SOUTHERN DISTRICT BOARD OF JUDGES APPOINTS MARTIN GLENN TO SERVE AS CHIEF JUDGE OF UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT

The Board of Judges of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York has announced that it has selected Bankruptcy Judge Martin Glenn to serve for a five-year term as Chief Bankruptcy Judge. Judge Glenn's Chief Judge appointment is effective as of March 1, 2022. He is replacing Chief Judge for U.S. Bankruptcy Court, Judge Cecelia G. Morris, who has served two terms as Chief Judge. Judge Morris will continue her judgeship at the Poughkeepsie courthouse.

Judge Glenn has served on the bench of the Bankruptcy Court since November 30, 2006. Prior to his appointment, Judge Glenn practiced law with O'Melveny & Myers LLP, in Los Angeles and in New York. Judge Glenn was a law clerk for Hon. Henry J. Friendly, Chief Judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. He received his B.S. degree from Cornell University and his J.D. degree from Rutgers Law School. He is an Adjunct Professor at Columbia Law School and a Contributing Author of Collier on Bankruptcy.

Judge Glenn is a fellow of the American College of Bankruptcy, a member of the American Law Institute; International Insolvency Institute; New York Federal-State Judicial Council; New York City Bar; and American Bankruptcy Institute. He is a past member of the Committee on International Judicial Relations of the United States Judicial Conference, and the Bankruptcy Judges Advisory Group of the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts.

"Judge Glenn has distinguished himself in commercial litigation, on the bankruptcy bench, in this international insolvency community and in academia," said Chief District Judge Laura Taylor Swain. "Although succeeding Chief Bankruptcy Judge Morris, who has been an outstanding leader of the Court over the past ten years, will be no small task," she continued, "we are confident that the Bankruptcy Court will flourish and continue its national leadership in
