr. Mosely may be her representative. In any case, prior dealings with attorney show awareness of claim and legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1417	TRO896080FTC	4/6/2016	Williamson, Marva	Marva Williamson	4760		X	X				1986 diagnosis; previously filed with atty Gunn and the Tollison law firm in MS in 2002. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Claim either was resolved in a prior proceeding or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Even if the claim had not been previously resolved or if it had not already expired, the motion alleges lack of actual knowledge but makes no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1418	TRO890246FTC	2/23/2016	Murray, Morris	Morris Murray	4761		X	X				1998 diagnosis; did not know and had no reason to know exposed to Tronox product. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1419	TRO889274FTC	2/23/2016	Temple, Gregory	Gregory Temple	4762		X	X				2000 symptoms; no diagnosis date listed; no excuse provided for failure to file by bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1420	TRO887188FTC	12/14/2015	Craddieth, Christena	Christena Craddieth	4763		X	X				1983 diagnosis. Says was unaware of dangers of Tronox product. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1424	TRO891704FTC	2/23/2016	Colister, Frederick	Frederick Colister	4767			X				March 2006 diagnosis. Not aware of filing; spoke to atty and atty said he would get back in touch; when claimant found out later that people were filing paper was when he did his application. Date of contact with attorney is not clear, may have been in connection with the late-filed claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1425	TRO888797FTC	12/30/2015	Callie, Payne	MS Payne	4768						X	2005 diagnosis. Rep says that injured party was incapacitated and incompetent at the time, she resided in a nursing home and was unable to communicate. Rep does not specify date and it is unclear if this condition predated the bar date, particularly because the Trust says the claim is barred by the statute of limitations. Will permit supplemental submission to explain timing and duration of the alleged incapacity, whether the same affected the running of the statute of limitations, and reasons why guardians or reps did not file a claim until many years after the bar date.
1426	TRO897338FTC	5/25/2016	Glenn-Sylvester, Hailey	Kemberlyn Smith	4769						X	2006 diagnosis. Injured party is a minor and lived out of state in S.C.; unaware of exposure to dangerous Tronox product. Will permit supplemental submission to verify age as of the bar date and to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.

1439	TRO887727FTC	12/14/2015	Murray, Katherine	Katherine Murray	4783	5022	X	X				Diagnoses 1989 to present (unclear if any new conditions after bar date); did not know symptoms were caused by Tronox product; says previously filed with Garretson in 2007 but that is obviously not a reference to the bankruptcy process, as the bankruptcy case was not filed until 2009. Supplement filed at docket # 5022; rep says filed earlier in 2007 without details, says was unaware exposed to dangerous Tronox chemicals and condition from it. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. No record of any lawsuit against Tronox or other claim allegedly filed in 2007. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing and before the alleged 2007 filing of a claim.
1440	TRO905002FTC	1/24/2017	Rupert, M. L.	Velma Williams	4784		X	X				1975 diagnosis; injured party died in 1989; rep says form of notice was deficient on its face; publication notice not reasonably calculated to provide notice to unknown claimants; says filing was prevented by disaster but does not specify what the disaster was; says did not know and had not reason to know exposed to Tronox product. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. A supplement filed at docket #8547 complaining of process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1499	TRO904196FTC	1/3/2017	Ivy, Flazel	Antoinette Crawford	4844		X	X				1975 diagnosis; the injured party is deceased; rep did not know injured party had been exposed to a dangerous product; says notice was deficient on its face; notice not reasonably calculated to provide notice to unknown claimants; did not know and no reason to know exposed to a Tronox product. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Notice terms were clear and sufficient for reasons stated in the accompanying Decision. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations long before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1500	TRO884315FTC	11/25/2015	Gordon, Ka'derion	Lutece Roland	4845			X				2008 diagnosis; says was unaware of a claim against Tronox until 2015. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1501	TRO893556FTC	2/23/2016	Perry, J. P.	J. P. Perry	4846		X	X				Diagnoses in childhood (1960s or so); unaware of bankruptcy case; when worked at Kerr-McGee, they did not tell him about the harmful chemicals; says hospital does not have medical records for years at issue. Claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations long before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Even if the claim had not been time-barred, the motion alleges a lack of actual knowledge but makes no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

1502	TRO893405FTC	2/23/2016	Sciandra, Charles	Charles Sciandra	4847			X				The claim to which the motion at docket # 4847 relates is for Charles J. Sciandra (TRO893405FTC) and his excuse is that he was working out of town and home on weekends. A separate motion by Charles A. Sciandra (TRO891712FTC) is at docket #4355. As to Charles J. Sciandra: the risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1503	TRO901317FTC	8/16/2016	Fleming, Leona	Thomas Fleming	4848			X				1992 diagnosis; the injured party died in 2002. Representative says was unaware of claim prior to 2015; did not see it in paper; says was caring for wife then but says wife died in 2002. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1504	TRO890814FTC	2/23/2016	Fields, Carlos	Carlos Fields	4849		X	X		X		Refers to symptoms of respiratory conditions as in 1995-2001, then says diagnosis 2012-2015, medical records attached for those dates are not for respiratory conditions. Does not offer excuse for failure to file claim by bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to conditions diagnosed before the bar date. Claims based on conditions first diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1505	TRO886401FTC	12/7/2015	Turner, Mary	Mary Turner	4850			X		X		Says was unaware exposed to Tronox product; says asthma, gallstones and removal of gall bladder; does not state diagnosis date for asthma, says gall bladder symptoms were in 2009, diagnosed in 2010. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

1582	TRO888471FTC	Unknown	Townsend, Debra	Lillian Townsend	4928		X	X				Not included in Trust's summary. 1973 diagnosis; rep says did not know. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1583	TRO889534FTC	2/23/2016	Deloach, Timothy	Timothy Deloach	4929		X	X		X		Movant says unsure of diagnosis dates. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1584	TRO889731FTC	2/23/2016	Minor, Shakyra	Tanikka Profeit	4930						X	Diagnosis in 2000 at birth; representative claims 2004 claim filing of some kind in addition to filing with Trust in September 2015; says she sent the minor's papers with her own but for some reason they only discovered her papers. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why representative did not file before the bar date, why waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
1585	TRO887112FTC	12/14/2015	Profeit, Tabia	Tabias Profeit	4931						X	Says diagnosis at birth; says symptoms began in 1996 but also says first exposure was in 2003; minor at time of bar date; says mother filed papers in 2004 but was told they did not get any results. Appears to be referring to a failed claim in a prior class action. Filing in 2004 indicates awareness of legal rights by parent or guardian. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.

1586	TRO893543FTC	2/23/2016	Stewart, Dominique	Dominique Stewart	4932		X	X				1987 diagnoses; says previously filed with Colom law firm before the bar date but that neither claimant nor his atty received direct written notice. However, the proofs of service show service upon Colom law firm, and the Colom firm actively participated in the bankruptcy case. Prior dealings with attorney show awareness of claim and legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 1666	TRO885164FTC	11/25/2015	Robinson, Early	Early Robinson	5014	8534		X			X		Says at time was working for Tronox under JIMCo and was afraid of losing employment if made a claim; says injury was caused by working a pulling press at Tronox, symptoms started 2011, hip replacement 2015. A supplemental letter complaining about the process filed at docket #8534. Unclear if claim is based on exposure to a harmful substance; appears it is an alleged work-related injury. However, the claim is not based on a pre-bar date diagnosis so a motion for relief from the bar date is not needed or proper. To the extent the claim alleges a condition first diagnosed after the bar date, the merits of the claim, and whether it is of a type covered by the Tort Claims Trust, are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust based on its normal dispute resolution procedures.
1667	TRO893515FTC	2/23/2016	Morris, Tyshiwon	Mary Morris (Rejto?)	5015			X			X		Says symptoms & diagnosis 2010; deceased 2015; did not know anything about filling out a claim. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1668	TRO885979FTC	11/25/2015	Golden, Litton	Litton Golden	5016	8270 8395	X	X					2000 diagnosis; unaware of process and not aware could file claim for deceased relative; without knowledge to wade through process; supplements filed at docket # 8270 & 8395. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1669	TRO887431FTC	12/14/2015	Smith, Janice	Janice Smith	5017		X	X					1974 diagnosis. Unaware of claims process as claim filing in Columbus allegedly was held in secret meetings, asks Court to reconsider the Trust's decision. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1670	TRO896076FTC	4/6/2016	Randle, Stella	Stella Randle	5019			X			X		Says symptoms and diagnosis 2010; did not know of Tronox case or process; medical records not provided to Court. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

1672	TRO904148FTC	1/3/2017	Rupert, Velma	Velma Williams	5021		X	X				1968 diagnosis; the injured party died in 1982; did not know and no reason to know exposed to Tronox product; form of notice was deficient; publication notice not reasonably calculated to provide notice. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1673	TRO887102FTC	12/14/2015	Smith, Jeanette	Jeanette Smith	5023		X	X				1974 diagnosis; unaware of claims filing; in area it allegedly was a secret and told to certain people and churches; unaware Tronox was releasing toxic chemicals in environment. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1674	TRO889499FTC	2/23/2016	Howard, Danny	Gloria Williams	5024	3657		X				Minor; rep says unaware claims were filed; she had left town to stay and care for severely ill sister in Tennessee. Motion at docket 3657 covers the same injured party (claim TRO889502FTC), apparently filed by the injured party himself, same address is listed. This separate application is denied; see docket 3657 for resolution of injured party's own motion.
1675	TRO900284FTC	7/25/2016	Hill, Charles	Charles Hill	5025			X			X	Unaware could file a claim; says symptoms 2010 and surgery and diagnosis in 2010, does not insert medical records. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

1677	TRO897409FTC	5/25/2016	Mills, Linda	Linda Mills	5027			X		X		Diagnoses in 1989, 1992 and 1995, "chest pains" in 2010. Unaware of bankruptcy proceedings; did not hear about it. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Unclear if chest pains in 2010 represented a new condition, but the merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1678	TRO902696FTC	8/16/2016	Thomas, Gayle	Gayle Thomas	5028		X	X				Says he learned of problems when EPA came to town and was told to fill out paperwork but was never contacted. EPA visit pre-dated the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Dates of diagnoses unclear but motion admits knowledge of Tronox connection to health issues. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

1731	TRO895084FTC	3/23/2016	Shinn, Steven	Steven Shinn	5083		X	X				2002 diagnosis; says was incapacitated; provides a hospital record for an emergency room visit 9/15/2009, a month after bar date for bronchitis, could have been sick for prior period. However, given the 2002 diagnosis this claim was already time-barred before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1732	TRO887026FTC	12/14/2015	Jones, Raeburn	Betty Vonsee	5084		X	X				1969 diagnosis; injured party died in 1971; rep says did not know and had no reason to know injured party had been exposed to Tronox product. 1736	TRO891064FTC	2/23/2016	Trimuel, Cassandra	Cassandra Trimuel	5088			X		X		Says symptoms 2009 and diagnosis 2012; says previously filed with Colom law firm in 2003 and received $3,000; was not aware of bar date. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same also were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to conditions diagnosed before the bar date. Claim resolved in a prior class action also could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. To the extent the claim alleges a new condition first diagnosed after the bar date (cysts in 2012) the merits of that claim (including any issues as to whether the prior class action settlement foreclosed claims based on future conditions) is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.

1737	TRO897373FTC	5/25/2016	Strother, Linda	Maggie Gardner	5089		X	X				2000 diagnosis; injured party died in 2011; rep was the caregiver; they were away from home and due to her illness could not go to meetings or file; says that they were not given justifiable allowance under the guidance of attorneys Colom and Lundy; private meetings by certain sectors provided minimal details for other residents. Meetings held by private attorneys, and participants in them, may affect participants' knowledge of bar date but otherwise are not relevant to excusable neglect. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 1738	TRO884938FTC	11/25/2015	Hudson, Rickey	Rickey Hudson	5090		X	X				1999 diagnosis; previously filed with atty Bambach, paperwork lost. Prior dealings with attorney show awareness of claim and legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1739	TRO887821FTC	12/14/2015	Gardner, Richard	Richard Gardner	5091			X		X		Says was offered $5,000 in a letter dated 8/31/2017 but rejected offer. It appears that the trust reviewed the file and made a settlement proposal; movant says was not given justifiable allowance under the guidance of Colom and Lundy; refers to private meetings and minimal detail to residents. This is a dispute over the Trust's proposal regarding a post-bar date claim (not an issue as to the application of the bar date) and is to be resolved through the Trust's normal dispute resolution procedures, not by motion to the Court.
1740	TRO899000FTC	6/27/2016	Pate, Cleveland	Barbara Pate	5092		X	X				1972 diagnosis; the injured party died in 1988; rep says timely filed but appears to be under mistaken belief that the late-filed claim was timely. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

Claim based on 1999 diagnosis was time-barred at the time of the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to conditions diagnosed before the bar date. To the extent the claimant alleges new condition first diagnosed after the bar dates the merits of that contention (and any defenses thereto) are to be determined by the Tort Claims Trust pursuant to its dispute resolution procedures.
1747	TRO892456FTC	2/23/2016	Thompson, Brian	Brian Thompson	5099		X	X				2003 diagnosis; rep says did not know of exposure to a Tronox product. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1748	TRO888485FTC	12/18/2015	Gordon, Janie	Janie Gordon	5100			X			X	Says symptoms 2009 and diagnosis 2009-2010 (some before bar date, some after); rep says did not know she was exposed to a Tronox product. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to conditions diagnoses before the bar date. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1749	TRO895293FTC	3/23/2016	Jones, Stella	Stella Jones	5101		X	X			X	Alleges various diagnoses, all of which are pre-bar date except possibly for cataract diagnosis in 2009. Says she did not know about the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to conditions diagnosed before the bar date. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

1750	TRO900507FTC	8/16/2016	Lowe, L.C.	L.C. Lowe	5102		X	X			X	Standard form language regarding reasons for delay; form says first diagnosis in 1985, attachments only refer to conditions after 2015. To the extent the conditions were diagnosed in 1985 the claim is time-barred. To the extent other conditions were diagnosed before the bar date there is an insufficient showing as to relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. To the extent the claim alleges new post-bar date diagnoses of different conditions, the merits of that claim and any defenses to it are to be resolved under the Tort Claims Trust dispute resolution procedures.
1751	TRO887186FTC	12/14/2015	Hogan, Shelly	Shelly Hogan	5103		X	X				The motion at docket # 5103 is for Shelly Hogan (TRO887186FTC) on her own behalf. Shelly Hogan also filed separate motions as to Mitchell Marlowe (TRO896066FTC) at docket # 5392 and for Mitchell Marlowe (TRO888805FTC) at docket # 5457. As to the motion at docket # 5103: Ms. Hogan says she was diagnosed in 1972 and previously filed with Colom law firm and received $1,200; says publication notice was not reasonably calculated to provide notice; did not know and no reason to know exposed to Tronox product; asserts that the discharge of her claim is a violation of due process. Participated in a prior legal proceeding and already received compensation. Claim that was resolved in a prior proceeding could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. Publication notices complied with due process for the reasons stated in the accompanying Decision. In addition, the motion alleges a lack of actual knowledge but makes no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), is not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1752	TRO898968FTC	6/27/2016	Beatty, Oleather	Oleather Beatty	5104		X	X				1986 diagnosis; did not know about it then. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1753	TRO894823FTC	3/23/2016	Brown, Anthony	Anthony Brown	5105			X			X	Alleges a first diagnosis in 2012, does not provide medical records; offers cut-and-pasted standard form language as to reasons why did not file a claim before the bar date. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

Says he did file a claim but never received anything. However, no record of a claim in the bankruptcy process. If contends a timely claim was filed that is an issue to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim based on excusable neglect or lack of due process. To the extent a timely claim was not filed, there is an insufficient showing of relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), motion is not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to conditions diagnosed before the bar date. Claims based on conditions first diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. 1787	TRO895657FTC	3/24/2016	Miller, Luevirda	Luevirda Miller	5140			X		X		Unaware of deadline or that qualified despite not living in certain area; says symptoms 2009-2011 and diagnosis 2011 but does not provide any medical records. No specific pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, motion denied to extent it seeks relief based on excusable neglect for pre-bar date claims. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1788	TRO890175FTC	2/23/2016	Harris, Trey	Trey Harris	5141			X		X		Cut-and-pasted form language as to reasons missed bar date; says symptoms and diagnosis began in 2010. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1789	TRO886637FTC	12/7/2015	Smith, Toby	Toby Smith	5142		X	X				2003 diagnosis; says was not informed of claims process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1790	TRO894834FTC	3/23/2016	Blunt, Gloria (Griffin)	Gloria Griffin	5143	8198		X				2009 diagnosis; unaware of any legal proceedings, litigation, bankruptcy filing, or claims deadlines; says was diagnosed in March 2009 and then was hospitalized for quite a while and then the surgeries started. It appears this was near bar date. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8198, says it is unclear to her into which category she falls whether allowed or disallowed. Illness was near bar date and treatments may explain reasons why bar date was initially missed but there is no explanation of the many years' delay after the bar date before a claim was filed. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1791	TRO900170FTC	7/25/2016	Whitfield, Connie	Connie Whitfield	5144			X		X		Says was offered an amount that is unfair; someone offered to assist and provided forms prefilled that referred to certain chemicals; says was misled. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to conditions diagnosed before the bar date. However, this appears to be a dispute over the Tort Claims Trust's evaluation of the claimant's allegations as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date, which should be resolved under the Tort Claims Trust's dispute resolution procedures.
1792	TRO891653FTC	2/23/2016	James, Leon	Debra James	5145			X				1968 diagnosis; rep says that they were unaware at time that this was going on; says injured party was sick at the time frequently in hospital but does not provide specific dates or medical records. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1793	TRO886128FTC	12/7/2015	Adams, Mary	Mary Adams	5146		X	X				1995 diagnosis; says was unaware of process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

Claim was time-barred under applicable statute of limitations many years before the Tronox bankruptcy. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1799	TRO889140FTC	2/23/2016	Hughes, Bradford	Bradford Hughes	5152			X				1991 diagnosis; says unaware of case or bar date; unaware could file claim; relocated to Tennessee; says notice was insufficient, publication notice was not reasonably calculated to give notice. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

1803	TRO894407FTC	3/2/2016	Newman, Larry	Larry Newman	5157			X				Unaware of process and did not know could file claim; dates of diagnoses unclear but letter says were before bar date. No supporting information. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1804	TRO891067FTC	2/23/2016	Jones, Duane	Duane Jones	5158	6227		X		X		Signed forms filed at docket # 5158; related letter filed at docket # 6227. Letter says does not understand why claim was denied because was exposed from 1959 to 1971 and later developed various medical conditions. To the extent the claimant seeks to pursue claims based on conditions that were manifested before the bar date the motion is denied as there is no showing of diligence in pursuit of claim and no explanation of why did not file by the bar date. To the extent the claimant alleges new conditions after the bar date, the merits of that claim are to be resolved through the Tort Claims Trust dispute resolution procedures.
1805	TRO890952FTC	Unknown	Smith, James	James Smith	5159			X		X		Not included in Trust's summary. Motion contains no information, just a signature page. Same address as claimant Ebony Smith at docket #5052. These papers appear to seek review of the Trust's determination as to an alleged post-bar date claim (not relief based on excusable neglect or due process), is to be resolved through the Tort Claims Trust dispute resolution procedures.
1806	TRO897184FTC	Unknown	McCloud, Corey	Corey McCloud	5160			X		X		Not included in Trust's summary. Signed rejection notice. No motion for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any disagreement over Trust's review of claim is to be resolved in the Tort Claims Trust dispute resolution procedure.

Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1815	TRO890352 FTC	2/23/2016	Jones, Starling	Starling Jones, Jr.	5169			X				Diagnoses between 1984 and 2006; did not know and no reason to know that condition was caused by exposure to Tronox product; says bar date notice was not reasonably calculated to reach claimant. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1816	TRO890946FTC	2/23/2016	Love, Miracle	Rosemary Love	5170			X				June 2007 diagnosis; rep's reason for not filing by bar date is "Didn't think I could." Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Motion does not allege lack of knowledge of bar date, contains no showing to support relief based on excusable neglect or due process.

1820	TRO902474FTC	9/14/2016	Williams, Willis	Eddie Williams	5174		X	X				1978 diagnosis; the injured party is deceased; filed the std letter complaining about the prefilled forms and the low payout. The rep complains that the claim was denied because of the dates of the underlying illnesses. The rep says that a lot of claimants were not aware of the bar date, bankruptcy case or how to complete a claim; they did not know the chemicals to which they were exposed; they were told to complete a category A form and did not know that category D was available. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 1829	Unknown	3/2/2016	Marlowe, Larry M.	Larry Marlowe	5183			X			X	The motion at docket #5183 is on behalf of Larry M. Marlowe though the form that was used is one that was prepared for Ricky Lee. The motion actually filed on behalf of Ricky Lee [TRO893766FTC] is at docket # 6769. A motion by another movant named Larry Marlowe (apparently a different claimant, with a different address) is at docket # 1924. Larry M. Marlowe's excuse in the motion at docket #5183 is that he previously filed with atty Howard Gunn in 2008; says did not file a claim because he was in car wreck and was in the hospital, does not assert specific dates for car wreck or insert any medical records as to hospital stay. Also says symptoms were 2008 and diagnosis 2013 but that may be inconsistent with having filed with atty in 2008. No explanation of why attorney could not file or why nothing was filed until many years after the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 							A	B	C	D	E
1830	TRO891049FTC	2/23/2016	Whitfield, Susie	Susie Whitfield	5185			X		X		Various diagnosis dates listed, unclear how to match to particular conditions; says did not know and no reason to know exposed to a Tronox product; did not receive any mail about it. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1831	TRO0896590FT C	4/25/2016	Hughes, Tekesha	Tekesha, Hughes	5186	9439		X		X		Alleges first symptoms in September 2009 and a 2009 diagnosis; previously filed with atty Colom (dates not specified); no excuse provided. Supplemental letter filed at docket #9439 complaining about the process. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1832	TRO901943FTC	9/14/2016	Colbert, Nanette	Eugene Wilson	5187	5330	X	X				1983 diagnosis; says publication notice was not reasonably calculated to provide notice. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1833	TRO887406FTC	12/14/2015	Evans, Kenneth	Kenneth Evans	5188	8590	X	X				First diagnosis apparently in 1980; unaware exposed to a Tronox product. A supplemental letter filed at docket # 8590 complaining about the process. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1834	TRO890949FTC	2/23/2016	Lee, Casey	Casey Lee	5189		X	X				1967 diagnosis; previously filed with atty Colom 2002; unaware of claims process. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1835	TRO890652FTC	2/23/2016	Evans, Metrice	Metrtice Evans	5190		X	X				Previously filed with atty Bambach, says filed claim in 2000 and does not know what happened. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim either was resolved in another action in 2000 or, if not, it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1836	TRO904106FTC	1/3/2017	Douglas, Eric	Eric Douglas	5191			X		X		Says symptoms began 1989; alleges first diagnosis in 2009 but that may be disputed. Says unaware of ongoing case; did not receive call, letter or any information from TV or radio. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1838	TRO889601FTC	2/23/2016	Prowell, Antonia	Antonia Prowell	5193	8262	X	X				1992 diagnosis; says publication notice not reasonably calculated to provide notice; did not know and no reason to know exposed to Tronox product. A supplement filed at docket #8262, says due process rights were violated; says claim was filed in time for future claims. Says not aware of bar date, not living in the area at time the ad was posted, therefore, did not receive or have adequate notice. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 1843	TRO901022FTC	8/16/2016	Vance, Walter	Julia Vance	5198		X	X				1994 diagnosis; unaware of lawsuit or bar date; rejection notice filed at docket # 5345. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1844	TRO905512FTC	3/28/2017	Lowery, Ben	Patricia Lowery	5199			X		X		Previously filed with Tollison law firm; injured party deceased; rep says she thought her spouse had previously filed a claim but apparently he did not. Alleges a 2010 first diagnosis but given prior counsel retention that date may be disputed. Date of Tollison retention is not clear. Suggests that husband was aware of his rights in 2009 but did not pursue them. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. To the extent the claim alleges a post-bar date diagnosis of a new condition, that claim is for resolution by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
1845	TRO894703FTC	3/23/2016	Porter, Robert	Robert Porter	5200		X	X		X		Asthma diagnosis in 1999, says more serious lung and spinal conditions were first diagnosed in 2016-2017. Unaware exposed to creosote. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim was on 1999 diagnoses also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. 1870	TRO885773FTC	11/25/2015	Bush, Willie	Willie Bush	5225		X	X				1996 diagnosis; says publication notice was not calculated to provide notice to claimant that he was able to be a claimant. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1871	TRO897602FTC	5/25/2016	Anderson, Grace	Marilyn Crawford	5226		X	X				1987 diagnosis; the injured party died in 1989; rep says the claimant was incapacitated because she was in a nursing home but claimant was deceased long before the Tronox bankruptcy filing, statute of limitations for a filing by decedents passed in 1990s. Says notice was deficient on its face but does not say how. Says publication notice of bar date was not reasonably calculated to provide notice, did not know and had no reason to know exposed to Tronox product. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Publication notices were sufficient for the reasons stated in the accompanying Decision. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1872	TRO897481FTC	5/25/2016	McCrary, Mary	Mary McCrary	5227			X		X		Alleges a 2010 diagnosis; says did not understand how to complete the claim form and did not understand some of the questions but may be referring to correspondence with Trustee over her claim filed after the bar date. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1873	TRO900903FTC	8/16/2016	Moore, Ella Mae	Ida Moore-Orr	5228		X	X				1995 diagnosis; did not know anything about the Tronox claims process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1874	TRO887577FTC	12/14/2015	Murphy, Jennifer	Jennifer Murphy	5229		X	X				Diagnoses in 1996 and prior; was not aware of the need to file a claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1875	TRO898686FTC	6/27/2016	Hayes, Rodrick	Rodrick Hayes	5230		X	X				August 2006 diagnosis; was not aware of filing deadline. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1876	TRO888794FTC	12/30/2015	Lyons, Eric	Eric Lyons	5231		X	X				1983 symptoms; diagnosis date marked "N/A"; reason why did not file by bar date is marked "N/A." Does not allege lack of knowledge of bar date, contains no showing to support relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1877	TRO888479FTC	12/18/2015	Phinizee, Syrena	Syrena Phinizee	5232		X	X		X		Bronchitis diagnosis in 1996, more serious conditions (tumors and cysts) in 2011 and 2012; says that the place of work said that if they filed they would lose their jobs and so she waited until 2013, after the plant closed, before filing. However, the relevant Kerr-McGee/Tronox plant was closed many years prior to the bankruptcy filing in 2009 and many years prior to the bar date. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claim based on 1996 diagnosis also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of claims based on 2011 and 2012 diagnoses are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures.
1878	TRO888195FTC	12/18/2015	Sherron, George	George Sherron	5233		X	X				1966-1975 diagnoses; unaware exposed to Tronox product; unaware of future tort claims because certain groups allegedly maintained the information privately and falsely said that only people who worked at the Kerr-McGee plant could file. There were earlier lawsuits that limited participation either to workers or to people who lived in a certain area but those pre-dated the bankruptcy process by many years and are unrelated to the bankruptcy process. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1879	TRO886874FTC	12/7/2015	Allen, JC	Maxine Allen	5234	8976		X			X	Alleges irritated eyes in May 2009, more serious conditions after bar date; unaware Tronox was taking claims for his diagnosed illnesses. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8976 complaining about the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1880	TRO896144FTC	4/6/2016	Shields, Tony	Tony Shields	5235		X	X				1968 diagnosis; previously filed with the Colom law firm in 1999, says he received a $9,500 check in 2002 but then he crossed the amount out; says lived out of state in Texas. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. If claim was resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. If claim was not resolved in a prior proceeding then it was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1908	TRO880774FTC	Unknown	Glenn, Devonta	Devonta Glenn	5264	5341	X	X				Not included in Trust's summary. 1999 diagnosis; says did not know and had no knowledge that exposed to a Tronox product. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1909	TRO886841FTC	Unknown	Henry, Lillie	Norma Saddler	5265	8452	X	X				Not included in Trust's summary. Diagnoses 1996 and earlier; the injured party died in 2001. There were duplicate motions docketed for this claimant using different TRO claim numbers, one is filed at docket #5265 [TRO886841FTC] and the other at docket # 8452 [TRO880837FTC]; the rep's excuse is she was not aware of the process or that she could file a claim; says violation of due process. Alleges notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1910	TRO885948FTC	11/25/2015	Brown, Tekenya	Tekenya Brown	5266			X		X		Unaware of the claims process or that could file claim; says most diagnoses after bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1911	TRO901425FTC	8/16/2016	Wilson, Victoria	Victoria Wilson	5267			X		X		Unaware there was a deadline, says symptoms and diagnosis 2010 but does not provide medical records. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1913	TRO888048FTC	12/18/2015	Sparks, Eddie	Eddie Sparks	5269	8238 8724	X	X				1999 diagnosis; previously filed with attorney Bambach, paperwork lost, supplement filed at docket #8238; complains that the claims of those not living in area were allowed. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8724 complaining about the process. Prior dealings with attorney show awareness of claim and legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 1914	TRO893112FTC	2/23/2016	Sherrod, Zipporah	Zipporah Sherrod	5270	8231					X	Diagnoses 1992 and 2001; says tried to file in 1998 but they were not accepting claims from children, but that must have been in connection with a prior lawsuit as the bankruptcy case was not filed until 2009; filed supplement at docket # 8231, says unaware health issues were due to Tronox product, but admitted having tried to file with prior class action. Was 17 in 2009. Will permit supplemental submission to verify age at the time of the bar date and to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
1915	TRO904042FTC	1/3/2017	Rogers, Percy	Pearlene Bradley	5271		X	X				1983 diagnosis; the injured party died in 1983; rep says unaware of Tronox bankruptcy case; also says that from Jan - Oct 2009, daughter was in surgery, chemo, radiation and she was caregiver for daughter and granddaughter, same as why she did not file her own claim docket # 5248. Claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1916	TRO888285FTC	12/18/2015	Jones, Joshua	Joshua Jones	5272		X	X			X	In answer to question about first diagnosis says "2/20/1990 and again 2/15/2017;" appears all to be based on one continuing condition but that is not entirely clear. Says did file a claim before but did not get a response, does not specify date of filing, is likely referring to late-filed claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions first diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. 1917	TRO914697FTC	7/26/2017	Sadowski, Jacqueline	Jacqueline Sadowski	5273			X				1992 and 1997 diagnoses; did not receive direct notice which allegedly violated due process; unaware of claims filing. Complains about lack of direct notice but does not allege that Tronox was aware of the claimant's claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1918	TRO890687FTC	2/23/2016	Plucinik, Gloria	Gloria Plucinik	5274		X	X				1975 diagnosis and procedures; says was unaware of lawsuit because of husband's death, does not give date; spent time living in California, during 2009 lived in PA. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1926	TRO890492FTC	2/23/2016	Buck, Deandra	Deandra Buck	5283						X	1995 diagnosis; previously filed with attorney Bambach 2007; paperwork lost; minor at time of bar date. Will permit supplemental submission to verify age at the time of the bar date and to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
1927	TRO901522FTC	8/16/2016	Johnson, Diane	Johnson, Diane	5284		X	X				1974 diagnosis; former resident of Columbus, MS who moved away from the area in 1974; says did not know anything about the lawsuit. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1928	TRO896030FTC	4/6/2016	Boyland, Tonda	Tonda Boyland	5285			X				Symptoms began in 1970s; for diagnosis date, says "yes." Did not know anything about this process, called attorneys and was told it was too late, filed a claim when saw it "resurface" on social media. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1929	TRO887442FTC	12/14/2015	Smith, Vatarine	Vatarine Smith	5288		X	X				1970 diagnosis; previously filed with Colom law firm in 2001; says was part of a proceeding was against Tronox before Bar Date but "due to my attorney he did not receive direct notice of the deadline" and she did not know of the deadline. If filed with Colom firm in a prior action that shows awareness of legal rights. To the extent the claim was resolved in that action it cannot be reasserted. If not resolved, and if Colom firm did not file the claim in the Tronox bankruptcy case, the allegation that the Colom firm was unaware of the bar date is rejected. The Colom firm was actively involved in the Tronox bankruptcy case and received direct notice of the bar date. If counsel failed to file claim that is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Claim based on 2001 diagnosis also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

1947	TRO892033FTC	2/23/2016	Prude, Gloria	Gloria Prude	5308		X	X				1992 diagnosis; was a resident of Columbus, MS in 2009; says she filed during "the time," not clear if referring to class action filing or to late claim filed with Tort Claims Trust. No record of a timely claim in the Tronox bankruptcy. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1948	TRO900200FTC	7/25/2016	Quinn, Lou	Lou Quinn	5309			X		X		Says symptoms and diagnosis February 2010; unaware of bar date. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
1949	TRO892034FTC	2/23/2016	Prude, Willie	Willie Prude	5310			X				2005 symptoms, no diagnosis date; says he did send his case in time but may be under mistaken belief that late-filed claim was timely. If contends a timely claim was filed that is an issue to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim based on excusable neglect or lack of due process. No reason stated as to why missed the bar date, no grounds established for relief from the bar date.

Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1957	TRO893431FTC	2/23/2016	Shields, Diquana	Diquana Shields	5319			X				Alleges first diagnosis in 2008 but says previously filed with atty Bambach in 2005; former resident of Columbus, MS who lived in Texas in 2009. Prior claim with Bambach shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1958	TRO899242FTC	7/11/2016	Lee, George	George Lee	5320	8128	X	X			X	Large volume of medical records but no clear indication of when various conditions were first diagnosed, as opposed to dates of doctor visits and ongoing treatments. Says claim was filed before by someone who did not know what to file; says symptoms and diagnosis Nov. 2009, but a death certificate filed for 2001. A supplement with medical records filed at docket #8128. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. 1962	TRO891569FTC	2/23/2016	Clark, Dan	Dan Clark	5324			X				2006 diagnosis; says previously filed with Johnny Cochran/Wilbur Colom; unaware of bar date. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. If claim was resolved in a different litigation it cannot be asserted in the bankruptcy case. If claim was not resolved, attorneys should have filed it in the bankruptcy proceedings. Colom firm was active in the bankruptcy proceedings and had direct notice of the bar date. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
1963	TRO895433FTC	3/24/2016	Cebula, Joseph	Joseph Cebula	5325	8263		X				1990s diagnosis; says he filed claim 10 years ago but Tronox lost his records; supplement filed at docket # 8263 complaining that they already received medical records. If contends a timely claim was filed that is an issue to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust, is not a claim based on excusable neglect or lack of due process. No excuse offered as to reasons why missed the bar date.

Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
1996	TRO901655FTC	8/16/2016	Smith, Jaqualyn	Jacquelyn Smith	5365						X	Minor, moved to another county and was not aware of the claim; did not know and no reason to know exposed to Tronox product. Will permit supplemental submission to verify age as of the bar date and to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.

1999	TRO888972FTC	12/30/2015	Sutton, Chrandra	Chrandra Sutton	5368		X	X				1983 diagnosis; has not resided in Columbus, Miss for several years and was unaware of exposure to Tronox product; filed a form letter that many have filed saying that she contacted Garretson and was told a record of her claim was not in the system. She says that she "was not given justifiable allowance under the guidance of Colom and Lundy." Also says that she "should be entitled to fair representation under the Garretson Resolution Group and any other entity." Says violation of due process; refers to private meetings and minimal details to the community. Complaints about prior class actions and communications with class action counsel are not within this Court's jurisdiction. Complaints about attorneys also are not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process unless the attorneys' conduct is excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

2000	TRO895952FTC	4/6/2016	Reed, Urie	Almateen Reed	5369		X	X				2002 diagnosis; injured party died in 2008; rep says she was unaware of claims filing because there were certain private meetings by some claimants and they were not informing the community more broadly. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2001	TRO880476FTC	12/4/2015	Simon, Minnie	Alfred Simon	5370	8091		X				2007 diagnosis; the injured party died in 2007; rep says publication notice not reasonably calculated to give notice; violates due process; lack of adequate notice. A supplement filed at docket #8091, says trusts omnibus objection was late, that the trust should have petitioned the court for more money to distribute and that residents could have been considered known claimants. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. There was no deadline for the Trust's objection and so its objection was not late. Trust has no access to additional funds and the Court has no power to provide additional funds for the reasons stated in the accompanying Decision. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
2002	TRO893968FTC	3/2/2016	Watson, Mary	Mary Watson	5371		X	X		X		2002 diagnosis; explains basis for claim but does not explain failure to file by bar date or even within reasonable time thereafter. However, while form alleges a diagnosis in 2002, all medical records provided are for after bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

2032	TRO892682FTC	2/23/2016	Thompson, Jacqueline	Jennifer Thompson	5401						X	2007 diagnosis; minor in 2009. Will permit supplemental submission to verify age as of the bar date and to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
2033	TRO889237FTC	2/23/2016	Wilson, Summer	Summer Wilson	5402		X	X				2002 diagnosis; says was not knowledgeable enough to file a claim; was still going to doctors because of condition and did not know the root cause; after she started researching her symptoms and gaining information from different doctors and pamphlets, she realized her condition was caused by some sort of bacteria that she was consuming in her body. After she learned more about the lawsuit, she researched more about it and it seemed to her that the Tronox products could have been the root cause to all her complaints. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2034	TRO892221FTC	2/23/2016	Smith, Lourine	Lourine Smith	5403		X	X				1976 diagnosis; previously filed with Colom law firm in 2002 class action lawsuit; standard language as to lack of knowledge of Tronox case. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. If claim was resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2035	TRO897276FTC	5/4/2016	Morris, Lionel	Lionel Morris	5404	9448	X	X			X	Unaware exposed to dangerous Tronox product; says that although Tronox was aware of product dangers, it did not inform claimant of it. The claimant says that his physicians were also unaware that he had been exposed to this environmental contaminant. The form says the diagnosis was in 2005 but the attached paperwork is more recent. A supplemental letter filed at docket #9448 complains about the process. If diagnosis was in 2005 the claim was time-barred before the Tronox bankruptcy. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
2036	TRO885582FTC	11/25/2015	Foster, Helen	Helen Foster	5405		X	X			X	Multiple diagnoses, some before 1983, one in March 2009, two after the bar date; says she did not know and was not notified of any legal proceedings against Tronox. Apparently submitted a claim base on asthma diagnosis (original diagnosis date not clear) but now includes diagnoses of other conditions. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions first diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. 2037	TRO889013FTC	12/30/2015	Harrison, Arthur	Arthur Harrison	5406		X	X				Diagnosis in "2000s"; previously filed with Colom law firm in 2002; says was not properly notified or made aware of deadline in Tronox bankruptcy case. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Unclear if claimant alleges was still represented by the Colom firm but that firm received direct notice of the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2038	TRO887848FTC	12/14/2015	Verdell, Mattie	Mattie Verdell	5407		X	X				Diagnoses before 1995; previously filed with atty Bambach 2000 or 2001 and Howard Gunn 2004; never got anything back that was definite from Bambach; when the atty died, says was told of another attorney but was never contacted. Bankruptcy case for Tronox was not filed until 2009, actions by counsel in prior years are not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2072	TRO893456FTC	2/23/2016	Wilkins, Ashley	Ashley Wilkins	5443			X			X	2010 diagnosis; rep says that at the time she was unaware of the injured party's condition; says symptom and diagnosis 2010. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
2073	TRO899255FTC	7/11/2016	Boggan, Raina	Candice Straughter	5444							Representative filing for a minor who has been committed to a behavior center; rep says injured party was diagnosed with asthma and upper respiratory infection in June 2009. Court is satisfied with explanations, motion for permission to file late claim is granted, Trust to resolve merits of the claim pursuant to its normal dispute resolution procedures.

2080	TRO888374FTC	12/18/2015	Harris, Jayden	Brandy Harris	5451						X	Injured party is a minor with mild retardation, diagnoses in April 2009; rep says did not file because unaware of claim; standard language. A supplemental letter filed at docket #8912 complaining about the process. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
2081	TRO904973FTC	1/24/2017	Brown, Mary	Mary Brown	5452	8342	X	X				1974 diagnosis; unaware she could file a claim. A supplement filed at docket # 8342, says was without knowledge to wade through the claims process. In its submissions the trust incorrectly referred to this motion as filed at docket #6088. As to the motion actually filed at docket # 8342: the risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2085	TRO887699FTC	12/14/2015	Tate, Hattie	Hattie Tate	5456		X	X				The motion for Hattie Tate [TRO887699FTC] is filed at docket # 5456; the Trustee's summary chart incorrectly referred to it as docket #5656, but another motion is filed at that docket number. As to Hattie Tate: diagnoses dates in 1986 and 1994; claimant says was unaware of the deadline, publication notice was not reasonably calculated to provide notice; lives in rural area on a fixed income and can't afford newspapers or computer, information was not publicized on TV. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2088	TRO904623FTC	1/24/2017	Sheilds, Anenet	Anenet Sheilds	5459	8092		X				Symptoms began before 1992; no diagnosis; place of exposure not specified; says did not know about bankruptcy filing "until about 2001" (may be referring to class actions as the bankruptcy case was not filed until 2009). A supplement filed at docket #8092, doctor bills. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
2089	TRO894406FTC	3/2/2016	Edwards, Emma	Parks, Hattie	5460			X				2008 diagnosis; injured party died in 2013; rep argues that mother had many health issues but does not explain failure to file a timely claim. Does not allege lack of knowledge of bar date, contains no showing to support relief based on excusable neglect or due process.

2095	TRO903800FTC	Unknown	Richards, Dick	Frances Richards	5466		X	X				This motion was not listed on the Trustee's summary. 1985 diagnosis, injured party died approximately 1992; motion refers to see death certificate but it is not attached to motion papers; rep says that during bar date period, claimant did not know and had no reason to know exposed to a Tronox product; notice deficient on its face; publication notice not reasonably calculated to provide notice. Complains that notice was deficient but does not say how, notice language was proper for reasons stated in the accompanying Decision. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2099	TRO887191FTC	12/14/2015	Richardson, Selvin	Selvin Richardson	5470	6142?	X	X				This motion may be a duplicate of the motion at docket #6142. It is not, however clear if that is the case because of certain discrepancies. The motion at docket # 5470 is for Selvin Richardson [claim TRO887191FTC] and the motion at docket #6142 is for Selvin I. Richardson [claim TRO894564FTC]. It may be the same person using a different TRO number because the addresses are the same and the signatures are very similar. However, while some of the symptoms overlap, they are not identical. The motion at docket #5470 says 1979 is the date for exposure, symptoms and diagnosis, while the motion at docket #6142 says 1988 is the date for exposure symptoms and diagnosis. The motions both provide the same excuse, did not know and no reason to know exposed to a Tronox product, discharge of debt violation of due process; publication notice not reasonably calculated to provide notice. Court will treat them as two separate motions and two separate claims out of abundance of caution. As to the motion at docket 5470, relief is denied. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. 2103	TRO885875FTC	11/25/2015	Abrams, Jaitra	Jaitra Abrams	5474						X	Minor at the time of the bar date; says did not know and had no reason to know she was sick; did not know and no reason to know about the claim against Tronox; she did not see or get the newspaper. Will permit supplemental submission to explain reasons why parents or guardians did not file, why claimant waited so many years after the bar date before filing a claim, and whether relief is warranted.
2104	TRO887659FTC	12/14/2015	Bailey, Anne	Anne Bailey	5475		X	X				1979 diagnosis; previously filed with the Colom law firm; received less than $300, says she was unaware that she could dispute the amount. If claim was resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy, the bankruptcy process cannot be used to complain about a lawsuit outcome from years earlier. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2107	TRO901810FTC	9/14/2016	Neal, Rasheed	Taheata Neal	5478		X	X		X		Unaware of Tronox bankruptcy case; standard language as to reasons why did not file, alleges some conditions prior to bar date and some after bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
2108	TRO887142FTC	12/14/2015	Sanders, John	John Sanders	5479			X		X		Says symptoms and diagnosis 2012; cut-and-pasted standard form reasons for not filing by bar date. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
2109	TRO888213FTC	12/18/2015	Delaine, Angeletha	Lou Knox [Louella]	5480	8167	X	X				1983/84 diagnosis; the injured party died in 1996; rep says she was incapacitated due to surgery and dealing with nervous problems and was not aware of bar date; rep does not provide date of her conditions although in a separate motion on her own behalf she says it was in 2008. A supplement filed at docket #8167. Claim was time-barred before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2110	TRO888211FTC	12/18/2015	Knox, Sr., Joe	Lou Knox [Louella]	5481	8165	X	X				1993 diagnosis; the injured party died in 2003; rep says unaware of bar date; says she was incapacitated from surgery and dealing with nervous problems but does not provide date of those conditions although in her own motion she indicates surgery was in 2008; unaware exposure to Tronox product caused condition; says was primarily in Alabama. A supplement filed at docket #8165 that appears to be directed to the Trust. Claim was time-barred before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

2114	TRO888717FTC	12/24/2015	Harrison, Evette	Evette Harrison	5485	5725	X	X			X	Diagnoses in 1978, 1983, 1988, 2004, 2015; previously filed with Colom law firm 2002; says lawyers took their money and gave them pennies; unaware of the Tronox proceedings; says she was not informed of the deadline: it appears that the trust made her a $5,000 allowed claim offer and she has rejected it. Prior dealings with Colom firm show awareness of legal rights. If claim was resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date (including any defense as to whether the prior litigation bars such claim) are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its normal dispute resolution procedures. Duplicate motion at docket #5725.
2115	TRO885635FTC	11/25/2015	Weston-Robinson, Margaret	Margaret Weston-Robinson	5486		X	X				1975 diagnosis; unaware eligible to file until she heard from her family; did not know or have reason to know exposed to Tronox product. 2141	TRO905733FTC	3/28/2017	Anthony, Lerond	Tremata Anthony	5512		X	X				1953 diagnosis; injured party died in 1994; rep says that rep was away with the Armed forces and did not return to Columbus, Miss after her tour (does not specify dates of service, how they relate to bar date, or why waited so many years after the bar date before filed a claim). Rep resides in Georgia and was unaware and did not know injured party exposed to Tronox product. Rep attaches the same form letter that refers to not being given justifiable allowance under the guidance of Colom and Lundy and refers to private meetings and minimal information to community. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim based on 1953 diagnosis also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations long before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Since the claim was barred under the statute of limitations by some time in 1956 (18 years before the injured party's death) the claim was barred before any representative would have succeeded to the claim, and so the dates of the representative's military service could not make a difference in determining whether the claim could be allowed.

2145	TRO888309FTC	12/18/2015	Mitchell, Jonathan	Jonathan Mitchell	5516		X	X				Says diagnosis dates were "12/1983-1/01/1985"; says no reason to know could file a claim; learned of it when people started receiving compensation. Also refers to "newspaper ads about the Tronox settlement and how they had money for people to file claims," apparently is referring to articles that prompted the filing of the late-filed claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2146	TRO900607FTC	8/16/2016	Whitfield, Robert	Annie Whitfield	5517		X	X				1990 diagnosis; the injured party died in 1993; rep was unaware the injured party was exposed to any Tronox product. Also, attached form letter referring to lack of "justifiable allowance under the guidance of Colom and Lundy" and referencing secret meetings and alleged minimal sharing by some claimants of details with the rest of the community. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

2148	TRO892988FTC	2/23/2016	Hogan, Marcella	Marcella Hogan	5519		X	X				1998 diagnosis; says publication notice not reasonably calculated to provide notice; did not know and had no reason to know of exposure to Tronox product; violation of due process. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2154	TRO890534FTC	2/23/2016	Hodges, Christopher	Christopher Hodges	5525	8099	X	X				1996 diagnosis; previously filed with Colom law firm in 2002 class action; standard cut-and-pasted form language re reasons for not filing a claim by the bar date. A supplement filed at docket #8099. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. If claim was resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2155	TRO892056FTC	2/23/2016	Wells, Dominique	Dominique Wells	5525		X	X				1995 diagnosis; says there was so much fraudulent information she was not sure whether to file a claim. Does not specify what fraudulent information she is referring to or the timing or source of that information. Says she wanted to make sure she got correct information and filled out papers in 2015 or so. May be under the impression that the 2015 claim was timely, though it was six years after the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. A supplemental letter filed at docket #5543 filed by Pamela Richey for herself and additional claimants. The letter is the same letter filed by many claimants that says a person claiming to represent trust instructed what to fill out and form to use and allegedly misled them in 2015 or later. Continuation of a pre-bar date diagnosis does not itself mean that a claim is a Future Tort Claim; there must be a condition that has not been diagnosed before the bar date. Later found out atty closed office and views this as an opportunity to file once again. Any filing in 2002 had to be in connection with a different proceeding because the bankruptcy case was not filed until 2009. Prior dealings with attorney show awareness of claim and legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2181	TRO894776FTC	3/23/2016	Wells, Bertha	Bertha Wells	5552		X	X				July 1996 diagnosis; unaware of the filing; spoke to atty Bambach to start the filing but before the process the atty died. Later discovered that residents were filing and that was when she decided to try filing an application again. Attorney Bambach died in 2013, which was already long after the bar date. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2182	TRO901293FTC	8/16/2016	Holmes, Gloria	Gloria Holmes	5553		X	X				1980 diagnosis; unaware of deadline until after it had passed. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2183	TRO884018FTC	11/13/2015	Purnell, Dorothy	Dorothy Purnell	5554			X				1972/73 diagnosis; says she was too young at the time of the injury (14) to do anything, but if was 14 in 1973 she must have been 50 as of the bar date; says was unaware of published claim against Tronox. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

2258	TRO898084FTC	6/20/2016	Doss, Montresa	Montresa Doss	5629			X		X		Claim is based on 2010-2011 miscarriages; unaware of the claim process; she later learned of it and did research and discovered the chemicals could have caused her conditions. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

2265	TRO896647FTC	4/25/2016	Bedford, Edward	Betty Chmiel	5636			X				1998 diagnosis; the injured party died in 2005; rep says previously filed "whenever the first papers were mailed out by Powell & Powell," which appears to be a reference to a law firm that handled a class action in Avoca, PA. Rep says that he assumed the injured party filed his claim when the rep filed his because lived with him and both got the claims at the same time. Motion is referring to a prior proceeding (not the bankruptcy case). Prior proceeding and awareness of claim filed by injured party shows awareness of legal rights. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

2300	TRO904052FTC	1/3/2017	Ellis, Barry	Barry Ellis	5672	8336	X	X				1979 diagnosis; did not have knowledge of the ongoing case of Tronox, never received a phone call, letter or anything on TV or radio. A supplement filed at docket #8336, without knowledge to wade through bankruptcy process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2301	TRO881090FTC	12/4/2015	Wilson (Smith), Brenda	Brenda Smith Wilson	5673		X	X			X	Various diagnosis dates, some before bar date and some after; says publication notice of the claims filing deadline never received; did not know and had no reason to know exposed to Tronox product. Alleges publication notice was not reasonable but no showing that Tronox had reason to know of claimant, no specific challenge to the publication notices that were approved in 2009. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
2302	TRO885931FTC	11/25/2015	Smith, Joanne	Joanne Smith	5674			X			X	2009 diagnosis (precise date not specified on motion form); unaware of the claims filing deadline. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

2303	TRO886696FTC	12/7/2015	Lash, Addie	Irene Hairston	5675		X	X			X	Diagnosis dates listed as "1978-2009 until she died"; the injured party died in Jan. 2009; rep says did not file because did not know and had no reason to know about the deadline; discharge of claim is a violation of due process. Unclear if continuing condition or series of different diagnoses, but accrual of claim based on a continuing condition occurs when it was first diagnosed. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. 2304	TRO893371FTC	2/23/2016	Dismuke, Queen	Joanne Smith	5676		X	X				1994 diagnosis; was not aware of the claims filing deadline. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2305	TRO895735FTC	3/24/2016	Butler, Michael	Michael Butler	5677			X			X	Says symptoms and diagnosis 2010; does not provide medical records; says was unaware of the process until 2016. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
2306	TRO889383FTC	2/23/2016	Jordan, Fannie	Fannie Jordan	5678		X	X				1984 diagnosis. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

2307	TRO903499FTC	11/23/2016	Sims, Alforzinie	Alforzinie Sims	5679			X			X	Alleges first diagnosis on August 30, 2009; did not have knowledge of the bankruptcy case, deadline date, and lack of knowledge on how to complete a claim for excusable neglect; unaware of exposure to chemicals. Also complains of "someone portraying to represent Tronox Trust" that misled them to refer to certain chemicals; trust did not exist as of the bar date, so this must relate to the late-filed claim. Also files the standard letter that refers to an unnamed person who allegedly misled residents. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a post-bar date diagnosis is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
2308	TRO884924FTC	11/25/2015	Lash, Walter	Irene Hairston	5680		X	X				1973 diagnosis; the injured party died in 1979; rep says did not know and had no reason to know about the deadline; says discharge of claim violation of due process. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2309	TRO889238FTC	2/23/2016	Baker, Paula	Paula Baker	5681		X	X				Diagnoses in 1990, 2005 and 2008; says did not know of the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2310	TRO900102FTC	7/25/2016	Perry, Sammie	Sammie Perry	5682		X	X				2002 diagnosis; says filed for disability on his job and was denied and wants assistance; does not provide an excuse for failing to file by bar date. Place of exposure not clear. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Complains about disability proceedings but this Court has no jurisdiction over such proceedings.

2311	TRO885022FTC	11/25/2015	Cunningham, Tennie	Tennie Cunningham	5683	8134	X	X			x	Diagnosis dates unclear, form says "beginning in 1997-2009," may be describing continued condition though many separate conditions and symptoms are listed. The injured party died in 2018; did not know and no reason to know exposed to a Tronox product; discharge of claim was a violation of due process; was not aware of the case in 2009. A supplement filed at docket #8134, rep provides death certificate. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief as to pre-bar date diagnoses. 2312	TRO888570FTC	12/24/2015	Lamley, Nancy	Nancy Lamley	5684	8289	X	X				1989 diagnosis; unaware of the process and did not know that could file a claim for option 2. She states that "according to 'The Dispatch' newspaper," a local newspaper in Columbus, MS, the residents were not properly notified of how to receive claims for personal injury, but what she quotes from the article was the position taken by the Colom and McClanahan attorneys representing some class action plaintiffs, and the judge disagreed and found the notice sufficient. A supplement filed at docket #8289, says was without knowledge to wade through the process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2313	TRO893020FTC	2/23/2016	Shelton, Leroy	Lorraine Shelton	5685		X	X				1998 and 2005 diagnoses; the injured party died in 2006; previously filed with the Colom law firm 1998 and received an award in 2002. Excuse: ill from treatments, but deceased prior to bar date; rep does not provide excuse. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. If claim was resolved in a prior proceeding it could no longer be asserted in the Tronox bankruptcy. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2319	TRO903093FTC	10/13/2016	Turner, Edward	Joan Turner	5691	6732		X				See also motion at docket # 6732; motions are not identical in form but are filed by the same person on behalf of the same injured party. The movant says that as far as she knows, the injured party was diagnosed in 2008 but she did not learn about it until after the bar date because they did not reside together nor have any communication prior to the bar date. it is not clear what the relationship is between the movant and the injured party. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
2320	TRO891753FTC	2/23/2016	Bluitt, Juanita	Juanita Buitt	5692			X		X		Alleges 2008 symptoms, November 2009 diagnosis; moved and did not know about the claim until later date; retained counsel on June 14, 2014. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

2321	TRO886336FTC	12/7/2015	Petty, Minnie	Minnie Petty	5694	8153	X	X				1999 diagnosis; previously filed with atty Bambach, paperwork misplaced. A supplement filed at docket #8153. A supplemental letter filed at docket #9039 complaining about the process. Prior dealings with attorney show awareness of claim and legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2322	TRO892359FTC	2/23/2016	McCottrell, Sr., William	William McCottrell, Sr.	5695		X	X				2000 diagnosis; says that he filed on time but apparently is under misimpression that the late-filed claim was timely. Also filed a form letter concerning not receiving "justifiable allowance under the guidance of Colom and Lundy" and refers to secret meetings and minimal information shared by other claimants in the community. Conduct of Colom and Lundy firm is not clear but in any event is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2323	TRO893737FTC	3/2/2016	Lacomis, Karen	Karen Lacomis	5696			X				1954 diagnosis; when her spouse filed, she thought claims were restricted to certain conditions but later discovered that another relative received a payment for another condition. She says she is uncertain what more to tell as the process is confusing and she is not a lawyer. Filing by spouse shows awareness of the process. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
2324	TRO887771FTC	12/14/2015	Howard, Kimberly Andrews	Howard, Kimberly Andrews	5697			X		X		Says symptoms 2010 and diagnosis 5/9/2013; was not aware of the bankruptcy case. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

2330	TRO903491FTC	11/23/2016	Sims, Terrika	Terrika Sims	5703			X		X		Was offered $500 claim from Trust and rejected it. Form letter also filed by many other claimants alleging that a person claiming to be a representative of the trust instructed what to fill out and form to use and misled them. Claimant disputes the amount at which the Trust proposed to allow his claim. Contends that people whose conditions continued after the bar date (even if diagnosed earlier) should be entitled to file Future Tort Claims, which is incorrect. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.

2334	TRO886982FTC	12/7/2015	Kuna, Martin	Kuna, Martin	5707			X				2001 diagnosis; says that prior to lawsuit he was injured in a workplace accident, had multiple surgeries and loss use of hand; was a very traumatic time and was completely unaware of lawsuit, but does not provide any dates. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
2335	TRO886736FTC	12/7/2015	Kuna, Marianne	Kuna, Marianne	5708			X				1987 diagnosis; she refers to spouse's injury in workplace and being consumed with caring for him and taking care of household while traveling back and forth to Philadelphia, but does not provide any dates. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
2336	TRO895343FTC	3/24/2016	Harris, Wanda	Wanda Harris	5709		X	X				1980 diagnosis; former resident of Columbus, MS; previously filed with Colom law firm in 2001-2002 lawsuit; says thought law firm continued to represent her throughout process; says "[b]ecause of Judicial malpractice and counselor ineptitude, my claim was mishandled;" says was not notified about the bankruptcy case or deadlines. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Unclear if Colom firm continued to represent her but if it did that does not show excusable neglect as the Colom firm had direct notice of the bar date. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. 2338	TRO886735FTC	12/7/2015	Kuna, Matthew	Kuna, Matthew	5711		X	X				1991 diagnosis; says was a minor but also says exposure began in 1987, so was at least 21 or 22 by the bar date; says was unaware of the claims process. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
2339	TRO889026FTC	12/30/2015	Bridges, Melissa	Bridges, Melissa	5712							June 2000 diagnosis; unaware of any claims and the process; joined the U.S. Air Force in January 2003 and was stationed in Georgia in 2009, serving in Texas as of 2017 motion filing. Military service tolled application of state statute of limitations (if not already expired as of January 2003) and tolled application of the bar date, so the claim cannot be excluded on timeliness grounds. The claim is permitted subject to such defenses as the Trust may assert, which are to be resolved under the Trust's normal dispute resolution procedures.
2340	TRO901613FTC	8/16/2016	Brown, Catina	Catina Brown	5713		X	X				Exposure began 1974, diagnosis in "middle school"; did not know about the legal proceedings or the class action lawsuit against Tronox. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2341	TRO888269FTC	12/18/2015	Demich, Joseph	Joseph Demich	5714			X				1982 diagnosis; previously filed with atty Robert Powell, the Powell Group 2011, the law firm said his claim was "excepted" but may mean accepted, but he never received any other correspondence. He thinks they confused him with another relative with the same name as other relatives received settlements; says he did not receive notice of deadline. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Any confusion as to a prior class action needs to be addressed in that proceeding. Powell firm participated in the bankruptcy case, if did not file a claim for this movant that is not grounds for relief unless counsel's failure can be excused, no such excuse is offered. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.

2342	TRO912810FTC	5/30/2017	Potorski, John	M Potorski	5715			X				1990 diagnosis; the injured party died in 2003; rep says not residing in Avoca when notice was sent out to residents about lawsuit. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
2343	TRO903257FTC	10/27/2016	Farrell, Michael	Michael Farrell	5716	8187		X		X		Says first diagnosis in 1996 but lists various different conditions, does not appear to have listed the first diagnosis date for each condition, some conditions listed as starting before bar date, some after. Rep says the injured party worked at the plant and that he was threatened by management not to file any lawsuit against the company or he would not be able to collect pension. Motion acknowledges that the plant was closed in 1996, 13 years before the Tronox bankruptcy filing in 2009, but movant alleges that the injured party was afraid that his pension would be affected if made a claim. Does not allege lack of notice of bar date or of his legal rights. No identification of who allegedly said not to file a lawsuit, or when. Rep says the injured party suffers from functional illiteracy, incompetence in reading, writing and mathematics, and rep says she was the only person to assist but at the time was deployed in Iraq, but not a sufficient showing of injured party's inability to file or to enlist help of others in doing so. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Insufficient showing of relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date) for relief as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
2344	TRO901610FTC	8/16/2016	Brown, Jerry	Jerry Brown	5717		X	X				Exposure began 1975, diagnosis "early adulthood;" submitted a claim through "the class action lawsuit" but may be confused and may be thinking about the late claim filed with the Trust; says was unaware of legal proceedings or class action against Tronox. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

A supplemental letter filed at docket #9042 complaining about the process. Prior dealings with attorney show awareness of claim and legal rights. Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2377	TRO900937FTC	8/16/2016	Ferretti, Patricia	John Chopyak	5752			X				1991 diagnosis; the injured party resided in Pittston, PA; injured party was sick with multiple sclerosis; rep says taking care of other sick relative also but does not provide dates. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of PA starting in 2001. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
2378	TRO889699FTC	2/23/2016	Hahn, Catherine	Roland Casper	5753							Claim number is listed incorrectly in the Trust's summary. The injured party died in 2014; rep says that the injured party's spouse was in the process of filing when he became ill, made trips to hospital and died 12/15/2009; rep says injured party thought claim had been filed. Court will accept the explanation and permit the late filing of the claim, the merits of which will be resolved by the Trust under its normal procedures.
2379	TRO890515FTC	2/23/2016	Casper, Ronald	Ronald Casper	5754			X				Alleges a 2007 diagnosis but says previously filed with the Powell law firm in 2004; claim may have been resolved in a prior proceeding. If not, the Powell firm was actively involved in the Tronox bankruptcy case and had notice of the bar date. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reasons why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect.
2380	TRO901673FTC	8/16/2016	Coleman, John	Coleman, John	5756		X	X				Diagnoses 1981 and earlier; unaware of claim process; unaware of the dangers of the Tronox products. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.

Conduct of counsel is not grounds for relief based on excusable neglect unless counsel's conduct can be excused. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2382	TRO897353FTC	5/25/2016	Mickens, Glen	Glen Mickens	5759		X	X		X		Says was incompetent at time of bar date and now, unclear who filled out form motion; did not receive phone call or letter, did not learn from TV or radio concerning matter; says symptoms and diagnosis after bar date but refers to a "previous claim" and an "updated claim." Insufficient showing of alleged incompetence to extent of inability to file claim. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief as to pre-bar date diagnoses. Claims based on conditions diagnosed before 2006 also were time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing. Merits of any claim alleging conditions first diagnosed after the bar date are to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
2383	TRO891393FTC	2/23/2016	Whitfield, Monique	Monique Whitfield	5760		X	X				1997 diagnosis; previously filed with Colom law firm and rejected an offer; unaware of deadline. Participation in prior proceeding shows awareness of claim and of legal rights. Risks of creosote exposure and filings of claims based on the same were the subjects of widespread publicity in the relevant areas of MS starting before 2000. Alleges lack of actual knowledge but no showing as to other relevant factors (including diligence in investigation and pursuit of claims and legal rights, reason why filed so long after bar date), not sufficient for relief based on excusable neglect. Claim also was time-barred under the applicable statute of limitations before the Tronox bankruptcy filing.
2384	TRO895578FTC	3/24/2016	Harmon, Linda	Linda Harmon	5761			X		X		Says during first proceeding it was reported that only homeowners in certain area had right to file claim; that is a reference to earlier class actions that were on behalf of such persons. Alleges diagnoses in 2012 and 2013. No pre-bar date diagnosis identified for which relief is sought, therefore no basis for relief based on excusable neglect or due process. Any claim as to a condition first diagnosed after the bar date is to be resolved by the Tort Claims Trust under its dispute resolution procedures.
